Peterical Gap

(A) GAMBING

11.155世纪11

Edited and Published in Paris Printed simultaneously in Paris, London, Zurich, Hong Kong, Singapore, The Hague, Marseille, New York, Rome, Tokyo, Frankfurt,

No. 34,406

The Global Newspaper

Published With The New York Times and The Washington Post LONDON, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1993

For China's Peasants, Abuse by 'Warlords' Adds to Their Misery Beyond Modern Glitter of the Cities, Beijing Loses Control in Hinterland

41/93

By Lena H. Sun

Washington Pour Service BULI, China - The scene was straight out of China's past. The hapless peasant, handculfed, was strung up by a rope in his home. He had angered the village chief by talking back to him. Now, the chief and two cronies were beating him with electric cattle prods. They paid no attention to the peasant's wife. who was on her knees pleading for mercy for her husband.

her husoand. "I'm not afraid of you taking revenge now or three generations from now," taunted the village chief, a leading member of the Communist Party. "You have no son."

This was no flashback; villagers here say the beating took place this summer. More than ever before, these local bosses, known as tu huangdi, or local emperors, are making a comeback. Their regression to traditional despotie practices is one example of how the sweeping economie and social changes under way in China are not always synonymous with modernization.

Most foreigners see the fancy hotels and neon lights of such big cities as Beijing and Shanghai as symbols of the new order brought by the liberalization of China's socialist economy and decentralization of power from the Communist Party leadership in Beijing, But the majority of China's nearly 1.2 billion people --- the peasants --- live in a far different world. Here in the countryside, local cadres often rule like feudal warlords, terrorizing villagers through fear and violence. Spurred by the delegation of power from the capital to the regions and a general breakdown in social order in the rush to make money, these officials have abused their positions to enrich themselves and become allpowerful. As a result, the Communist Party.

which rose to power on the back of Mao Zedong's peasant revolution, has gone from being the liberator to becoming the instrument of oppression. "The room to wheel and deal and oppress people and take advantage of power has just expanded with the devolution of power down and the idea of putting money first," said William Hinton, a longtime authority on Chi-inese agriculture. Wr. Hinton, who lives in Beijing, travels extensively in rural China. Although local officials receive low sala-ries, they have enormous power over all as-pects of rural life. If a peasant wants to marry a woman from another village, he needs a letter of introduction to her village from his village chief. The village shief discretion village chief. The village chief determines what crops will be grown, what fees to impose for shaughtering pigs. Most important, he controls when a couple can have a child — and what punishment to impose if the couple has more than one, which is against government policy.

President Jiang Zemin of China calls for a tightening of internal security, Page 5

Many despots use public money to pay for banquets, for bribes and to improve their homes, according to official reports. They use brute force to impose their will, Peasants say indiscriminate beatings with police clubs are common.

Protected by a web of relationships that extends into the police and the indiciary, local leaders operate without accountability or fear of punishment, according to Chinese officials and peasants. The Communist Party controls the legal and judicial apparatus, and judicial and police officials are often relatives of the local bosses.

The antonomy of these local despois is one reason why Beijing is bamstrung in its ability to impose its will on a host of issues, from tax collection and control over bank lending, to the anti-corruption campaign and enforce-ment of the one-couple, one-child family planning policy.

"The central government no longer has the power to penetrate that level," said Wang Shaoguang, a Yale University professor who recently was a co-author of an influential report about the decline of central anthority. The Communists were able to do that after 1949" - the year they came to power - "but not now."

For many Chinese, the most direct abuse of power by village chiefs consists of demanding cash or gifts in exchange for such traditional social services as letters of introduction for marriages, or for favoritism in decisions on See CHENA, Page 2 ....

INTERNATIONAL Origination of the second of t

U.S. ENVOYS UNDER ATTACK IN HAITI - A Haitian kicking a car carrying the U.S. charge d'affaires, Vicki Huddleston, on Monday in Port-an-Prince. American diplomats were chased from the port and a ship that was to land U.S. troops was barred. Page 5.

Police Harassment Reported in Moscow

By Celestine Bohlen New York Times Service

MOSCOW - Empowered by a week-old state of emergency, the Moscow police are using their extra powers to conduct raids throughout the city, targeting non-Russian mi-norities as part of a wider crackdown on crime.

According to complaints registered at local embassies of other former Soviet republics and at the local office of Helsinki Watch, a human rights organization, the police have staged nighttime sweeps of hotels, dormitories and apartments frequented by visitors from the Caucasus and Central Asia, and in cases when permits are not in order, forced them out of town, in some cases even paying their fares. One report, broadcast on television Friday. said that about 14,000 people had been expelled from the city for violation of the city's special permit law. At a press conference Monday, Colonel General Alexander N. Kulikov. commandant of Moscow during the emergency, cited a lower Russia's president moves to further limit the powers of regional councils. Page 2.

figure, 1,005, but said that extra planes and trains had been added to regular schedules to handle the flow of people departing the city. General Kulikov said be did not expect the state of emergency - which was imposed be-fore dawn Oct. 4 as the government prepared its assault on the parliament building - to last beyond Oct. 18.

With a curfew in effect from midnight to 5

A.M., and movement in and out of Moscow tightly controlled, the city police — reinforced by 3.500 special troops from other parts of the country — have shifted their focus away from the aftermath of last week's uprising, onto the city's stubborn crime problem.

Muscovites who have little reason to leave home late at night have welcomed the state of emergency for hringing law and order back to their city. "Most Muscovites are satisfied," said General Kulikov, who noted that only 126 crimes had been registered in the city since the ergency law went into effect.

But non-Russians, many of them highly visible as traders at the city's farmer markets or owners of sidewalk kiosks, are feeling the heat the police crackdown. Although some of See MOSCOW, Page 8 #### tired and ready to make a deal to end the The Clinton administration will not rule out the capture of General Aidid. Page 4.

conflict. And Somalis seemed to he putting their hopes in the visit hy Mr. Oakley, still highly regarded from his days here as special envoy when U.S. Marines first landed in December.

SNA stands for the Sonali National Alliance militia controlled by General Aidid. As an informal cease-fire between General

Aidid and U.S. and UN forces entered a third day, the chances of reconciliation seemed to be improving. General Aidid's young militiamen, like the U.S. soldiers they are fighting, seem Nations intervention force.

these two from the SNA."

ESTABLISHED 1887

To Release

"There'll be no more fighting while Robert Oakley is here, that's what the Somalis say," one said. "He's a good amhassador." Another Somali, who works for Oxfam, the international aid organization, said: "We are all waiting. Everyone is thirsting for peace."

Mr. Oakley comes as the harhinger of a new U.S. policy to replace the military-only option

Clan Elders Urge Aidid the nh o a d's ing on ted teft tan ose tier val val vas nal U.S. Airman Meeting in Mogadishu With American Envoy Advances Peace Effort rtd : 2.0 By Keith B. Richburg na-ant nd Washington Prot Service MOGADISHU, Somalia — Elders of the clan of General Mohammed Farah Aidid said bts Monday they would urge the faction leader to free a captured U.S. airman as a goodwill ges-ture, as the possibilities for peaceful reconciliam hy tinn appeared to be growing. Ahmed Rage, a respected elder of Generai Aidid's Hahr Gedir clan and until recently the ati ial rn. chairman of the subclan's "supreme council" of tat ael ne. elders, said he and the other elders were working to secure the release of the U.S. airman, Michael Durant, and a Nigerian peacekeeper. Several clan elders met here with the U.S. ng ng io special envoy to the region, Robert B. Oakley, who was sent in by the Clinton administration nd to try and mediate an end to a confrontation between General Aidid's militia and the United er. "With the help of God and the arrival of Mr. ng cđ Oakley, we hope to settle the matter," said Mr. Rage, who did not attend the meeting with Mr. Oakley, in an interview at his home. "The first сrs 111thing that is important is to free those two CA military men. We are trying our best to take :m

ार १d

P-Ih

Υ.,

ed ad j

ĸ.

ne 93 92

Papandreou Returns to a Changed World

By Alan Cowell New York Times Service

ATHENS - With Andreas Papandreou back in power in Greece, the question that swirls around the aging Socialist leader is not so nuch whether he will go back to his old quixotic ways, but can he?

With most of the votes counted after Sunday's national election, Mr. Papandreou's Panhellenie Socialist Movement emerged Monday with 170 sents, a solid majority in the 300member parliament.

The conservative New Democracy of the outgoing prime minister. Constantine Mitsota-kis, trailed with [1] seats, humbled by defections and the huge personal unpopularity of its austerity. If modern Greeks wanted to ponder what had caused the turnaround, they might have reached for a more ancient word: hubris, the notion of pride in classical Greek tragedy that leads inevitably to the fall.

NEWS ANALYSIS

It was the hubris of Mr. Papandreou that drove him, aged 74 and in poor health, to turn Sunday's ballot into a quest for personal vindication after the scandal, corruption charges and accusations of mismanagement that coded his last spell in power from 1981 to 1989. It was the hubris of the conservative Mr.

leader after three years of biting economic Mitsotakis that persuaded him in 1990 to change the electoral law to favor the frontrunner, hoping to solidify his own power base for the next elections. But the oew law converted Mr. Papandreou's 46 percent of the vote into 170 scats in parliament, while the same percentage in 1990 under the previous election law had given Mr. Mitsotakis a razor-edge 150.

And the hubris of the insurgent Antonis Samaras, a 42-year-old maverick within New Democracy, led him to hreak with Mr. Mitsotakis and set up his own party - Political Spring. With barely a majority at Mr. Mitsotakis's amand, the revolt stripped New Democracy

See GREECE, Page 8

De Klerk Fears Crisis, Blames Faltering Talks

Kiosk

STELLENBOSCH, South Africa (AP) -President Frederik W. de Klerk said Monda that political talks were in jeopardy and that the nation may need a referendum to decid issues dividing its population.

"The whole process of negotiation is under enormous pressure at the moment," he said "It would be no exaggeration to speak of crisis in the future." It was the first time he ha indicated that the negotiations he spearheaded with the African National Congress may be unable to bridge the nation's divisions.

Dew J	ones	Trib Index
Ur B.6 3,593	7	Up 0.20% 109.58
New York	Mon. clase	previous clos
DM	1.605	1.603
Line	1.005
Pound	1.5325	1.534
Pound	1.5325	1.534
Pound Yen	1.5325 106.201 5.6335	1.534

Page 18.

that climaxed Oct. 3 with a battle between U.S. troops and Aldid supporters that left 15 Ameri-cans and scores of Somalis dead. "The new U.S. direction is to give the guy an out," said a U.S. official, referring to General Aidid. "There has to be a political solution."

Mr. Oakley's "carrot" is the offer of a negoti-ated deal, or as a U.S. official put it, "a way to save face" for both the warlord and his U.S. pursuers. The envoy's "stick" is the relatively strong, and growing, U.S. military presence.

Before dawn Monday, U.S. AC-130 aerial gunships unleashed their hig howitzer guns in a "show of force" in an unpopulated area near the city. FA-18 Hornet jets and A-6 Navy Intruders streaked across the capital's skies to signal the arrival off the coast of the aircraft carrier Ahraham Lincoln.

Mr. Oakley has no plans to meet directly with General Aidid or with the senior members of his Somali National Alliance militia, according to a U.S. official. The envoy appears to be offering little except a chance for the general to stop the bloodshed.

Senior officials close to General Aidid said last week that the two prisoners would be held until they could be exchanged for more than two dozen militia members being detained by the United Nations.

But on Monday. Mr. Rage said that the American and the Nigerian could be released first, without any such deal for the release of the Somalis, as a gesture of goodwill to Mr. Oakley. "They will be the first to be released," Mr.

Rage said. "Because we need peace. We want peace. The best thing is to start from our side." Even while the United States has shifted in-strategy in Somalia, the United Nations has not yet officially altered its stance. Senior UN civilian and military officials.

including the top UN envoy here. Jonathan T. Howe, insist that they are bound by a Security Council mandate calling for the arrest and detention of those responsible for the June 5 amhush that left 24 Pakistani peacekeeper-dead. An internal UN investigation has named General Aidid as the orchestrator of the attack

Privately, however, officials concede that the United Nations' hard-line stance has been severely undercut by the whirlwind U.S. diplomacy now underway and that the world body has little choice but to wait and see what arrangement Mr. Oakley can produce.

Visiting Mogadishu on Monday, the UN undersecretary for peacekeeping. Kofi Annan, seemed to sum up the state of flux in policy when he said that, while officially nothing had changed, there were "discussions going on about how best the mandate can be implemented without unnecessary loss of life."

"I wouldn't call it a rift as such between the Clinton administration and the United Nations." be said.

An Ersatz East Germany Rears Its Fanciful Head Impresario Touting the Bad Old Days

Proposes Theme Park Outside Berlin

By Rick Atkinson

BERLIN - Barbed wire and guard towers, electrified fences and snarling dogs. It is the stuff of, well, theme parks,

Call it crazy, call it irreverent, but an impresario named Frank Georgi calls it an idea whose time has come: a sprawling re-creation of East Germany on a 200-bectare (500-acre) former military compound outside Berlin, complete with empty stores, secret police agents and gritty toilet paper.

"Somehow you miss East Germany," Mr. Georgi says, "It's not that we want it back exactly, but it was home."

So far, the ersatz East Germany exists only in Mr. Georgi's head. Yet his plan to renovate the abandoned army camp in Prenden where Erich Honecker, the Communist Party boss, once had his secret atomic hunker behind a 15,000-volt electrified fence - has drawn plaudits and brickbats in equal measure.

Enthusiasts have donated crates of East German relics to the cause, from matchbooks to emigration forms. Mayor Paul Alesius of Prenden, on the other hand, vows to block the project, saying that "mass tourism would destroy our community."

With his pointy boots, fringe leather jacket and string tie, Mr. Georgi, 28, looks like a cowbay front Wyoning. In fact, he is from Eastern Germany and fled to the West in 1989 shortly before the Berlin Wall came down. His company, Franky's Country Pro-motions, organized a trucker festival near Berlin last spring, which he says drew 35,000 for three days of rockabilly music, bungee jumping and bull riding.

His proposal to re-create the had old days in a theme park is freighted with irony and courepreneurial ambition. But the concept taps a certain nostalgia in the former East Germany for things past: not the harsh trap-pings of totalitarianism, but the reassuring predictability of a planned society and the familiar totems of days gone by.

A disco in Dresden, for example, recently sponsored a "good old times" night, with patrons swapping their Deutsche marks for Ost marks and wearing their old East German youth group uniforms. Some bars serve East German /are with authentic aluminum cutlery: Eastern products, such as certain brands of beer and cola, stress their Eastness, and toy stores carry models of Trabis, the rattletrap autos that symbolized East German consumer backwardness.

Mr. Georgi's brainstorm started with an idea for a prank: Hire a team to begin re-building the Berlin Wall and record the reaction of passersby with a hidden camera. From that kernel has evolved a hlueprint with 36 different projects, from a hotel modeled after a socialist apartment building to a shopping imporium stocked with wormy apples, shriveled onions and bananas once a month.

He would like to open the park, which still lacks a name, in the fall of 1996. The mass circulation newspaper Bild dubbed it Disney East Germany, but Mr. Georgi leans toward The Zone - as the German Democratic Republic was once known to West Germans - or even Ossi Town, a reference to the slightly derisive name given to East Germans by their Western cousins after reunification.

There would be May Day parades - with an Erich Honecker look-alike waving to the masses - and Stasi secret police "agents" masses — and outst south points agents arresting those who complain and uniformed Soviet "soldiers" keeping their East German brothers in line. Closed circuit television would show old East German propaganda

See BERLIN, Page 8

Chunnel Optimism: Freight by March, People by May

By Erik Ipsen al Herald Tribane

LONDON - Months behind schedule and already 65 percent over its original cost esti-mates. Eurohunnel will open train service be-tween Folkestone and Calais on March 7, officials announced Monday. Freight will come first, followed by passengers in May.

The chief executive of Euronannel, Alastair Morion, said he was confident of the start-up dates.

"Try to get used to heing cheerful about things," he said.

·····

In announcing the company's financial re-sults for the first half of the year, Sir Alastair confirmed that Eurotunnel firmly expected its builders to hand over control of the project in early December. After additional tests, a shuttle service for freight will begin on March 7 with two trains running each way every hour. Passenger service is then expected to follow around the time of the tunnel's official opening on May 6 and will eventually build to a once-every-15minutes service at neak times. Passenger rail service between London and both Paris and Brussels is scheduled to begin in late June.

"Eurounnel is now very much over the worst of it," said Miehael Woodcock, an analyst at Nikko Securities in London.

Sir Alastair offered an even blunter assessment of the project, which was originally to have opened last May.

"The money, muck and maddle story is almost over." he said.

Peering out at the dozens of the pty seats at the outset of the sparsely attended news conference. Sir Alastair noted wryly. "The news is too good, and that has diminished the interest." Project officials confirmed, however, that they would be forced by May to raise an addi tional £1 billion ($1.5 hillion).

"Surprise, surprise, we'll have a rights issue," Sir Alastair said. That issue is expected to raisa roughly half of the needed funds, with the remainder coming from Eurotunnel's 220 ban) lenders.

Like Sir Alastair, analysis shrugged off the capital-raising exercise as one that had been long expected.

don't see much new here," said Pierr Flahbée at Paribas Capital Markets in Paris. H

See CHUNNEL, Page 13

U.S. troops on the assault-helicopter carrier Guadalcanal on Monday, entering the Red Sea from the Suez Canal en route to Somalia.

Bosnia Factions Weigh a 'No War, No Peace' Endgame

By John F. Burns New York Times Service

SARAJEVO, Bosnia-Herzegovina -Nobody will say this for the record, but leaders on all sides in the war ia Bosnia are acknowledging that the most acceptable plan for peace may be no formal peace plan at all.

While the Serbs and Croats have accepted a peace proposal, the Muslim-led Bosnian government bas act, and although talks are expected to resume, there is little inclination here to believe in peace anytime

Instead, the prevailing view is that what lies ahead is a new kind of misery, a situation described in a common aphorism as "necenio rut, necemo mir" - Serbo-Croatian for "no war, no peace."

Serbian nationalists in Bosnia, seemed un-ruffled in an interview last week at his around President Alija Izetbegovic might headquarters at Pale, outside Sarajevo, when a reporter suggested that "no war, no peace" could be Bosnia's fate for an indefinite period. "Exactly," he said.

the republic, and facing no serious chal-lenge from the Muslim-ied Bosnian Army, Mr. Karudzic seems to have no pressing need for a peace accord. On the contrary, the peace plan Muslim leaders have rejected could create a crisis for the Serhian nationalist leaders. This is because it would require their troops to withdraw from more than a quarter of the #### land they have seized, some of it in areas like Ozren Mountain in north-central Bosnia, which have an almost mythical significance among Bosnian Serbs, who trace their history here back 1,000 years.

- 0

NEWS ANALYSIS

As the war's principal victims, Muslims have a larger interest than any group in Radovan Karadzic, the leader of the ending the conflict. But the Bosnian parliaprefer continuation of the war to peace on the only terms available, involving the partition of Bosnia into three ethnic states, For one thing, there are few Muslim leaders, Mr. Izetbegovie included, who would effectively mean the end of Bosnia brought Muslims from the Sanjak region of Muslim fortunes, even against the Serbian as it has existed for centuries under imperi- western Serbia, nationalists. al and Yugoslav rule.

With his forces occupying 70 percent of seem ready to sign a peace accord that

For another, growing political power among Muslims is centered in the million refugees created by the war, many of whom oppose any settlement that would legitimize Serbian occupation of their home towns and villages, particularly in eastern Bosnia Mr. lzetbegovic's demand for an additional 7 percent of Bosnia under the peace plan would appease some, but not all, of the refugees; in any event, this has been rejected by the Serbian nationalists. Although the towns claimed by Mr. lzetbego-Karadzic insists they will never be returned.

"This is Serbian territory," he said, rising from his desk to point to a display of "ethnic maps" showing that Serbs were a majority in much of eastern Bosnia before thousands of Serbs were killed during World War If and before a wave of heavy Muslim migration in the postwar period Local Serbian warlords have vowed nev-zic, who tries to force their withdrawal, Another reason for Muslims resisting a formal end to the war is that the Bosnian Army, predominantly Muslim, has been gaining ground against the Croatian na-lionalist army in a broad arc of territory north and west of Sarajevo.

The Croatian force, which entered the to Mostar. the half-Muslim, half-Croatian the city. city chosen by the Croats as the capital of their ethnic state in Bosnia. year of the war. Muslim soldiers are enjoy- scores of places where the war has erased, ing a taste of victory, and some Muslim along with lives, half a century of progress leaders have been arguing that the war made while Bosnia was part of communist could yet yield a surprising turnabout in Yugoslavia.

"For the first time in the war, the tide in cr to relinquish the lands coded to the Muslims under the peace plan, and to kill any Serbian leader, including Mr. Karad-zic, who tries to force their withdrawal. that signing a peace pact now might he handing victory to the Serbian and Croatian nationalists just when the tide was beginning to move in the Muslims' favor. In the 18 months since the first artillery shells were fired from the surrounding hills, Sarajevo's streets have never been busier. Open-air markets are thriviag, aad war buoyed hy legends that depict Croats new coffee bars open almost daily. Garvic — Foca, Visegrad, Bratunac, Rogatica as the best warriors in the Balkans, has bage trucks are out cleaning up refuse and Zvornik, among others — had large proven surprisingly ineffective, despite its Muslim majorities before the war, Mr. strong backing from Croatia. The Croats crews are stringing new electricity cables strong hacking from Croatia. The Croats crews are stringing new electricity cables are now hattling Bosnian forces to hold on above the streetcar tracks that run across

> While few believe that the war will again reach its earlier intensity, there is no cele-After nothing but reverses in the first brating, not in Sarajevo nor in any of the

WORLD BRIEFS

Norway Publisher of 'Satanic Verses

Is Seriously Wounded by a Gumman

OSLO (Combined Dispatches) — The Norwegian publisher of Salman Rushdie's book "The Salanic Verses" was shot and seriously wounded outside his home here Monday, the police said. William Nygaard, 50, was shot three times, at least once in the back.

when he was getting lato a car, according to Stein Haugen of the Oslo police. A hospital listed him in serious but stable condition. Mr. Nygaard had received threatening letters about publishing the book.

The officer said it was too early to tell whether the shooling was related to the Norwegian-language publication of Mr. Rushdie's book. "But we can't exclude the possibility of such a connection," he added.

The late Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini of Iran issued the death order against Mr. Rushdie and anyone connected with distribution of "The Satanic Verses" because the ayatollah considered it a hlasphemy against (AP. Remers) the prophet Mohammed.

Woman Dies as Quake Shakes Japan 🔦

TOKYO (Reuters) - A woman died and two people were slightly injured when a strong earthquake beneath the Pacific ocean - measuring 7.1 on the open-ended Richter scale - shook Tokyo early Tuesday, news ports said

The woman, a 64-year-old Tokyo resident with a serious heart condition, collapsed when she tried to leave her house following the quake. NHK television reported. She died in a hospital.

The quake, which occurred hours after the arrival of President Boris N. Yeltsin of Russia, rattled most of northern Japan, but seismologists said the epicenter was too far out in the Pacifie to cause serious damage.

Key Figure Quits Party in Sri Lanka

COLOMBO | Reuters) - An opposition politician. Anura Bandaran-COLOMBO [Reuters] — An opposition politician. Anura Bandaran-aike, the son of two former prime ministers who was groomed as a future leader, quit his party Monday because of prolonged family squabhles. Mr. Bandaranaike, 44, attributed the move to "events, engineered and manipulated by a few conspirators who have taken absolute and total control of the Sri Lanka Freedom Party." The party has been struggling through a leadership crisis centering on the Bandaranaike family. Mr. Bandaranaike has been fighting off a ehallenge from his elder sister. Chandrika, to succeed their mother, while has served two terms as prime minister, as party president. His father. Soloman Dias, founded the party in 1952 and was prime minister until he was assassinated in 1959.

Algeria Executes 13 Islamic Militants

ALGIERS (AP) - Thirteen Islamic militants were executed Monday. the largest number of executions carried out at one time since the government began a crackdown on fundamentalist opponents almost two Six other Muslims sentenced to death were granted presidential par-dons, the Justice Ministry said. All 19 had been convicted in Fehruary and March by secret courts set up in three cities in February to try terrorism and subversion cases.

Korea Divers Search for Ferry Dead

SEOUL (AP) - Divers searched the Yellow Sea off South Korea's western coast on Monday for the bodies of ferry passengers who were losing when the boal capsized is turbulent seas.

News reports said the death toll could rise to 200 from Sunday's sinking. President Kim Young Sam ordered an investigation into the accident. The police said 58 bodies were recovered by nightfall Monday. There were at least 67 survivors.

The national Joongang Daily News said that a deckhand was at the heim when the ferry went down because the captain was on vacation and thal only 7 of 12 assigned crew members were aboard. The ferry, carrying passengers to coastal islands for a day of fishing and hiking, capsized in rough seas and sank off the coast of northern Chollabukdo Province. about 140 miles (225 kilometers) southwest of Seoul,

Cambodian Guerrillas Launch Attack

O-SMACH. Cambodia (Reuters) - Khmer Rouge guerrillas have altacked a government-held town and surrounding villages in northwestern Cambodia, sending waves of people fleeing the renewed fighting. Hundreds of men, women and children were seen streaming south from the area Monday. Villagers said many civilians were wounded. Major General Sen Chamrong, the local government commander, said that at least 16 rebels were killed in the attacks on the market town of O-Smach and eight other villages close to the Thai frontier. Thai military sources said at least four soldiers and six rebels were killed.

Yeltsin Opens Visit to Tokyo

Few Expect Breakthrough on Disputed Islands or Aid

By T. R. Reid ngton Post Service

TOKYO - Wearing the serene smile of a political leader without a problem in the world. President Boris N. Yeltsm arrived Monday in Japan on an official visit that had been scheduled long before last week's political crisis in Moscow.

Mr. Yeltsin declared that he had come to demonstrate "worm feelings for the Japanese people." But the press and some government officials in Tokyo speculated that the Russian leader's real purpose was to emphasize to his own nation and the world that his domestic position was strong enough at home to permit the three-day overseas trip.

Japanese officials say they expect little progress in negotiations between the two Asian neighbors, whose relations are strained.

The new prime minister of Japan. Morihiro Hosokawa, would like to move toward a settlement of the dispute over four islands north of Japan that the Soviet Army seized from Japan days after Tokyo's surrender in World War II.

By Steven Erlanger

New York Times Serner

Yeltsin ordered on Monday another important change to his nascent

Mr. Yeltsin decreed that the upper house of a new parliament would also be filled by elections Dec. 12, the same day the lower house, or Duma, is to be elected.

The decree appeared designed to weaken the power of already exist-

Russian political system.

MOSCOW --- President Boris N.

canceled a scheduled state visit four days before he was to arrive in Tokyo, Mr. Yelstin canceled another scheduled visit here in May. He did come to Tokyo in July, but to take part in the Group of Seven of power and suspension of the over the weekend to place the conservative local councils under the control of appointed regional administrators, while dismissing those who openly sided with the

Mr. Yeltsin and his advisers federal parliament.

parliament

Mr. Yeltsin would like Asia's rich-est nution to provide billions in the parliament, in addition to his sessions with Mr. Hosokawa. The Japanese government backed Mr. Yeltsin last week in his battle with the opposition in Rus-opinion polls showed the former Soviet Union to be the most disliked and most feared country among the Japanese people. new offer on the disputed islands. And without movement on that dispute, Mr. Hosokawa is ualikely to offer much new financial aid. The two leaders might agree however, on some action to limit Russia's dumping of nuclear waste economie summit meeting, and he in the Sea of Japan. Tokyo might did not have much time for direct offer technical and finaneial assisnegotiations with the Japanese. tance in this area if Russia agreed Mr. Yeltsin is to meet Tuesday and Wednesday with Emperor Aki-radioactive waste.

But Monday's decree may in fact create more uncertainty for Mr. Mr. Yeltsin had already moved Yeltsin, rather than less, According to the new plan, the under control."

upper house, known as the Federation Council, will be elected for four years and consist of two represcatatives from each of Russia's 82 constituent regions and territories. A candidate need only be a Russian Prison. citizen and at least 21.

seem to he making up the rules as they go along. At the moment, Mr. Yeltsin is ordering alterations to an In Mr. Yelisin's original draft constitution, the Federation Coununfinished draft constitution that cil was to consist of two representamay or may not be offered for rati-

In any event, Mr. Yeltsin was in the end of this year or early in 1994, a confident mood as he left for a and he said he thought inflation by brief visit to Japan, saying, "Be- December might he us low as 15 brief visit to Japan, saying, "Beyond any doubt, the situation is percent a month and hy February, 10 percent. Elections, however, "are the

Those who had "kicked up the greatest threat" to financial stabilstorm." be said. "are now locked up in a mighty fortress from which no ity, Mr. Fyodorov said, "because populist issues are bound to arise." one has escaped." He was referring The fourth quarter will be "even more difficult than the third" in to Moscow's infamous Lefortovo keep having elections every few months no budget will be big terms of tight spending, he said, enough."

Mr Veltsin's finance minister. Boris G. Evodorov, a leading reformer in the government. conceded that the constitutional confusupporters to do well.

cheaper to hold just one election. Since each nationwide vote costs about $150 million, he said, "if we was assassinated in 1959.

Pavel 1 horse/ The Associated Pre-A tourist posing Monday for a snapshot in front of the charred parliament building in Moscow.

Yeltsin Acts to Strip More Power From Regional Authorities

making it harder on Mr. Yeltsin's

"I hope a new parliament will be balanced," he said. As for a sepa-rate June 12 presidential election, Mr. Fyodorov said it would be

TRAVEL UPDATE

Nobody seems to have high expectations for substantial achievement in this week's Tokyo meetings. Mr. Yeltsin is presumably in no position politically to make any

These feelings were exacerbated 13 months ago, when Mr. Yeltsin is reportedly planning to issue a party resolution condemning the Russian Jeader for anti-democratie methods in using soldiers and tanks to resolve the dispute in Moscow.

But neither leader seems to be in sian parliament.

a strong enough position politically to make the compromises that would lead to hreakthroughs on these issues. While Japan has something of a love-hate relationship with the United States, its attitude toward the Russia might better be de-scribed as fear-hate. For decades, new aid for the Russian economy. But Japan's conservative opposition, the Liberal Democratic Party,

4.

Page 2

fc

h

ing regional authorities, many of about Mr. Yeltsin's Sept. 21 seizure

> South Africa's Premier Business Hotel

 $(\mathbf{U})$ SANDTON SUN

Towers

• Design that to cere above the rest

A MARK IN INFORMATION A SAME sand and Richly paraistant nome

 Leachestry upper floors with Invites suites executive studios and the Penthouse - all complete with butlet service

Full business critic with boardnome computer-compaged offices securial and course serves

Thespitalite loringe includes some facilities to freshers up them cert flights and basel creek mout

Executive health centre for stress ntet.

20 minutes' drive to Jobannesburg CBri

O

E

R

П

E

A

R

 $\Box$

Phone 27:11 Tables

fication to voters on the same day as they elect both federal and local legislatures of a new type.

Norwegians Sour on EC Ties

RIVINTS

BONN - Former Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher has undermined her own historic achievements by recounting her opposition to German and European unity in her memoirs, Chancellor Helmut

"German unity has come and European unity will come too, no matter what Margaret Thatcher writes in her memoirs," he said in a television interview. "All she ac-complishes is the dismantling of the monument she has built."

Musing on the disagreements be-tween himself and Mrs. Thatcher, Mr. Kohl said that he had always been inspired by Churchill's post-that I am living after Winston Churchill, and she comes from the time before Winston Churchill," he

The weekly newsmagazine Der

"The difference between us is war call for Europe to unite.

said

Kohl said Monday.

OSLO - Public opposition to Norway's plans to join the Europeupper house.

an Community has surged to a re-cord high of 60 percent of the elec-torate, an opinion poll published Monday in the daily Dagbladet Now, however, with an elected upper house, matters are less certain. It is indicative of the general confusion, with Mr. Yeltsin trying showed. Only 28 percent of those to consolidate his victory in the polled wanted Norway to join the regions and plug holes as they ap-12-nation grouping. pear.

1990

opinions

Kohl's Demurral on Thatcher

German Juggernaut," in which she says she lobbied Mikhail S. Gorha-tempt to block reunification in lives from each region, one from sion created difficulties. He said he assumed that the Duma would have oversight over hudgetary and financial matters. the executive, appointed by Moscow, and one drawn from the local legislature. Since presidential ve-toes in Mr. Yeltsin's draft could but even if it began work by mid-January would probably not only be overruled by a two-thirds vote in each chamber, he would choose a Budget Committee until have been projected from most overrides by his appointees in the February. That committee would take until March to inform itself. he said, so he presumed the government would simply follow its own hudget, without oversight, in the first quarter of 1994 as well as now. Mr. Fyodorov said he hoped the International Monetary Fund would be able to give Russia another $1.5 billion in special loans by

World Jewish Group Is Rebuffed by Kohl Over Presidency Feud

BONN - Chancellor Helmut Kohl told the World Jewish Con-eress on Monday to keep out of the controversy over the conservative candidate he wants to become Germany's next president.

Mr. Kohl said on television that the issue was one for Germans alone to decide and that any meddling hy the Jewish Congress would provoke a dispute over what the organization did to oppose German unity. In the last days of the former East Germany, the Jewish group reiterated its support for maintaining two German states.

The Jewish Congress said last week in New York that Jewish communities around the world were alarmed by the comments of the candidate. Stellen Heitmann, that the crimes inflicted on Jews by the Nazis should be seen in a historical context.

"This is a question for the Germans to decide, and I don't need any lectures from the World Jewish Congress." Mr. Kohl said. "I would advise everyone abroad not to get involved in this because then we would have to talk about a lot of other things, for example what the World Jewish Congress did against German uaity at the moment of German utilication."

In another development, Foreign Minister Klaus Kinkel, chair-man of the Free Democrats, the junior coalition party in the Kohl government, said his party would nominate Hildegard Hamm-Brucher later this week for the presidency. Mrs. Hamm-Brücher is a 72-year-old former member of parliament and ministerial aide.

Criticism of Mr. Kohl's protege has raised doubts among the chancellor's own Christian Democrats about whether Mr. Heitmann can win majority support at a special electoral assembly in May. Some Christian Democrais have suggested that they might vote for the rival candidate of the opposition Social Democrats, Johannes

Rau, premier of North Rhine-Westphalia State. Mr. Heitmann, state justice minister of Saxony, has angered Jewish groups hy suggesting Germans should put their wartime past behind them and see the Holocaust in a new, historical light. He has also offended women's groups by saying that career women would he better off at home, and he has been backed by far-right groups. Mr. Kinkel said the unilateral choice of Mr. Heitmann last month

"Hamm-Brücher enjoys a very high esteem among the public, and she can maintain the high standards set by President Richard von Weizsäcker," he said.

French Unions Plan Major Strikes

PARIS (Reuters) — French trade unions plan major disruptions to air. rail, subway and postal services on Tuesday in a national protest data "against uaemployment and for jobs." Air France, the money-losing national carrier, which announced 4,000 job cuts last month as part of a restructuring plan, said it expected to run only half of its medium-haul flights on Tuesday, although long-haul flights should not be affected. Five unions have called a J2-hour rail strike from midnight, which is expected to materia main line accorder until Wednerday merring und hit expected to restrict main line services until Wednesday morning and hit the Paris city and regional subway systems hardest during the Tuesday afternoon rush hour. Mail delivery is likely to be patchy, and electrical workers' unions say there could also be token power cuts.

Residents of poor neighborhoods in Bogott blocked traffic on major thoroughfares Monday to protest high crime rates and poor living conditions.

CHINA: Abuse of the Peasants

Continued from Page 1

eventually triumphs.

problem of local despots, hut because the phenomenon is so widespread, they say there is little they

Nigeria Politician Ends Exile

LAGOS - Chief Augustus Adisa Akinloye, 77, head of the defunct governing party in Nige-ria's second republic from 1979-83. "Even if you raise the case as high as the central government, it will has arrived here after a 10-year still come back to me. If I don't exile in Britain, sources said,

Kohl said. "I didn't take this hadly because she was the most honest. I Mrs. Thatcher accused Sir Geofhave great respect for Mrs. Thatchfrey, who served her as chancellor of the exchequer, foreign secretary He then added with a smile: Mayhe because she has such a and leader of the House of Comstrong personality, she has difficul-tics putting up with other people's mons, of using "bile and treachery" in his resignation speech. Mrs. Thatcher accused Sir Nigel. Howe and Lawson Targets a former chancellor who also resigned from her cahinet, of "folly Mrs. Thatcher's memoirs level chev. the former Soviet president. son, dismissed Mrs. Thatcher as an and other world leaders in an at-rate. former cahinet ministers, the Los Angeles Times reported from Lon-"Nigel had pursued a personal economic policy without reference to the rest of the gavernment," she

The memoirs, being serialized in Spiegel printed a long excerpt from the Sunday Times, prompted the memoirs entitled "Stop the strong public rebuttals. The minissaid. "How could I possibly trust him again?"

As a matter of fact, I have managed to save a wee bit with MCI.

to sense commers, puter, phone may learner traje set of concernment for dual tone, 4.5-marching public releptions, may be instead

Rate depends on all organic bleach interview. Addition a limited basis in visitem Germany 4: MCI biternational in 1984. Af Los lege and all aller AR Los kells and services methoded linear are proprietary marks of MCI Communications Corporation had encouraged the Free Democrats to put up a challenger.

Printed by Newsfax International, London, Registered as a new spaper at the past office.

مكذا من الأصل

exemptions to family size restrictions, or fines and punishments. "The Story of Qiu Ju," a movie released here last year and in the United States earlier this year, tells want to handle it, what can you de do?" The subject that incurs hy far the most wrath among ordinary peasants is the way local cadres play favorites in family planning. Al-though Chinese families are limited Real life is a different story. "Even if you bring your case to the United Nations, you still won't can do.

win," one local party secretary reportedly told a group of villagers in Henan Province, who were protest-Agence France-Press ing his imposition of arbitrary fines, according to the internally circulated government report.

MCI

Sir Geoffrey quit her cahinet af-"Margaret Thatcher never hid ter many disagreements over Brit-ain's moves toward European unity the fact that she was not for German unification at the time," Mr. and after suffering tongue-lashings from her in various meetings.

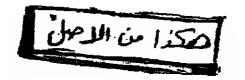

lers skewered in the writings, Sir

Geoffrey Howe and Sir Nigel Lawson, dismissed Mrs. Thatcher as an goats for her own mistakes.

in his handling of the exchange their harshest criticism against two

STATESIDE / LEAVING CITY HALL

Mayors Heading for the Exits Frustration of Big-City Crises Takes Its Toll

By William Claiborne Washington Part Service WASHINGTON - The struggle against urban problems has taken its toll on big-city mayors this year. At least 15 large cities are losing their top officials.

Many of the mayors decided ainst seeking re-election because they have become weary of fiscal crises, rampant drug-related crime, homelessness. AIDS and other social problems that have worsened since they first sought office.

"It's the biggest change since I've been here, and that's 25 years," said J. Thomas Cochran, executive di-rector of the U.S. Conference of Mayors. "The frustration level is definitely higher than it's ever been."

Donald J. Borut, executive director of the National League of Cit-ies, said: "The last decade has been a very difficult time for cities. Mayors realize they can't be heroie anymore. They can't come in and solve all the problems."

Among the big-city mayors who have retired, resigned to take other posts or decided against seeking reelection this year are Tom Bradley of Los Angeles, Coleman A. Young of Detroit, Maynard Jackson of Atlanta, Raymond L. Flynn of Boston, Xavier Suarez of Miami, Don-ald Fraser of Minneapolis, Sophie Masloff of Pittsburgh, James D. Griffin of Bulfalo, New York, and

Thomas P. Ryan Jr. of Rochester, New York. Some of the retiring mayors most notably Mr. Young in Detroit and Mr. Bradley in Los Angeles decided to leave office after two decades or more of dominating tional Democratic politics. Mr. Jackson of Atlanta and Mr. oung have had health problems, but that was a secondary consider-job and wanted an opportunity to carn more mooey for his family. Mr. Young played down his health, saying candidly that be no longer has the energy to manage a city that

"It's an enormously demanding job, and to expect someone to make a lifetime career of it is unrealistic," infrastructure projects that would and costly education, bousing and bave brought them $7.2 billion and welfare programs. 200,000 new jobs, "That added a lot of stress," Mr. Cochran said.

There have been other setbacks to the power of mayors that may have cootributed to this year's excdus from city halls. A decade ago, the Reagan administration eliminated revenue

By Peter T. Kilborn

sharing, a system instituted by President Richard Nixon to distribute federal revenue to local authorities with a minimum of conditions on its use. The demise of revenue sharing coincided with a growing lack of White House inter-est in creating public service jobs and ward-level party institutions began to lose their influence, the drying up of federal sources of money took away from mayors much of the power and prestige that normally accompanies the dispensing of patronage.

Coupled with a steady transformation in the character of city politics, in which traditional district

The continuing decline of politi-cal machines and once-powerful party bosses in the big cities reduced the mayors' influence in national party politics, further dimin-ishing the incentives to hold office.

Labor's Timely Idea: Shorter Workweek

the convention last week be said. "] oeed to think about it more."

New York Times Service SAN FRANCISCO - Union Predictably, business advocates leaders and some economists are show little enthusiasm for the beginning to talk seriously about shorter week if it means higher la-bor costs. Martin Lefkowitz, a lawhat once seemed a far-fetched tooth fairy. ularly novel idea; millions of parttimers already work far fewer than 40 hours a week. But the unions

Currently, he said, many em-

But unions, despite the long dea interme career of it is intreaustic, Mr. Borut said. "They're on the cutting edge of dealing with the worst problems imaginable." He added: "They're scrutinized all the time, they're dealing with intractable problems and they get below-market pay. For what? The isplit to make deriving that are cline of their membership and influence, still introduce many innovatioos in the workplace, particularly in maoufacturing, where they are strongest. A shorter right to make decisions that are going to tick off half the people." In a letter to the House and C. faced severe cutbacks in federal last week, former Senator William aid, drops in local revenue because Proximire, who was considered a of declining tax bases and growing tightfistedness of their constituleading advocate of labor's causes during his 32 years in the Senate, ents, and increased expectations argued that a shorter workweek rould cut unemployment. Today, it is not uncommon in for services. Changes in federal policy during the Reagan and Bush administra-tions turned big-city mayors from powerful dispensers of money and some industries for employees to work less than 40 hours. But few workplaces have crossed the 35patronage into supplicants for hour threshold. Postal carriers, andouts from Washington. During the last 12 years, the ecotelephone operators and some newspaper press operators routinely work 35 hours. Some construcnomic condition of cities worsened as Congress issued mandates to imtion workers have 32-hour weeks. plement costly federal regulations Some labor scholars are promotor lose funding for social and enviing shorter weeks, too, both to spread the available work and to relieve the stress of certain jobs. The last straw for some mayors may have been the defeat carlier The most visible scholar of em this year of President Bill Clinton's ployment practices, Labor Secret The most visible scholar of em-$30 billion economic stimulus tary Robert B. Reich, spurned shorter weeks in an interview in February. But before addressing

× POLITICAL NOTES Arm Twisting on the Trade Bill

WASHINGTON -The Clintoo administration believes it is parrowing the advantage held by congressional opponents of the North American Free Trade Agreement through a lobbying effort by the president and his cabinet.

"This thing is very much up in the air." said the House majority leader, Richard A. Gephardt of Missouri, a prominent opponent of the proposed trade agreement. By all accounts NAFTA oppo-nents have a substantial lead in the House, which will cast the initial vote in five weeks. The outcome will turn on furious pressure and persuasion directed at as many as 100 members of Congress who remain publicly uncommitted. William Daley, a Chicago lawyer and political strategist brought in by President Bill Clinton to run the NAFTA fight, said the administratioo's recent lobbying activity had created some urgently oceded momentum to favor of the proposed trade agreement with Mexico and Canada (WP)

Giuliani vs. Dinkins on Crime

NEW YORK - Rudolph W. Giuliani believes that crime is as rampant today in New York City as it was in 1989 when the crack epidemic was peaking. Mayor David N. Dinkins says that the peaking. Mayor David N. Dinkins says that the city is less on edge and that the crime rate is down since he tonk office. In their conflicting views on that important question for voters — whether the city safer is today than it was four years ago — the two candidates for mayor have laid the groundwork for their sharply different proposals for combatting crime.

Law-enforcement experts say it is too soon to know whether the city is more or less dangerous than when Mr. Dinkins was elected. But either way, the winner of the Nov, 2 election will confront a problem whose causes, manifestations and scope have changed little in four years, they say.

Page 3

ne 93 - 91

5

the 11b

o a l

đs.

ing an

red ide lefi

tan

ose tier val

1 25.

nal

rid <sup>1</sup>

2 H I

na-int nd his om by er-all tal

m, tal

uei ne.

ng ng lo

nd.

er, ng ed ers u-

I DC

nd

ng. ed

зð

gh d- :

ic

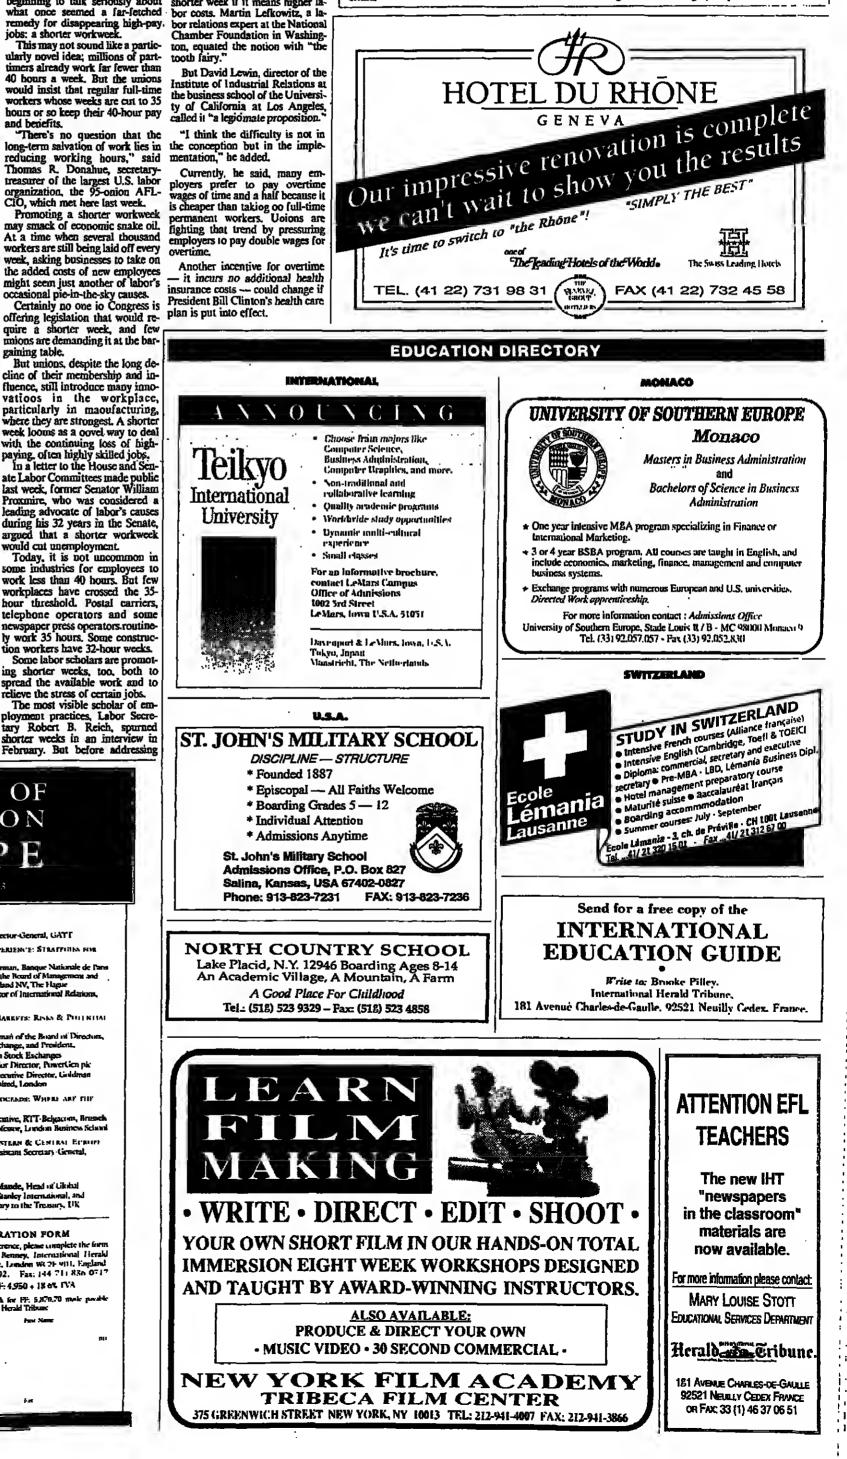

assessing competing strategies for deploying police officers and imprisoning criminals. It will also involve gut perceptions about which man sends the tougher message to criminals and which man cares more about voter anxieties regarding street vic-(NYT)

Anniversary No. 18 for Clintons

President Bill Clinton and Hillary Rodham Clinton spent a quiet day at home Monday to celebrate their 18th wedding anniversary. They were married Oct. 11, 1975, in Fayeneville, Arkansas, a year before he was elected to his first public office: attorney general of Arkansas.

Quote/Unquote

Stanley Greenberg, the White House pollster, subscribing to the belief that President Bill Clinton must deal with foreign policy because it is unavoid-able rather than because it will do anything to help his popularity: "There's not a lot of evidence that this president or the previous president benefits from foreign policy events, even if they're glorious or splendid. President Bush saw his joh performance ratings slide without hesitation, right through all those foreign policy successes."

1 ve vales 13 Islamie Me Phillip Sharp, talking Monday to a well-wisher.

Hice and Marker Shaker by er a terte Parts in Mile

Nobel in Medicine

An extended for here

searchers in the United States who first discovered that genes could be

- split, opening the way for better at treatment of cancer and other dis-cases, were awarded the 1993 Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine
- on Monday Richard Roberts, a Briton, and
- Phillip Sharp, an American, are sharing the 6.7 million kronor ($830,000) prize for independently
- discovering that a gene could be · several units rather than one con
  - tinuous segment. The discovery will have implications for better gene therapy,"
- Constance of the Lands said Professor Gosta Gabrton, a member of the prize-awarding Karolinska Institute. "With this knowledge we could improve our under
  - standing of the cause of cancer." Mr. Sharp told the Swedish oews
  - agency TT that he and Mr. Roberts had been fortunate to make their breakthrough ahead of many other researchers in the same field.

Goes for Gene Work Alfred Nobel, the Swedish philan-STOCKHOLM - Two rethropist and inventor of dynamite, had been awarded for progress in

- molecular biology. Knowledge of how genetic material governs the basic activities of life has increased sharply in the last 40 years.
  - Some of the 5,000 hereditary diseases that have been identified are due to errors in the natural splicing process - for instance, the blood
  - disease leukemia The prize wioning research
  - "does not give us cures, but the possibility to know how we are going to do therapy with genes in the future," Mr. Gabrton said. Genetic therapy involves taking a cell out of the human body, com- bining it with a gene and potting it back io the hope that they will grow together to produce the protein the body lacks, Mr. Gabrton said.

- The Nobel prize-winning discovery could help fine tune genetic therapy by, for example, putting a gene in the right spot.

politics and government in their cities and becoming forces in naation in their decisions not to run again. Associates said that the three-term Atlanta mayor simply lost some of his enthusiasm for the has become synonymous with uncontrolled crime and drug use.

would insist that regular full-time workers whose weeks are cut to 35 hours or so keep their 40-hour pay and benefits. "There's no question that the long-term salvation of work lies in reducing working hours," said mentation," he added,

Thomas R. Donahue, secretary-treasurer of the largest U.S. labor organization, the 95-onion AFL-CIO, which met here last week. Promoting a shorter workweek may smack of economic snake oil. At a time when several thousand workers are still being laid off every quire a shorter week, and few unions are demanding it at the bargaining table.

Certainly no one io Congress is

For voters, then, the choice between Mr. Giu-liani and Mr. Dinkins may involve more than lence.

cry in 1977," he said, "but there have been a long list of brilliant research projects in that area since then. I had no idea I was being PIN: considered.

The career paths of Mr. Roberts, 50, and Mr. Sharp, 49, crossed when they were both on the staff of Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory in the carly 1970s. The prize-winning discovery came when Mr. Sharp had moved on to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Using a common cold virus as a model, the two men proved that a gene could be present as several well-separated segments. From there it was a short step to the further discovery that genes could be split and rearranged to remove "errors.

"The discovery of split genes has been of fundamental importance for today's basic research in biology, as well as for more medically oriented research coocerning the development of cancer and other diseases," the Karolinska Institute said.

It was the fifth time the Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine, one of five created under the will of

Away From Politics

• The countdown has begun for NASA's longest space shuttle flight, a two-week research mission aboard Columbia that will gauge the effects of weightlessness on seven astronauts and 48 rats. The mission is scheduled to exceed by five hours the record of 13 days, 19 hours and 30 minutes, set by Columbia last year.

• The Houston Ship Channel, ocar Galveston, Texas, and the Port of Houston were reopened nearly 24 hours after a gasoline tanker explosion to which three people died and at least a dozen were injured.

· Floodwater near lowa City carved out a 15-foot (4.5-meter) gorge in July that exposed hundreds of fossils from the Devonian period, 375 million years ago.

· Four airmen accused of burning a cross and utteriog racial slurs have been discharged from the U.S. Air Force in Fairbanks, Alaska.

- A decorated FBI agent, who says her superiors refused to take seriously her complaints of sexual harassment, turned in her badge in protest. The agent, Suzane Doucette, said that her career at the FBI had come to a standstill after she filed complaints against the bureau, claiming she was sexually as-saulted in 1988 by a supervisor.
- · Colorado's attorney general is to go to court in Denver to defend the state's new amendment that would ban state and local laws prohibiting discrimination based on sexual orientation. It also would cancel existing gay-rights ordinances in Aspen,
- Boulder and Denver. AP, Renders, AFP

MCI

know what a gene looks like," Mr. Gainton said.

Mr. Roberts, 50, was born in Derby, England, was graduated from Sheffield University and later worked as a research associate at Harvard University. In 1972, he started work at Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory where he carried out the prize-winning research. Since 1992, he has been research director at New England Biolabs in Beverly, Massachusetts. Mr. Sharp, 49, born in Fal-month, Kentucky, gained a doctor-ate in chemistry at the University of Illinois, Urbana. He also researched at the Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory, between 1971 and at MIT in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

France

Abel Matures, Com

Lunited, Landon

|₫

1d

Inter Continental Hotel

3 rue de Casuglione, 75040 Paris Cedes Bl

Telephone 135 1 / 44 77 11 11 Fax: | 33 1 | 44 77 14 60

THE SPONSORS

Herald Eribune

ronmental programs.

1974, then moved to MIT. Since 1991, Mr. Sharp has been head of the department of biology package, for which cities compiled a list of 4,400 ready-to-go urban

THE FUTURE OF

PRIVATIZATION

The conference fee in FF: 4.950 + 18 eV. IVA

Encluded is a check for FF, 5,870,70 male parable to the International Herskil Tribune

пμ

1

Tanak Name

Address

Quebec Separatists Weigh In New Bloc Looks Set to Tip Federal Balance

heart of Quebec.

What Quebec "snvereign-

Page 4

By Charles Trucheart Washington Poss Service SHAWINIGAN, Quebec -For the first time in Canadian history. French-speaking Que-bec separatists are poised to wage their struggle for independence with a significant base of power inside the federal parliament

The latest polls indicate that the pro-sovereignty Bloc Quebecois could win three-quarters of Quebec's 75 seats in the 295member House of Commons in national elections Oct. 25 and become Canada's third-largest party. This would give the Bloc extraordinary power, and it once again raises the specter of Canadian disunity. Quebec is making its latest noises about sovereignty at a time when most Canadians outside Quebec are telling pollsters that after a generation of constitutional haggling they are fed up with the province's demands for autonomy.

International markets are reacting skittishly to the prospect of continued turmoil here, driving the Canadian dollar down to And now we're going to say what an alarming 75 U.S. cents. æ want! The three-year-old Bloc Qué-tists," as they call themselves, want is n matter of debate. But becois, which is running no candidates anywhere else in Canada, has declared that its primary thus far in the campaign, the agenda in Ottawa will be to efmajor parties have been unable fect "sourceignty" for Quebec: the virtual secession of Quebec, with a quarter of Canada's popu-lation, from the 126-year-old Cato offer a positive alternative inside Quebec to the Bloc's grassroots appeal. Although the Liberals, who nadian confederation. In the meantime, the Bloc's now lead slightly in national polls, have Jean Chretien, a Queleader, Lucien Bouchard, rebecker, as their standard-bearer, minded his partisans at a rally be is widely regarded here as here Sept. 30 that the party inhaving sold out Quebec's intertended to protect Quebec's share ests during 30 years in federal of federal-transfer payments for politics. social services.

The apparent reversal of for-Decrying an "illegitimate" Ca-nadian constitution and an altunes for conservatives in Que-bec is paralleled in the West by leged legacy of betrayals by Eng-lish Canada's French-speaking another angry grass-roots movement behind Preston Manning's "kitchen boys," Mr. Bouehard took the stage before 1,000 partinativist Reform Party, currently showing unexpected strength in British Columbia and Alberta. sans for a show of strength in the traditionally reliable Conserva-

For the first time in this fall's tive strongholds. Some observers say the pros-pect of gains by the Bloc Quebe-cois is influencing hostile voters in English Canada to support "their" protest party, the Recampaign, he was joined by his key provincial ally, Jacques Pari-zeau, whose Parti Québécois has given the Bloc important organi-zational support. Mr. Parizeau told the crowd: "We've said what formers. Together, Reform and the we don't want for a long time.

Bloc represent the political pincers that may drive Canada into a fragile minority government.

Palestinians with pictures of imprisoned relatives, calling for their release Monday outside Red Cross offices in the city of Gaza. Arafat's Leadership Style Under Scrutiny in PLO

By Nora Boustany Washington Post Service TUNIS - The Palestine Central Council held talks Monday ahead of a vote on the peace accord with Israel amid a heated debate on re-structuring the Palestine Liberation Organization as it shifts from an era of revolution-management to one of institution- and stateuilding.

Though the PLO chairman, Yasser Arafat, is certain to win the required number of votes for the ratification of the accord with Israel, he has come under scrutiny from allies and foes alike for his exclusionary style of leadership. Whether the new Palestinian au-ralistic or driven by authoritarian instincts is a major question. Reports of a foiled plot to rig Mr. Arafat's plane with explosives two weeks ago have enhanced the urgency that Palestinians feel for the establishment of institutions that transcend Mr. Arafat's personal power as they ready themselves for a transfer from Israeli occupation to limited self-rule. Arafat aides said the plot was the PLO, and the selection of its members by election rather than uncovered in its early stages of preparation and had been kept qui-et to avoid embarrassing the Tuniappointment, is under discussion. as well as the expansion of the PLO Executive Committee to include sian authorities and to avert further representatives from the Israeli-oc-cupied territories. tension with Syria, the Arab coun-try ramored to be behind the plot. Deputy Foreign Minister Yossi Beilin of Israel said in Tunis on PLO officials said that a restructuring was certain to occur. Monday that he planned to meet with Mr. Arafat after the Central Some Palestinian businessmen who are planning to invest in areas

Council vote, to carry the latest ideas to his leadership before Israeabout to come under self-rule have said they are apprehensive that Mr. Arafnt will slip into the Algerian li-Palestinian negotiations that are model. Algeria's governing Nationscheduled to begin in Cairo and al Liberation Front was credited "We hope that nothing will hap-pen to those who are involved in with liberation from French colothis process, and we hope that the malism, but its tight and exclusive grip on power helped to spawn fundomentalist forces that now are threatening stability in that North A reduction in the membership African nation.

Cumpted by Our Staff From Dispatches WASHINGTON - The Clinton administration said Monday that it would not ask the United Nations to drop its call for the capture of General Mohammed Farrah Aidid to put him on trial on charges of killing UN peacekeepers in Soma-

"We're not asking for an change in past resolutions nor are we ruling anything out," said a White House spokesman. Mark Gearan

But he said that while Washington had not ruled out capturing the Somali faction leader, the focus of somali racuon leader, the rocus of policy would be on humanitanan aid and shaping a political solution. "The policy fundamentally is that we won't waive any rights to whether we would take Aidid or not," Mr. Gearan added.

He said the U.S. special envoy to the region, Robert B. Oakley, was working with other East African nations to negotiate a political set-tlement. But he said Mr. Oakley was not there to negotiate directly with General Aidid.

Mr. Gearan was asked to clarify U.S. policy after comments by U.S. officials on Sunday had created some confusion about Washington's intentions.

Several lawmakers have expressed confusion over President Bill Clinton's Somalia policy de-spite efforts by senior aides to exnlain it.

One problem is that U.S. troops in Somalia are operating under a mandate that orders the capture of General Aidid, but U.S. officials are negotiating with members of his faction under a new policy of pursuing a political, rather than military, solution.

Sam Nunn, the Georgia Democrat who heads the Senate Armed Services Committee, called the adninistration policy "fuzzy."

Madeline K. Albright, the U.S. representative to the United Nations, said Sunday that the United States wanted to keep up the pres-sure on General Aidid while pursu-ing a political settlement.

What we're trying to do is stimulate a political process." she said, adding that the United States needed to "keep pressure on those that are disrupting it." She said Wash-ington was "trying to make sure that those who had disrupted it are in some way made to bear responsibility for that."

"Negotiating with somebody while there's fighting going on is not out of the question," Defense Secretary Les Aspin said on Sun-(Reuters, AP) day.

heotiations in Ma Reconcession from in a lastituteressi sufuru

ulli Gumme

freuten Ent

. Notest 2.7 4

. . . . . .

1220.080

فجن جب

ه او ی

とい 現じ行き

Jase 🛉

1.00

11. 410.

وجر في ا

يقر ۾ .

aa aha faabh

مندمہ بوری نور <sup>سر</sup> دریا ہ

تحور د منبعات رو

3 5 3

و لوجر ہ

ى ئېسىنىيى ئەھتىيە دىد.

, 17 , 27 € 2 , 57 €

تبه ج ج

s and been

والعرب الجيسان

المعر والمعدية

. 15 - 2° - 3

1. 6 1. 18

وس ب

x. . .

- -

···· ···

- -

· · · · ·

1.00

The fa

11 - A

. . . .

NOW YOU CAN KNOW EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS. Introducing The New York Times's

ANNUAL REPORT DIRECTORY

A special bannered advertising feature appearing Sunday, November 7 and repeated Thursday, November 11

Want the inside scoop on the financial health of the corporate world? The New York Times offers an easy, new way to receive annual reports.

The New York Times's ANNUAL REPORT DIRECTORY is the first step in acquiring valuable information to help you make savvy investment decisions and expand your business knowledge. Look for this special guide in Sunday's Business section and in Thursday's Business Day.

thority will be democratic and plu-

Taba this week. agreements are stronger than the people who sign them," he replied.

WELLINGTON - Gary Ball 40, a New Zealand mountaineer who pioneered guided tours of Mount Everest, has died of altitude sickness on a Himalayan moun-tain, colleagnes said Monday. Mr. Ball and his longtime climbing partner, Rob Hall, earned inter-"Seven Summits" adventure when they climbed the highest peak on each of the seven continents in sev-en months. They had taken part in fure Evenet excertificants Wednesday.

five Everest expeditions. Mr. Ball had been on a private xpedition with Mr. Hall attemptBand," died Thursday in Britain of AIDS. He was born in Rocky Mount, North Carolina, He made his Broadway debut in 1951 in Catherine Collard, 46, a pianist who specialized in the works of Schumann, Brahms, Debussy and Haydn, died Sunday in Paris of cancer. She was the daughter of the bianist André Collard.

Jan Burn, 53, an Australian Conceptual artist, writer and unionist the worked and exhibited in the United States and-Europe in the 1970s with the Art and Language collective, was drowned Sept. 29 in Milton, Australia, while swimming.

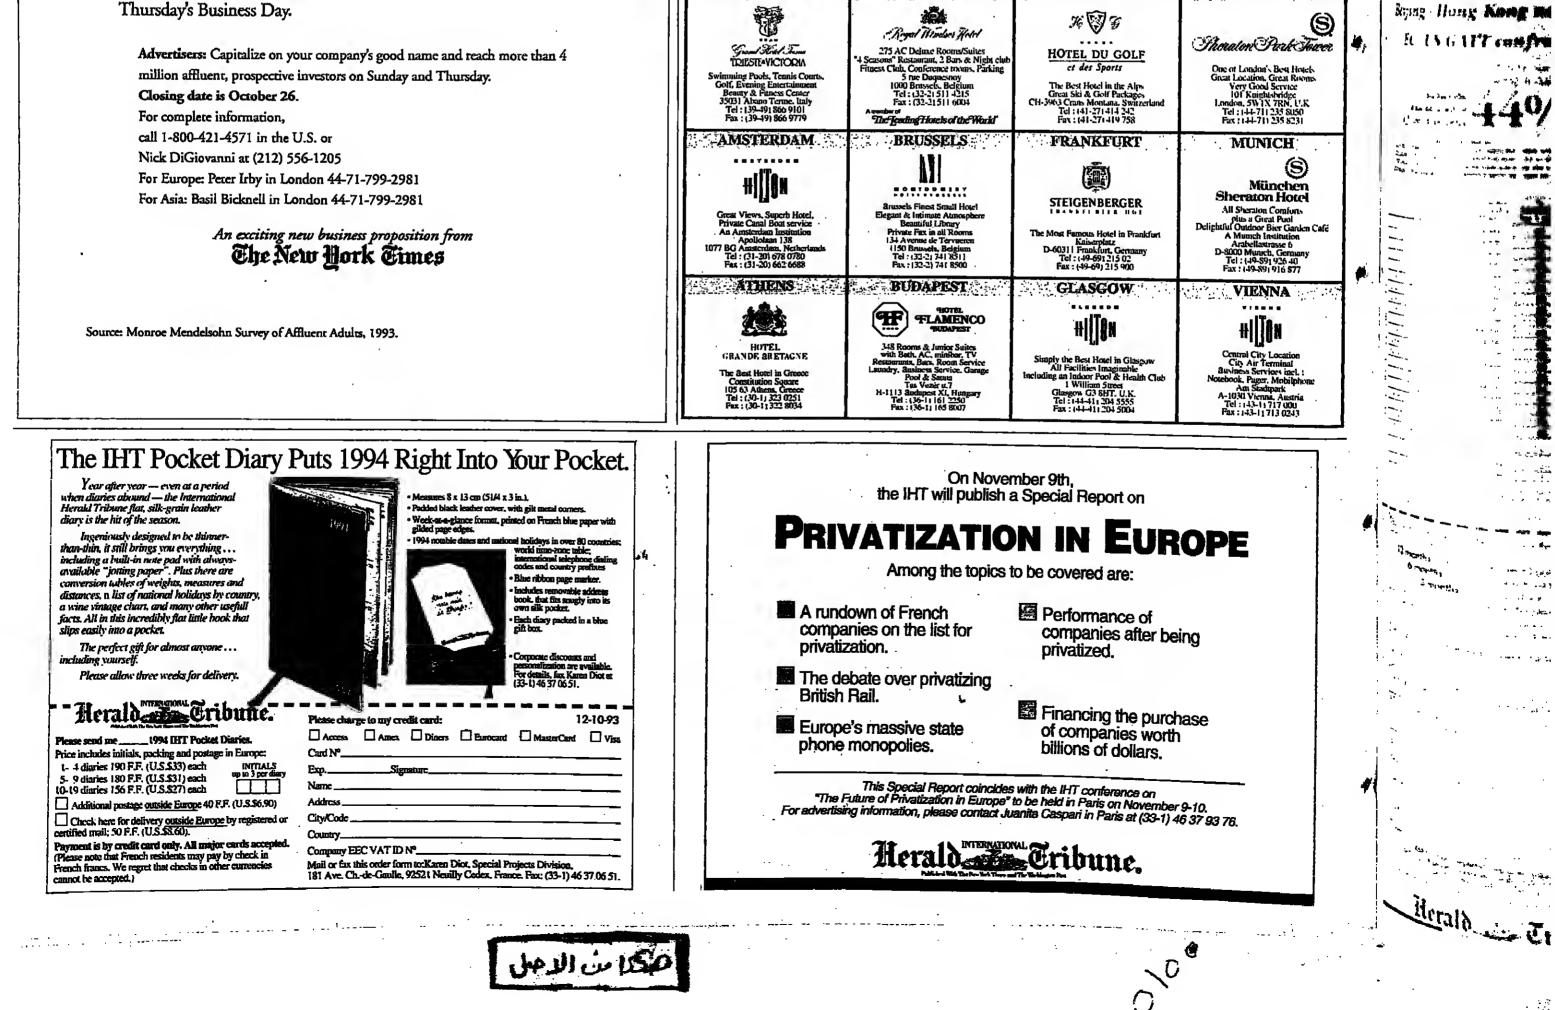

THE BEST OF EUROPEAN BUSINESS TRAVEL

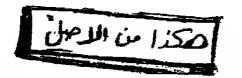

ABANO TERME BRUSSELS CRANS MONTANA

(27,000 feet), the world's seventh highest peak, 130 kilometers (80 miles) west of Katmandu. They had climbed to a camp at 7,350 meters Tuesday in preparation for a climb to the top the following day. That night Mr. Ball developed pulmonary edema, or high-altitude sickness, which results in a buildup of fluid on the lungs. He died Mr. Ball and Mr. Hall had led the way in recent years in developing guided tours to the top of Ever-(Reuters, AP) Kenneth Nelson, 63, an Ameri-

ing the ascent of Mount Dhaulagican actor who came to London ri, at more than 8,000 meters with the hit play "The Boys in the

d's -

on red tde left tan

(INC val

i as: nal

rld ?

: it -

11:2-

unt.

nd

hts

CT-

rn.

uel

ne.

.....

nd

CW

эđ

ri-gh d-

Haiti Gunmen Bar Haiti Gunmen Bar Midd U.S. Landing and Mit Rule Threaten Envoys

520

By Douglas Farah and Michael Tarr

120

Washington Post Service

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti -In the most brazen attempt yet to derail the return of Haiti's deposed president, a group of armed civilians, with the backing of the police and the army, blocked a shipload of American troops from landing Monday and threatened United States and United Nations officials.

A chanting, armed crowd of about 100 people, with open police support, gathered in front of the dock where the amphibious landing ship Harlan Couoty. carrying 193 U.S. troops and 25 Canadian soldiers, was to dock. Reportedly on police orders, small ships blocked the pier so the Harlan County could not get close enough to unload.

n P10

at 10

As tension mounted, the U.S. charge d'affaires, Vicki Huddleston, arrived on the scene at about 8:30 A.M. The crowd gathered around her vehicle and cars carrying other diplomats, refused to let them enter the dock area, shouted threats and banged oo the cars as policemen stood by.

Shots were fired in the air as the cars left, panicking passers-by and sending scores of people rushing to sbelier. Some busioesses were closed

A larger crowd of several bundred people carrying the red and black flag of the former Duvalier dictatorship set up barricades along some of the main streets and should that they would "burn all the foreigners.

"We're going to make a second Somalia here," some said. Several journalists were kicked and hit. [The Clinton administration demanded that the military authorities in Haiti explain wby the U.S. troops were not permitted to land, The Associated Press reported from Washington.

[Secretary of State Warren M, Christopher insisted that Haitian military and police authorities permit the landing of U.S. troops "on a missioo of peace" to the Caribbean country and warned that the United Nations might impose economic sanctions "if they do not meet their responsibilities to the ioternational community and to the people of Haiti."

A UN mission spokesman, Major Jim Hinnant of the U.S. Army, said later that the docking of the Harlan County "will oot take place he granted the military an amnesty until we have a permissive environ- for political crimes.

ment — that is, one that is safe for the men in the UN mission."] We are shocked by the attitude of the Haitian armed forces," said the UN special envoy. Dante Caputo, at a hastily arranged news conference after the diplomats abandoned the docks. The troops on the Harlan County are part of a 1,300-member UN military mission to train Haitian policemen and army troops as part of a UN-brokered deal to remove the military from power and restore the Reverend Jean-Bertrand Aris-tide to the presidency on Oct. 30. Father Aristide is Haiti's first democratically elected president. Neither the American troops who are to eventually number 600 - mostly engineers to rebuild roads and schools - nor the 567 police trainers arriving from Cana-da, France and other Frenchspeaking oations will carry any-thing but sidearms for personal protection The protesters, led by known supporters of the dictatorships of Jean-Claude and François Duvalier from 1957 to 1986, took over the state radio station and issued appeals for people to "come to the port now, so the foreigners can see we are oot just a small group of recalcitrants." They said they had reclaimed Haitian sovereignty. The incidents were the latest in an escalating string of violent events in which the military has stood by as armed groups operating with its permission have terrorized the population and attacked Arisoide allies, jeopardizing the scheduled return of the president.

The incidents also came as some members of the U.S. Congress, already wary of American involvement io the UN peacekeeping mission in Somalia, were stating their CODCETTI.

Father Aristide, who won 67 percent of the vote in 1990 and preached radical social reform, was overthrown by the military on Sept. 30, 1991. In response, the Organi-zation of American States and the. United Nations imposed a crippling embargo on Haiti. With oil supplies exhausted and the economy grinding to a halt, the army commander in chief, Lieutenant General Raoul Cedras, and Father Aristide signed a UN-bro-kered agreement July 3 that called for General Cedras to resign by mid-October and other lop military personnel to be reassigned.

Father Aristide is to return at the end of the month, and in exchange

· · · · · ·

TOUGH POSITIONS ON HONG KONG - Alastair Goodlad, the British minister of state for Hong Kong, reiterating Monday in the colony that the British-Chinese talks about extending voters' franchise cannot continue indefinitely. The negotiations resumed Monday in Beijing, with China threatening to scrap the Hong Kong legislature after the colony reverts to China in 1997.

3 Executives of Japan's Biggest Builder Indicted

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches

TOKYO - Prosecutors have indicted threesenior executives of Japan's largest construction company on charges of paying bribes to win public-works contracts, oews reports said Monday. Kyodo news agency said that the Tokyo District Prosecutor's Office had indicted the chairman of Shimizu Corp., Teruzo Yoshino, 75, and two board members, Hiroyuki

Koyama, 67, and Akikazu Matsumoto, 5 Also, a regional finance manager of Shimizu was taken to a hospital after apparently attempting to commit suicide in a Tokyo park oear the office of prosecutors who had been questioning him about bribery allegations, the police said Monday. Last month, Mr. Yoshino and other Shimizu ecutives were arrested on suspicion of having bribed a Ibaraki prefectural governor. Fujio Takeuchi, allegedly in the hope that Shimizu would be given favorable treatment io bids for construction projects Uotil his arrest, Mr. Yoshino also was chairman of the powerful Federatioo of Construction Contractors and leader of a campaign to stamp out bribery and bid-rigging in the building industry.

Shimizu has been under investigation over allegations that the company paid millions of yen to officials for help in winning contracts. Kyodo said the widening bribery scandal had led to the arrests of two prefectural governors, two big-city mayors and 21 officials of five eading Japanese constructioo companies since

China Leader Urges New Security Effort

Compiled by Our Staff From Disparches BELJING - China's president and Communist Party chief, Jiang Zemin, has called for new efforts to bolster state security, saying China's economic reforms and opening to influences from abroad merited

"special attention." Official reports of Mr. Jiang's weekend remarks, issued Monday

Two cases in point were the illegal news gathering alleged to have been committed by two Hong by the Xinhua press agency, did oot mention two recent cases in which reporters form Hong Kong Kong reporters One 1992 case particularly emhave been charged with espionag But the context of his remarks barrassing to Mr. Jiang was a Hong. Kong newspaper's poblication of a suggested that Mr. Jiang was adspeech he was to give a week later. The Hong Kong reporter who al-legetly bought the text was ex-pelled from China, but the Chinese dressing what many Communist leaders perceive as a breakdown of political security ushered in by more than a decade of widening journaliss who supplied it was sencontacts with the outside world, tenced to life imprisonment.

"Small oumbers of hostile (orces

They exploit the avenues of,

abroad have never ceased activities threatening China's security," the China's reform and opening up to-collect, pilfer and spy on our government, economic, technological editorial said.

and military secrets.'

"Government and party com-Another still-unfolding espionage case involves a Hong Kong reporter who is alleged to have obined Chinese state banking secrets through a central bank clerk. causing what Beijing called "seri-ous consequences" for China's evolving financial sector.

A five-day working conference of the State Security Ministry ended here Sunday. The feared ministry is modeled, after the Soviet KGB, and its agents infiltrate all levels of society But like other government agen-cies, it has caught China's fever to do business and slacked off on its (Reuters, AFP)

stability and security of the country," he said.

A front-page editorial in the par-ty flagship, People's Daily, drove home Mr. Jiang's message of a constant security threat posed by un-(Reuters, AP). identified overseas enemies.

Fly JAL and earn a free trip to Japan. (It's a beautiful place when you're not inside an office.)

	Negoti	ati	ons in	Moga	dish	L
	Reconciliation in Bosnia?
THE TRUE VEL	Constitutional reform in Russia
······································	Beijing -	Hot	ng Kon	ng neg	otiati	ons
· ·	EC - U	12.00		25.2. Sale	1
	ne Shouldn't y	ws w	hich affe	cts our w	orld. in the IH
	Subscribe and save up to off the cove		a straight of the state of the state		You ca your so at any t	RVICE a interrupt description
	ALISTINA: 0660 8155 BEQUM: 078 11 7538 FRANCE 05 437 437 GREMANY: 0130 848585		SWITZENLAN	0: 0300 2703 Di 155 57 57 C: 06 022 5158 N: 0800 89 5965		disculty be find when restant
`	and the second second second second	and the second second	oupon below.
	Country Currency		12 months + 2 months FREE	GRVINON Der 1 year	6 months + 1 month FREE	S months + 13 PREE Insciss
	Austria	A Sch B.Fr.	6,000	37 36	3,900	1,800
	Belgium Denmark	D.Kr	3,400	.33	1,900	1,050
	Finland	F.F.	2,400	40	1,300	700
	Germany	DM	700	. 32	385	210
	Greet Britain	5	210	25	115	68
	i Greuce	Dr Dr	290	22	125	68
	t taly	Line	500.000	49	275,000	150,008
	DIADOUTION	LFr.	14,000	40	7,700	4,200
	Netwinds	FL	2,300		1,900	1,050
		Est.	47,000	38	26,000	14,000
	Span	Pins	48,000	26	26,500	14,500
	E" hand detic Modind	Pina. S.K.	55.000 3,100	12	1,700	900
	Sweden (armeal)	S.Kr.	3,500	26	1,900	1,000
	Senizorland	8.Fr	610		$35	185
i i	Rest of Europe, N Aince, to Fronch Alricon, Makilo East	mer s	630		345	190
	Guil States, Asia, Contral en South America	ds	790	4	430	235
		5	900		485	270
	For information concer Germany at. 0130-84	aning has 85 85 or for all no	nd-delivery in n fax (068) 59.4 w (xtiers.	nation German di 8.94. Under Ger	ties call toll fre man regulation	e HIT ne, a 2-week
	 For Moded, hand-dok	very is an
	Yes, I want to start r (check oppropriate	DOXES.	•	his is the sub		m i prefer 12-10-93
		A icent	x in all with	52 bonus is	sues).
		- I L - 10	in an an in a	- 1.5 PX	92 R 159 FB
		lanad (	a an air an ta	ihe internólia	3 bonus issues). ational Herald Tribune).
TUROPE	Please charge n			press D Dia
N EUROPE	Credit card charges w	ill be m	ade in Frend	h francs of c	urrant exchi	ange roles.
	CARD ACCT. NO
	EXP. DATE FOR BUSINESS ORDERS,	SIGN PLEASE	INDICATE YO		8:
	(HT VAT number: FR747) 17 Mr Mrs Miss F	202112 AMILY N	2611 IAME
	FRST NAME CTY/CODE
	COUNTRY		E 41
	TELReturn you IHT, 187 Avenue Fox: 3	comple	eled coupon i proc Goude,	o: Subscriptio 92521 Neur	n Manager, y Codex, Fra	ncê.
	This offer appires Dec	3,1.46 mber 3	37 06 51 - Te }), 1993, and	es 33. 1.46 37   is grailable k	və ol new subscr	ibers only.
,	73		INTERNET	1.00	une.	-
	2111		الية من المن من من الية من المناجر من من

The magnificent Mount Fuji.

The graceful urches of the Kintar-kya Bridge near hoakum City.

Like many business travellers, your main sightseeing opportunity in Japan is probably the cab ride between the airport and your hotel.

With JAL Mileage Bank Europe all that could change. Because if you collect enough mileage credits, we'll fly you there free.

You could then explore this beautiful country in your own time, at your own pace. Once you've seen Japan, you'll probably want to experience as much of the rest of the East as you can. The good news is your trip includes free onward flights to other destinations in Asia, Australia and Hawaii.

And the benefits of JMBE don't end there. Clock up enough miles and you can also earn free European breaks. ticket upgrades and accommodation at selected hotels.

JMBE Mileage credits have previously been available on all normal fare First and Executive Class tickets. Now we've extended JMBE to Economy Class too.

As an added bonus, double mileage is now available from all JAL international gateways. This offer will run from the 1st of September to November 30th 1993, And it will be open to all passengers, even those travelling economy. For more detailed information call your nearest JAL Office.

A WORLD DF COMFORT

ion 071-408 (000 Frankfurt (069) 1360-125 Paris (1) 4435-5585 Copenhagen 33 11 33 00 Amsterdam (020) 626 8541 Zurich (01) 211 15 57 Geneva (022) 731-7160 (91) 542-00/0 Athens 3248211-9 Moscow 921-6648 or 921-6448 Vienne 535-5125 Brussels (02) 640 8580 Neirobi 220591,221737 Ceiro 5747289 Tehran 829086.9

OPINION

-----

Mexico's Warning on Trade

Into a Haitian Trap?

before the end of the year, the deal is off. Mexico and the United States have pledged to put the North American Free Trade Agreement into effect on Jan. 1. There is no reason for further delay. The people in Congress who want to postpone the vote are the ones who want to kill the whole agreement.

Page 6

APENA

President Bill Clinton has never favored delay. Two weeks ago, calling the agreement "a good deal for the United States," he wrote to the congressional leaders urging enactment promptly before the end of this year's session. Why President Salinas's firm and explicit public statement now? You can discern two purposes --- one addressed to American politicians, the other to Mexicans.

In Washington most of the loudest opposidon to NAFTA is coming from Democrats. Some of them, uneasy about opposing their own president on a major vote, are trying hard to float the idea that if they succeed in defeating the agreement, he can sit down later and work out a more favorable version. That is a fantasy. Mr. Salinas wants to ensure that nobody misunderstands the realities. The pre-

Last Thursday, 600 American soldiers were supposed to leave for Haid to help arrange the President Carlos Salinas de Gortari was absolutely right to tell the U.S. Congress on Thursdasy that if it fails to vote on NAFTA ation." If the United States refuses it, there said, that "only presents itself once in a gener-ation." If the United States refuses it, there won't be another chance for a long, long time. As for his Mexican audience --- 1994 is an election year there as well as in the United States - Mr. Salinas is already under attack from the nationalists for having given the Americans ton much. The deal offers more to American exporters than to Mexicans. The reason is that the border is, with minor exceptions, already open to goods moving northward. It is Mexico that is now in the process of opening long-closed markets. Mr. Salinas is not doing it to please Americans. He is doing it for Mexico, whose economy is already responding with strong growth and rising incomes. But he is in no mood to offer more concessions. Instead he is saying: Take it or leave it - but if you leave it, we'll give Japanese and European exporters and investors the benefits first offered you.

Any congressman who wants to refuse would be wise first to talk to this Democratic administration's economists. They will point out that increasing exports are now Americans' best hope for more and better jobs. - THE WASHINGTON POST.

agreed to a timetable for returning Father Aris-tide to power. The sanctions were lifted accord-

Somalia: Outlines of a Successful Mission

WASHINGTON - President Bill Clinton has taken a courageous and responsible decision on Somalia. Despite domestic considerations and congressional pressures, be did oot opt for the easy way out — bringing the U.S. troops bome and forgetting about Somalia. That would have been a shirking of U.S. responsibility and leadership,

It would also have sent a powerful message to the world that the United States could not care less about Africa. A precipitate withdrawal, before an alternative peacekeeping mechanism is put in place, would have condemned the Somali people, who have already suffered too much, to an unparalleled tragedy. At the same time, Mr. Clinton did not ensnare

the United States in the obdurate and vengeful course of manhunt and military showdown. Those who have been loadly advocating this ultimately meaningless strategy refuse to admit and correct their mistakes; they seem more concerned with their reputations than with the bundreds of lives being lost. In contrast, the U.S. administration has judiciously called for a change of direction and a fresh approach.

Good intendons, of course, are not enough, as has been amply demonstrated. The Somalia intervendon was a promising venture launched with goodwill and all-around support that has gone wrong. Although some now question the very idea of intervention, I believe that there was no other way to stop the tragedy that was unfolding there. What was wrong was not the interventioo but the shortsighted, arrogant and vindictive way it was handled by most UN officials.

As the international community seeks to res-cue the Somali intervention, it oeeds to learn the lessons of the recent past. What is oeeded, and what has been missing so far, are three things: clear goals, a functional diplomatic mechanism and flexibility. Without underestimating the dif-ficulties ahead, I believe that the following are essential for a successful mission in Somalia: Remember that the goal is to create a secure atmosphere for the Somali people, enabling them to tackle their problems and start reconstituting their society. This will require a reinforced U.S. armed presence for at least six more months. · Call off the counterproductive and costly manhunt for Mohammed Farrah Aidid. An impartial investigation should be held into the cir-landscapes of Western Europe and

East Asia. Io Western Europe, ecooomies are either io recessioo or mired in slow growth; millions of ecocomies are booming; people are economie threat to Europe. There

By Isaias Afwerki The writer is president of Eritrea.

cumstances leading up to the killing of the Pakistani peacekeeping soldiers on June 6 as well as the killing of civilians, including women and children. The military emphasis that has detailed the Somali intervention and turned the United Nations into a party to the conflict must change. An inordinate $1.5 billion has been spent on the military effort in Somalia as compared with $160 million for relief and rehabilitation. The United Nations' priorities must be reversed --- humani-

 The Somali people must be placed at the center of all security, humanitarian and political efforts. No outsider has the right to disregard the Somalis - in particular, to decide who can or cannot be part of future political arrangements. Hasty and misguided efforts to do so have had disastrous consequences. In March, Somalis of all factions thrashed out a remarkably comprehensive humanitarian, po-litical and security agreement with the help of officials from neighboring countries, especially President Meles Zenawi of Ethiopia. They must be helped to build on that initial achievement. The fact is that most UN officials involved in the Somali effort have compromised themselves and lost the confidence of the people. They have failed to understand the realities and suscept ities of Somalia. It will be difficult for the United Nations to play an effective role in the future.

The countries of East Africa, which have a stake in peace and stability in Somalia and which do enjoy the confidence of the Somalis, are oow in the best position to make a positive and tangible contribution. In its last summit meeting, in June in Cairo, the Organization of African Unity gave President Meles its mandate to lead Africa's effort in Somalia. It is imperative for the United States and the international community to also give the countries of the region a mandate to work for peace and reconciliation in Somalia.

We in the region are deeply aware that the responsibility we seek to shoulder is heavy. We recognize that our resources are limited. Yet we cannot stand by with folded arms as the situation in Somalia continues to deterioriate and its adverse effects on the region grow.

Io the past two years there have been some positive developments io the Horn of Africa. Peace has broken out in my country, Eritrea. now one of the safest countries anywhere. It has embarked on a democratic reconstitution of society with determination and much promise. Eritrea and Ethiopia, which were enemies locked in a bitter war for three decades, are now close allies and moving toward economie cooperation and integration.

الموجوران المراجع ويستردن والم

The countries of the region are determined to reinvigorate and expand their cooperative organization so that it can serve as an effective mechanism for addressing the region's problems. These countries have also expressed a readiness to help resolve the conflict in Sudan. Peace and stability in the region are indivisible. Without peace, neither development in individual countries oor regional cooperation is possible. At a time when the United States is looking for ways to make the international intervention in Somalia more effective, it should look to the countries of the region. They are determined to be on the front lines of the international effort to solve the problems of their region. It is a determination that deserves encouragement and support.

The Washington Post.

The World . In the Internet W Awaits His Attention

. . .

- ----

1.00

.

ومترج مع

747

1474

 $\{x_i\}_{i \in I}$

والمحرب

· · · · ;

 $[\mathbf{A}_{ij}]$

2.10

. . . .

**.....

ب في رو

. . . . .

. . . . . .

1967 (NY) 196

12118

142.00.000

 $\{ (x_i)_{i \in I} \in \mathcal{F}_i \}$

بعد بندور

____

2.62 .....

i series e

A. 1. 44

Ser.

1.80

1.00 8

14.00 mar 🐂

- avera Page

1.1 40 100

na 164 A

1. 11 Mar 1 1

خير و . . .

والمستعربين والم

· Arring

5. si

· · · · ·

1994 - 1929 - 1929 - 1929 - 1929 - 1929 - 1929 - 1929 - 1929 - 1929 - 1929 - 1929 - 1929 - 1929 - 1929 - 1929 -

. . . . . .

فترد الاستوت

2 H 1 H 4

1.1.1.1.1.1.46

1. 1. 1. 1. A. 44.

en Steller av ges

3 - A - A

an an Film

1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1

. . . .

· · · · ·

1.25

5.5%

··.

 $\mathcal{T} = \mathcal{S}_{\mathcal{T}}$

÷.,

,

·· ..

:

.

1.

· . .

1

1

. . . . . . . . . . . . .

1.12.2242

5.04

.... R.

- Miner

- N -

. ...

÷.,

· · · · ·

. ....

 $\sim 10^{-11}$

I(x)

1.1.2

12.82

.....

100

----

1.1.1

1.6.

V 1

210

1.1.1

· ..

. . . . ~

· 4

....

نغلين تربي

. ....

- .÷

- .--

- ----

.

....

By Anthony Lewis

B oston - The world has caught up with Bill Clinton. If you ever believed that as president he could keep his attention on domestic affairs, that illusion is gone. Russia. Somalia, Haiti, Bosnia - the list of foreign crises is growing, and they will not go away.

For two reasons foreign policy is a difficult area for this president. One lies in himself, the other in the nature of international problems today. "Somehow," The Economist wrote

Somenow, the fire is not in Mr. two weeks aga, "the fire is not in Mr. Clinton's belly when he speaks on foreign policy." Anyone who heard him on health care and on Somalia will understand. On health he was sure on his facts, confident, enthusiastic. On Somalia he seemed tentative, fuzzy, unconvincing. Of course Somalia is a complicated problem. But so is the issue of national health care; there Mr. Clinton may not have the perfect solution, but he is so informed and committed that he communicates his conviction.

In American democracy, foreign policy must have public support to be successful. And the nature of the problems in the world makes it much harder to get that support now than in recent decades.

For 40 years after World War II most Americans saw communism as a menacing danger to their security and freedom, and they supported pro-grams to oppose it. The Truman Doc-trine, the Marshall Plan, the North Atlantic Treaty, Korea, Berlin, even farfetched Grenada: Presidents could rally public support in the Manichaean framework of the Cold War.

Now there is no great enemy. lostead there are hrutal internal conflicts and humanitarian crises. To rally Americans for intervention in those matters is difficult. Indeed, fewer and fewer Americans have any interest in foreign affairs.

President George Bush, goaded by Prime Minister Morgaret Thatcher, managed to rouse support for war on Iraq. He exaggerated: Saddam Hussein was "worse than Hitler." But the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait was undisguised aggression, and the threat to Western oil supplies did present a risk to national security.

To intervene effectively in any conflict abroad a president must per-suade the public that the United States has a national security interest there. President Clinton did so in the Russian crisis and did it well. From the first, clearly and consistently, he called for support of President Boris Yeltsin as the best hope of building democracy and preventing a renewed threat to U.S. interests from Moscow.

Somalia is the opposite case. It presents no threat to American security. I favored the dispatch of American forces last year to prevent mass starvation, not foreseeing the larger political difficulties that have arisen. But Mr. Clinton's policy to deal with them, sending more troops while swearing to pull them all out by March, is muddled and unconvincing. What good is the United States #### transioon from military rule to the installaingly. But military leaders, especially the Portau-Prince police commander, Joseph Michel François, have openly defied the agreement. tion of President Jean-Bertrand Aristide. Their departure was delayed because a ner-For most of this century Haiti has been vous Penjagon wanted "clarification" of their mission. The objections, according to a State ruled by a corrupt, wealthy elite, holstered by Department spokesman, have either been ana brutal military clique with long paramilitary swered or overruled, and troops were sent on tentacles. Since the election of Father Aristide, U.S. policymakers have consistently untheir way, due to arrive in Port-au-Prince yesterday. That is a pity, because their misderestimated the resolve of this clique, and its willingness to resort in brutality. sion, in its present form, will oot work. The Americans are ostensibly going to Hai-ti to help "train" or "professionalize" Haiti's Chastened by Somalia, Americans might be litary. As the mission now stands, they will be lightly armed, if armed at all, and will not constitute a peacekeeping force. But the people they are supposed to be helping have no wish to be trained. They are the same thugs who denied Father Aristide the presidency that he won in the country's first democratic election, who expelled him from the country two years ago and who have terrorized Haiti ever since. Recently they brutally enforced a general strike meant to sabotage the transition to democratic rule. They have murdered one of the president's leading supporters, dragging him from a church service and shooting him in the street. They have made it clear to members of his government that if they show up at the office they may pay with their lives.

Last summer, with his country weakened by international economic sanctions, the leader of the Haitian junta, General Raoul Cedras,

Finally Paying the Price

For weeks, public attention in America had been focused on Katherine Ann Power, who joined the anti-Victnam War movement as a college student but went far beyond demonstrating to engage in violent crime. Ms. Power drove the getaway car in a 1970 bank robbery in which a police officer was killed, and had been a fugitive for 23 years before she turned herself in last mooth. It may be that she did not intend that an innocent man would die, but that happened. She then entered a peaceful and productive life in Oregon. She oow maintains that she was tormented by her guilt and was on the brink of a complete breakdown before deciding to step forward and accept responsibility. In fact, she was an accomplice to murder, and her crime destroyed more than one life. That case was powerfully made in a sentencing hearing last Wednesday by Clare Schroe-der, eldest of the nine children of Officer-Walter Schroeder, the murder victim. A police officer herself, she spoke of the consequences of her father's death for his then 41-year-old wife and her children, who ranged in age from 11 months to 17 years. She reminded the court of her father's beroism on the police force.

tempted simply to leave Haitians to sort out their own affairs. But, unlike the Somalis, the Haitians have already elected a government; they simply lack the muscle to bring it back home. And Haiti is close; its refugees end up S INGAPORE - There is a stark on U.S. shores, or drowning in nearby seas. Still. defenseless U.S. troops should not have been sent into this snake pit. America has better ways to show its resolve. The first is to reimpose the sanctions that were lifted last people are out of work, and the fu-ture lonks uncertain. In East Asia, summer, and ask fellow members of the United Nations to do likewise. Then the Clinton administratioo should reassess what it wants busy saving, investing, learning, producing and trading, and they to accomplish in Haiti, and how. As an island nation, Haiti is susceptible to look to the future with optimism. Does the rise of East Asia pose an naval blockade, an option that would stop short of massive military intervention but might help force the return of democracy. General Cedras has reneged oo his bargain. He and his cronies cannot be trusted with American lives. -THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Asians hope that Europe will eschew the selfdestructive path of protectionism, in whatever guise, and the And she spoke of what may be the most difficult fact for the family to absorb oow. politics of entry.

"Katherine Ann Power stands before you as a media celebrity," she said, and "the press and the public seem far more interested in the difficulties that [she] has inflicted upon herself are two schools of thought in the European Community.

l com

of France through unfair trade. Similar sentiments were echoed by Willy Claes, the deputy prime minister and foreign minister of Belgium who is also the current president of the European Council of Ministers. In an address to the European Parliament oo July 14, he said that the Community "sbould not become a victim of a oaive and unilat-eral free trade liberalism." The oewly iodustrializiog couotries "in Southeast Asia and elsewhere must be requested to respect minimal social and environmental oorms." The second school of thought, comprising Germany, Britain, the Netherlands and Denmark, views the growing economic competitiveness of East Asia as an opportunity. Io presenting a special study on Asia recently to the German cabinet, Klaus Kinkel, the foreign minister, observed that the economie dyna-mism of Asia was "breathtaking." He added: "We must not make the mistake of seeing Asia as an economie threat. We must see Asia as a challenge and an opportunity for ty of our companies to innovate." France, Belgium, Italy. Spain and Portugal, views East Asia as a com-At about the same time, Chancelpetitive threat. For example, in Feblor Helmut Kohl said that Germany ruary, President François Mitterwould expand its presence in Asia to rand said in a television interview increase economie ties, mutual inthat "competition from Southeast vestment and cooperation in hightechnology industries. Mr. Kohl had Asia, which, because of low prices and absence of social protection, sells everything and anything," had coocluded that Asia "could become the most important coatinent of the caused "a dramatie crisis in the Western industrial world." 21st century." He said an acove policy to enhance Edouard Balladur, the French Germany's relations with Asia would serve the country's basic political and prime minister, has criticized foreconomie interests. "As an exportdependent nation we must be involved io Asia's dynamic markets job involving protection or health. Still, the plight of losers in this dramatic job shift is genuinely heart-wrenching. Many do not have the skills or education to move to one of the care better into

From 1987 to 1991, about 5.6 million American workers were "dis-work force. When they were inter-

What is significant to critics of the Manufacturing is clearly impor-tant, but in the minds of NAFTA

crides - and particularly in Ross Perot's influential book "Save Your Joh, Save Our Country" - it acquires an almost holy aura. (Someone should remind Mr. Perot that he made his $2 billion fortune in the quintessential oonmanufacturing business: selling computer services to governments and large corporations.)

workers in the United States than there were in 1965, but they produce far more. During the 1980s, in constant-dollar terms, total manufactur-

Some lower-wage jobs have moved to foreign countries, but that shift has contributed to the productivity that bas kept American manufacturing alive and profitable. The profits get invested in expansion - or they fi-ing output rose by 35 percent.

There are fewer manufacturing od were in manufacturing.

the new, better jobs.

By Tommy Koh

European leaders find it convenient to look for a scapegoat instead of having the courage to tell their elec-guilty of the sin of ignorance. They division of labor an economic reality. This reality is good for world trade, and free trade benefits all nations. Some European leaders think that the success of East Asia stems from "different valoes," However, in a major study of the so-called "East Asian Miracle" that was released last month, the World Bank coocluded that it was not a miracle after all. East Asia had achieved high domestic investment and rapidly growing human capital were the principal engines of growth, and that high levels of domestie financial savings sustained high investment levels. Agriculture, while declining in relative importance, had also uodergone rapid growth and produc-uvity improvement. Finally, the World Bank observed, population growth rates in East Asia had declined more rapidly than in other parts of the developing world. f bope that Europe will not regard Asians' habit of saving and their thirst for education as evils incompatible with the European value system. Perhaps Europe can learn from the Asian ethos of high saving. Darsi นรานธาน cans do not know and hence do not monious living, reverence for learning and hard work, and striking the support the policy. But Mr. Clinton's worst failure in proper balance between individual rights and obligations to society. Predicting East Asia's future is risky. A lot could go wrong; the East Asian miracle could become a mirage. But the greater likelihood is that East Asian economies will continue on the path of bigh growth. They are likely to growth by "getting the basics right." The World Bank said that private uted it to "a condescending, racist attitude toward East Asia" that he said was commoo among Europe-ans, "It is a compound of ignorance, prejudice, fear and envy ... Too many Europeans still look oo Asians as strange little yellow aod brown people who may be cunning, even competent, but are not to be taken seriously. In their minds, Europe re-mains the only true civilization, the bub around which all else revolves." There is, however, another explanation. At a time of growing unemployment and economic recession, some torates the truth. Fortunately, they constitute a minority in Europe.

Some European leaders may be Getting the Basics Right: Asia's Lesson for Europe through trade and investments," In several of the EC member states, bashing Asia is an increasingly popular sport among politicians and labor leaders. Why? Robert Elegant, writing in the loternational Herald Tribune oo Sept. 14, attrib-

Other Comment

Light in the Somali Tunnel

A year ago, the world was horrified by the gruesome pictures of what appeared to be a dying nation. Today, it is horrified by invigorated Somalis killing each other and the young men and women who fed and oursed them back to health. One cotirely unintended result of the laudable operation to beat back famine has been n renewal of attempts to grab power." President Bill Clinton has now decided to apply some force to the situation. Some 2,000 American reinforcements are taking positions in Mogadishu in an effort to stop violence by a show of force. There is no doubt they will use their formidable power if challenge

z

Pessimists will see the situation in Somalia as yet another attempt by the United Nations to dictate to member nations. But Somalis have no say over their destiny at the moment.

CHARLES MITCHELMORE, Deputy Editors . CARL GEWIRTZ, Associate Editor ROBERT J. DONAHUE, Editor of the Editorial Pages
 ONATHAN GACE, Business and Finance Editor . RENÉ BONDY, Deputy Publisher . RICHARD H. MORGAN, Associate Publisher • JUANITA L CASPARI, International Adventising Director • ROBERT FARRÉ, Circulation Director, Europe

Directeur de la Publication : Richard D. Simmons

International Hended Tribune, 181 Avenue Charles de Gaulle, 92521 Neuilly-sur-Seine, France, Tel.: (1) 46.37.93.00. Fax: Circulation, 46.37.06.51; Adventising, 46.37.52.12. Editor for Asia: Michael Richardson, 5 Canterbury Rd, Singapore 0511. Tel. (05) 472-7768. Fax: (65) 274-2334 Mag. Dir. Asia, Rolf D. Kranepuhl, 50 Gloucester Ral, Hong Kong, Tel. 861-0616. Fax: 861-3073 Mag. Dir. U.K., Garry Thorne, 63 Long Acre, London WC2. Tel. (071) 836-4802. Fax: (071) 240-2254 Gen. Mgr. Germany: W. Lauterbach, Friedrichst: 15, 60323 Prantfamild. Tel. (059) 72.67 S5. Fax: (059) 72.73 10 PresLUS: Michael Convoy, 850 Third Axe, New York, NY. 10022. Tel. (212) 752-3890, Fax: (212) 755-8785 S.A. an capital de 1.200.000 F. RCS Nanterre B 732021126. Commission Paritaire No. 61337 © 1993, International Herold Tribune. All rights reserved. ISN: (1294-8052 Tel.; (1)46.37.93.00. Fax: Circulation, 46.37.06.51; Adventising, 46.37.52.12. N.

······

than in the very real and horrible suffering she inflicted upon my family." But if that were ever true, it no longer is, for Clare Schroeder's eloquent testimony put the emphasis where it belongs on the victims. Judge Robert Banks sentenced Ms. Power to eight to 12 years in a Massachusetts prison and 20 years' probation. This was certainly fair. He also directed that as a condition of ber probatioo she may oot carn any profit from books, movies and the like related to her crime. A constitutional challenge may be brought to test that prohibition, although Ms. Powers appears to have accepted it.

Americans of a certain age all have their eigners in Asia and elsewhere with different values for undermining own memories of the Vietnam era. Crimes like Ms. Power's, committed in the name of bringthe prosperity and social system iag peace to Southeast Asia, were not unheard of, but they were never justified. She is paying the price for that oow. - THE WASHINGTON POST.

- The Bangkok Post.

- Arab News (Jidda).

The UN troops may yet be able to restore

There is more than enough misunderstand-ing and anger on both sides of the conflict in Somalia. Unless action can be taken quickly to cap the spiral of violence, the UN operation in a large part of the country will be doomed. No one should doubt that the Americans want what is best for the unhappy people of Somalia. But they are allowing themselves to be maneu-vered into doing the worst. It is time to put away the big stick and start talking.

of light at the end of the tunnel.

WASHINGTON - Behind the bitter debate over whether NAFTA will cost American jobs lies a jobs revolution that already is raging across the country, helping many workers and burting others. NAFTA hope. But force must be used sparingly, if at is getting caught in the cross fire. In the past decade, the work force all. It is worthwhile to save Somalia. But it is not worthwhile destroying it in order to save it. Reports say the conflict may be moving toward a political solution. There is a glimmer has changed drastically. In the United States today there are far more accouotants and auditors than antoworkers, more social workers than metalworkers, more repairers of data processing equipment than min-ers and oil workers.

placed," meaning that they lost their jobs because their plant or company moved, shut down or reduced its with a sluggish economy, employment is up by 1 million.

viewed by the Labor Department in 1992, one-third of these displaced Judging from news media reports of layoffs and shutdowns, you would workers said they were still unem-ployed or had left the labor force; only 27 percent had full-time jobs that were the same as or better than the ones they had lost. North American Free Trade Agreement is that 35 percent of the displaced workers in the 1987-1991 peripations, including such categories as "hunters and trappers" (1,000, as of simply being replaced with bad. Take "hamburger flippers." That term denotes the dead-end jobs that are supposed to he sweeping the na-tion. In fact, from 1982 to 1991 employees in the category "short-order cooks" fell from 93,000 to 82,000, while "food counter, fountain and related occupations" rose by just 1 percent, from 326,000 to 329,000. Among the big gainers were electri-cal engineers (up 25 percent), air-

last two years East Asia has overtaken North America as the largest market for EC exports. They think of East Asia as a uniform collection of "low-wage" economics, forgetting that Japanese wages are as high as those in the West. Even in Singapore, wages for professionals are sufficiently high to attract Westerners to work bere oo local not expatriate, terms.

Wages in Indoocsia are substanually lower than in, say, France, but so is the output per worker. The differences in wage rates and productivity among nations are the economic facts which make the international which hire new workers.

In fact, manufacturing, like agriculture, is one of the great miracles of Today the figure is about 2 percent, but because of brains, machines and fertilizer that 2 percent feeds the na-tion and sells $39 billion in exports.

in manufacturing. We are just as sentimental about the vanishing produc-don line worker as we are about the vanished family farmer.

be joined by Vietnam and India. As the Asian economies expand, they will alford myriad opportunities for European business and iodustry. Not only are Asian economies expanding rapidly, they are deregulat-ing and opening up to the world.

Although intraregional trade and investment are growing explosively, Asians do oot seek to emulate Europeans in creating a regional ecocomic bloc. They prefer to live in a world nance pensions or go to shareholders. who pot them into oew ventures, that is increasingly borderless and governed by free trade.

They will abide by internationally accepted norms on labor rights and the protection of the environment. the U.S. economy, and for the same reason: its ability to produce more They are prepared to compete on a level playing field.

goods with fewer people. In 1900, more than one-third of American workers were employed on farms. Asians hope that Europe will es-chew the self-destructive path of protectionism, in whatever guise, and refrain from the politics of envy. Asia would like Europe to be its economic partner. It wants that partnership to be based on mutual Much the same thing is happening benefit. The question is: Can Europe discard its prejudices and accept Asia as an equal?

The writer is director of the Institute Sentimentality has its place, but not when it affects important public of Policy Studies in Singapore. He contributed this comment to the International Herald Tribune.

policy decisions - like a free trade agreement with Mexico and Canada that will lower tariff barriers and help the United States sell more goods. NAFTA has become the target of frustration and anger over lost manu-facturing jobs, but trade has played only a small role in the recent upheaval, as it played a small role in cutting the number of farmers. The "culprits" are technology and brainpower. Manufacturers, spurred by foreign and domestic competition, as well as by their shareholders' healthy lust for profits, have learned to make things more cheaply. That often means making things with fewer workers.

These changes are occurring, almost unnoticed, across the spectrum of American industry. Consider, to take a banal example, the gas station. The clever idea that drivers could pump their own gas allowed stations to cut back on employment. As a result, from 1982 to 1991 the oumber of garage and gas station workers fell by 29 percent, a loss of 86,000 jobs. Not even Ross Perot can blame those job losses on foreigners. How many Americans go to Mexico for gas? The writer, former publisher of the Atlantic Monthly, contributed this comment to The Washington Past.

foreign policy has been in Bosnia. The humanitarian interest is obvious when bundreds of thousands of people have been raped, murdered or driven from their homes because of their religion. But there is also a powerful security interest.

The greatest challenge that has emerged in the post-Cold War world is ethnic conflict. Freed from the constraiots of the superpower rivalry. ethnie groups in the Balkans and the former Soviet republies have turned on each other with terrifyiog savagery. What is happening threatens to destroy the European stability that is so essential to America.

Bosnia was the place to draw the line. It was the victim, like Kuwait, of open aggression. Serbs' ethnic cleansing was more Hitlerian than anything Saddam Hussein did. Senator Bob Dole was right when he told Mr. Clintoo last summer that in terms of national security interest America should get out of Somalia and get into Bosnia. Mr. Clinton could have stopped the aggression against Bosnia if be had acted forcefully sooo after taking office, making clear to Slobodan Mi losevic that we would bomb Serbian forces if they cootioued their sieges and massacres. Instead be deferred to appeasers in Britain and France. A president who wants to focus on domestic affairs must put foreign policy in a framework that Americans understand and that makes them feel secure. Mr. Clinton still has that job ahead of him. The New York Times.

IN OUR PAGES: 100, 75 AND 50 YEARS AGO

• .

00

1893: Rio Under Fire

NEW YORK - The Herald Correspondent at Montevideo telegraphs: Admiral de Mello has recommenced firing upoo Rio de Janeiro, which is in a state of panic. The fact that the bombardment contioues is thought here to be due either to a perfidious breach of promise oo the part of Admiral de Mello, or to the fact that President Peixoto has refused to dismantle his batteries and persisted io shelling the ships. Admiral de Mello has issued a manifesto to-day [Oct. 11], io which he declares that in case of success he will adhere rigidly to Republican institutions and forms of government."

1918: A Dejected Kaiser

AMSTERDAM --- It is announced that the Kaiser has coovoked for the end of the week in Berlin a conference of all the German sovereigns in order to come to a decision with regard to America's demand for the evacuation of the occupied territories. It is said that the Emperor is extremely dejected and that, io addi-tion to dealing with the question of the invaded regions, the situation of the Crown will be examined.

· .

1943: Tiny Subs Triumph

LONDON -- [From our New York editioo:] Midget British submarines slipped through a maze of mine fields in the tortuous Alten Fjord in northern Norway on Sept. 22, and torpedoed the mighty German battleship Turpitz, sister ship of the destroyed Bismarck, the British Admiralty announced tonight [Oct. 11]. The Admiralty communique set forth nn specific claim on damage inflicted in the attack, except to mention reasons for believing that the torpedoes of the little submarioes had found their mark. Aerial photographs taken seven days later, it was said, showed the Turpitz still lyiog at her anchorage, in the midst of an oil slick that had spread for two miles.

- --

and a second حكما من الدجل

Don't Discount the Good News on Jobs By James K. Glassman plane pilors (up 46 percent), college teachers (up 28 percent), a category called "writers, artists, entertainers and athletes (up 27 percent to a re-markable 2 million), and almost any Overall, the employment news is good. From 1982 to 1991, jobs in the United States increased by 16 mil-lion, or 16 percent. Even this year, hardly know it. The problem is that the net gain is oot spread evenly across the economy. While the num-ber of computer analysis and pro-grammers almost doubled from 1982 to 1991, sectors like textiles and logging suffered serious declines.

A single company — Wal-Mart Stores Inc. — now has 490,000 em-ployees, up from 64,000 in 1984, but the Big Three automakers employ just 436,000 production workers, down a third in a decade. Examine the Labor Department's almost absurdly detailed list of occu-

1991) and "elevator operators" (just 7,000 left). The winners vastly outoumber the losers. Good jobs are not

0 P I N I O N

I waits H Weary of Capitalist Risk? Dr. Do-Good Will See You Attention]

By William Safire

She is Dr. Mary Good, President Bill

-40

The Work

E. Malina L.

° . .`

1

111

'tipe

Clinton's undersecretary of commerce for technology, who has quietly been designated czar of the American automobile industry. The heads of her divisions - General Motors, Ford and Chrysler - are delighted with the government's friendly takeover. These newly middle managers no longer bear responsibility for research and development, can re-lax nboul antitrust, and can forget about the old competition among one another and from abroad. Fatigued by the stress of capitalist risk? Dr. Good will see you now. Corporate statism arrived in America last week in the back seat of a dream car. The White House announced "a historic new partnership aimed at strengthening U.S. competitiveness by developing technologies for n new generation of vehicles." Triple the fuel efficiency; ultracapacitors from despised "star wars" projects; stealth-technology windows; virtual design and prototyping from the Army Tank Command.

And here's the beauty part: It is free! "This project will not increase the gov-ernment's total spending on research." promises the White House. But somehow, as "government money will be

A Forum but Not a Poll

Regarding "A New Poll to Promote Democracy" (Opinion, Sept. 29) by Richard Morin;

poll" is designed to bring together a relatively small group of the British public to saturate them with information in order to test the effect of their being informed about the important political Opinion polisters around the world know that although the public is reasonably informed about the deeper values

they hold, such as their nttitudes to capital punishment, religion, family life and the like, they are routinely uninterested in the political issues of the day that so fascinate media pundits, political advisparticipants) to determine the "participation effect," as documented in the book "Political Communications: The General Election Campaign of 1979." It will be enormously difficult to re-ers and, of course, politicians.

issues of the day.

James Fishkin's "deliberative opinion

WASHINGTON - Who is the most spent on riskier, longer-term projects," powerful business executive in the the Washington-Detroit axle will "produce competitively priced, high-perfor-mance, low-pollution, safe vehicles. Do you believe that? The presumed guardians of free enterprise do. I called the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, whose president, Richard Lesher, called it "a step forward. It makes sense for the government to work with industry to advance the public good." At the National Association of Manufacturers, President Jerry Jasinowski called the plan "generally reasonable." What a marriage: the Washingtonknows-best set of liberal Democrats, going down the primrose path of industrial policy with a posterior-protecting hunch of corporate managers and busi-ness lobbyists who think they can get government money and management without government control. Mr. Clinton is making no secret of his Mr. Clinical is making no secret of his policy of half-free enterprise. Following the R&D takeover of the anto industry, he announced the taxpayer bailout of the shipbuilding industry, piling billions in new hability on today's economywide $6 trillion in loan guarantees. Then the 800-pound gorills groom gave its blushing corporate bride a wedding, present: an export-subidy wedding present: an export-subsidy policy to join - rather than continue to fight --- the nations that use tax money to prop up inefficient industry.

KNOW

SAY, WAY DON'T WE POOL OUR RESOURCES AND BUILD A CAR THE

DETROIT

TOGETHER !

Why is the power-to-the-center Det-Wash deal to monopolize R&D crowd in Washington able to get away with this radical restructuring of the American economy?

Because fat-cat managers and their nail-nibbling lobbyists love it. Who wants to risk failure, hostile takeover and accountability by the bottom line --when an eager government is ready to relieve you of the rigors of competition. Only entrepreneurs object, and those nonteam players are too busy creating new industries and jobs to join the hired managers at the public trough. Can you imagine a self-starter with a far-out invention going up against the Big Three Plus the Bigger One? The nates innovative ontsiders and makes a mockery of antitrust. Do you remember Synfuels, the cockamamic Carter-era solution to OST?

C. B.

high oil prices? The super-efficient government created a giant corpora-tion to produce oil out of rocks, with tion to produce oil ont of rocks, with big business's blessing. After a decade of taxpayer losses in the billions, Syn-fuels was quietly folded up because the free market brought down prices with no government help. Proponents of today's "partnership" cloak their takeover in the rhetoric of savings on research, promotion of exports, job creation, all those good

WILL IT HAVE

10

COFFEE POT?

things competent executives do better than bureaucrats. Ironically, America is aping Japan just when the terrible weakness of the protective Japanese system is becoming manifest. Who will save the free enterprise

HEY! WITH YOUR EXPERTISE.

HOW COULD WE FAIL?

RACK TO

system from Dr. Do-good? Commerce Secretary Ron Brown is paralyzed by fear of indictment: the department's top level is wandering nbout unconfirmed; and its bureaucracy is disconnected from policy. Fortunately, this is the outfit charged with leading America into Clintonism's brave new world. That is how God protects drunks and the free market.

The New York Times.

An Orphan Bears Witness, Pricking an Idealist's Myth

By Anna Quindlen

N EW YORK - The amart scholar-ship girl from a sheltered environ-give the money away after the bank ment whose self-image goes south in the polyglot and high-pressure world of col-lege is a staple of modern fiction and of life. I know her. I was her. And that is why i recognized Kather-ine Ann Power when she turned herself

it was possible in four years to go from

MEANWHILE

the valedictorian of a Catholic girls school to a campus radical who drove the getaway car in a 1970 bank robbery.

remember the self we were 23 years ago the drugs, even some of the rock 'n' roll. Good things grew in that environment: a healthy skepticism about foreign wars and government pronouncements, the erosion of nuthoritarianism in institu-

But in retrospect so much of it was facile flash, posturing as politics. One-time anti-war demonstrators acquired mortgages and slid quietty into neocon-servatism. Jane Fonda's name became synonymous with aerobic exercise. Jerry

Rubin went into networking and Bobby almost a parody of how the fire-in-the-belly '60s transmogrified into the home-and-bearth cocconing of the '90s. She taught cooking classes, brought polenta to potluck suppers, jogged. She came in from the cold after she went into therapy.

It was a classist movement, the campus anti-war movement, and it was clas-sist all over again as magazines and newspapers waxed poetic about the pain of Katherine Ann Power, surrendering

And then last week a woman stood up after n lifetime on the run.

Katherine Power's life on the lam was tions and in family life as well.

Seale into barbecue.

- the convictions, the ideals, the sex,

Some of us in our 40s have to strain to at college, her therapist has said, with n powerful yea to improve the world. Had she been born 10 years later, the valedictorian of Marycrest High School, in and was sent to jail, understood bow once transplanted to Brandeis, might have joined a cult, or become bulimic, or / tutored poor kids, or worked at a soup 4 kitchen. But hers were more incendiary times, and instead there was Walter Schroeder, his widow, nine children a without a father.

rohbery. She was confused and unhappy

Page 7

те. 193-е9-

3

the ith

o a l

al s ing ...

on.

red

ule

left."

tan

1750 tier val

t as.

nal

rld (

? it

na-Jnt

nd

hts

bra hy er-all

ial

m.

tal

uel

ne.

ng ng ics

-X-

ng Icu

#FS

nd

ng ed ad

ri-gh d-

Oh, do I recognize Katherine Power. She is the embodiment of the chasm between the '60s and the '90s, like some one with a multiple personality disorder. ... It is almost as though a different Kathy drove three ex-convicts and her roommate to the scene of the crime. The other personalities, the cook, the mother, the middle-aged woman, perhaps feel as if they scarcely know her, as we scarcely know our younger selves. But our sympathy has to be for the family of Walter Schroeder, dead these long, transformative, tumultuous years. His daughter remembered how she once saw a picture of him in the paper, giving n child cardiopulmonary resuscitation, and how, at her father's wake, a woman introduced herself as that child's mother.

I know the importance of that now — the child, the mother, the man. There are many things to contemplate in the odyssey of Katherine Power. But the most important is this: A man died; his wife was left alone; his children grew up without him. If the last 23 years have given us a sense of proportion, then surely we all understand that they are, the point of the story.

A Historic Success

E VERY STUDY of the aftertife of New Left activists shows that they are more socially concerned than their peers, and less prosperous. They are in-fluential in the media and the liberal wing of the Democratic Party. But their presence in the political system is basically negligible, even if one of them, a 1969.

come to mught. They cannot grant that ; the antiwar movement, for all its failings, saved the soul of America, As long, as Americans wrestle with questions of a authority and materialism and violence, and whether the world can be saved, the antiwar movement remains one of the most successful such democratic, movements in history. It saved lives, limbs and minds, it was a lousy revolution, but it was, on the whole, a remarkable buman triumph. -Todd Gitlin, a president of Students for n Democratic Society in the '60s and now n professor at the University of California, Berkeley, in The Washington Post.

Can you imagine trying to persuade " Unit), it has set up Operation EVE (Ecu most people to give up a weekend to be for Voyagers in Europe), which encourharangued by poblicians? Most would rather go to the dentist! The second problem is in the selection of the material. Every experienced pollster knows how easy it is to introduce bias by delivering information to respondents which gives only one side of the story. Most importantly, the panel's answers after exposure to the information will be totally unrepresentative of the British public's.

Mr. Fishkin's "new poll" would be better described as a "deliberative fo-rum." As a political scientist, I endorse and welcome it. But a "poll" it ain't. ROBERT M. WORCESTER.

Chairman, Market & Opinion Research International Ltd. London.

Mr. Fishkin claims that "nothing re-Blue Sky Over Europe motely like it has been tried since the days of ancient Athens." But the "Gramda 500." going back to 1974, did poll participants (and a cross section of non-

Regarding "Juggling Cards, Cash and Checks" (Leisure, Aug. 20):

Our nonprofil group, the Association Pour la Promotion de l'Ecu Auprès des ateurs, or PROMECU, was set up in 1990 to help travelers overcome the It will be enormously difficult to re-cruit a nationally representative panel. European currency nightmare. To pro-them. They were in the same boat. It will be enormously difficult to re-cruit a nationally representative panel.

BOOKS

WHAT THEY'RE READING

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ages shops, airlines and car rental agencies at international airports to publish prices, and accept payment, in Ecus, the future European single currency. EVE will not rid tourists of their currency travails overnight (if this is Tuesday it must be Belgian francs) but at least it would open a patch of blue sky among the currency clouds. JEAN-JACQUES SCHUL Luxembourg.

Caution for Mauritius

Regarding "Political Consensus Exists Despite Coalition Rivalries" (Special Re-port, Sept. 20): I would like to take issue with Gilbert Ahnee, editor of the newspaper Le Mauricien, cited in your excellent report on Mauritius, Mr. Ahnee said that "Creoles, unlike other communities, particularly the Hindus, are poorer and have no real education. They are the only people who did not choose to come to Mauritius," In fact, their circumstances were historically not moch different from those of the Indian slaves who replaced

ons. Mauritians would not have achieved the economic transformation of which they are so proud today, while their neighbor, the island of Reunion, continues to flounder under the French many - especially United Nations bodsystem. Mauritins, despite its recent boom, now needs to be cantious. If Mauritians continue to live in a fiction of prosperity without responsibility, they will have to cope with the same problems besetting Europe today.

Balkan civil war, it is striking that no account is taken of the extreme nationalism that exists in the Muslim and Croat camps. The perception that it is only extreme Serbian nationalism that threal-ens world political stability is Indicrous as well as dangerous.

i i

ies - tried to ignore. The infection festered and gradually became gangrenous. Now fundamentalist assassingtions are sweeping several Muslim countries, notably Egypt, Algeria and Turkey, carrying away intellectuals, writers, and journalists - all those considered by religious extremists as legitimate tar-gets: "apostates" or "heretics."

Yet the great majority of Muslims and non-Muslims do not accept that religious death sentences for "apostasy" or "heresy" become international norms.

ters should be brief and are subject to editing. We cannot be responsible for the return of unsolicited manuscripts.

· · · · · · ·

Letters intended for publication should be addressed "Letters to the Editor" and contain the writer's signature, name and full address. Let-

Katherine Power has inflicted upon her-self than in the very real and horrible suffering she inflicted upon my family," the sergeant said. Katherine Power's social conscience was not transitory; when she sold her interest in an Oregon restaurant, she

Katherine Ann Power attended, to deliver the bad news. Her name was Clare Schroeder, and her father, Walter, was the cop who was shot in the back during the bank robbery, the year Clare was 17. Sergeant Schroeder, now a police officer herself, had come to Katherine Power's sentencing to bear witness to the victim, the kind of working man who was as strange to campus activism as a wing-tip shoe, the kind once called a pig. "The press and the public seem far more interested in the difficulties that Geneva.

Sec. Com

DAVID LITTMAN.

in a courtroom in Boston and provided n reality check. The oldest child in n large Catholic family - I recognized her, too, I could almost see her in her uniform when they came to the school, a school probanot much different from the one draft evader, occupies the White House, Conservatives tend to crow or be-mean — we told you those kids would-now be facing had England not taken Mauritius from the French sugar bar-A Rushdie Syndrome Regarding "An Islamic Defense" [Let-ters, Oct. 6] from Salah Ezz: The Rushdie affair has become n syndrome, It began as an infection that

DAN CHELLUMBEN. Amboise, France,

Blame Enough for All Regarding "To Accept Greater Serbia Is to Fan the Blaze Ahead" (Opinion, Oct. 2) by Anthony Lewis:

Reading Mr. Lewis's opinion on the STANISHA OGNJANOVICH.

London.

non de la substance

THE CULTURE OF DIS-BELIEF: How American Law and Politics Trivialize Religious Devotion

By Stephen L. Carter. 328 pages. arbitrary and unimportant, a trend $25. Basic Books.

Reviewed by Michiko Kakutani

UST published a few weeks weeks ago, "The Culture of Disbelief." a study of religion in the United States by Yale law profes-sor Stephen L. Carter, has already become one of those books discussed at dinner parties by people who haven't read them.

Carter has been interviewed at length on "The MacNeil/Lehrer Newshour." his ideas have been debated by political columnists and his book even garnered a recommendation from President Clinton at a recent prayer breakfast.

The attention is well deserved. Though some of Carter's assertions are highly debatable, though some of his arguments are easily assail-able, "The Culture of Disbelief" is a provocative and thoughtful book about an important aspect of our national life that's all too often the subject of knee-jerk thinking and reaction.

Its central premise is that the lib-eral establishment has spent the last two decades — since 1973, when abortion erupted as n national issue

By Robert Byrne

S OME players conduct their games like psychological wres-tling. They try to direct the play into a channel that might expose the adversary's foibles. Take Polgar's encounter with the grandmas-ter Ian Rogers of Australia in Round 10 of the Interzonal Tournament in Biel, Switzerland, Nothing in her play seemed especially tailored to Rogers; rather, it seemed entirely suited to the situa-

Maybe Roger's choice of the sol-id, stodgy Caro-Kann Defense was aimed to deter Pogar from getting the open attacking position she loves. It did slow her down for a

Her choice of 7Be2, rather than the well-trodden 7 h4 h6 8 h5 Bh7 9

the well-frodden i he ho a to bur i Bd3 Bd3 IQ Qd3, put both players on their own in a quiet positional game. Obtaining the bishop-pair with 13 Ng6 hg was a long-term investment without any immediate concrete follow-up. The tactical idea in 16 c5 was that 16...bc 17 de Bc5? (17...Nc5? 18 Rd6! Qd6 19 Ba3 Qd2 20 Qc5

Qa2 21 Be4 yields Black a rook and two pawns for two minor pieces, hut the white forces are more active) 18 Bf6 gf 19 Rd7! Bf2 20 Rf2

Qd7 21 Nc4! wins for White. The tions that arose.

while.

with the Supreme Court ruling in Roe v. Wade — trying "to banish religion" from the political stage. "One sees a trend in our political and legal cultures," Carter writes, "toward treating religious beliefs as > supported by a rhetoric that im-plies that there is something wrong with religious devotion." "The Culture of Disbelief"

"The Culture of Disbeties" — grams on religious grounds and de-like the anthor's previous book, "Reflections of an Affirmative Action Baby" - employs many argoprograms.

ments usually associated with conservatives. But Carter says be writes as a liberal who wants liberal politics to reclaim the religious vocabulary (and respect for religion) that has been largely ceded to the

CHESS

He is "moderately pro-choice,"

right in recent years.

• Jörg Walter, Berlin Stock Ex-change chief executive, is reading "Felidae" by Akif Pirincci, a mystery told from the point of view of a cat. It was a best-seller when it appeared in Germany in 1989. I'm a mystery reader. I recognize my own cat in it." (Ann Brocklehurst, IAT)

he says, and he supports the ordi-nation of women in the Episcopal of the society believes is right" and "democracy needs its nose-thumb-Church. He opposes capital puners": It needs independent moral ishment and defends the ban on forces that will question and resist organized prayer in public schools. simple (and potentially tyrannical) On other issues, Carter points out, he takes "positions that libermajoritarian rule.

"A religion is, at its heart, a way of deaying the authority of the rest of the world," he writes. "It is a way of saying to fellow human beings and to the state those fellow hn-mans have erected, 'No, I will not accede to your will.'

This is a radically destabilizing proposition, central not only to the civil resistance of Martin Luther King Jr. and Mohandas Gandhi, but also to Operation Rescue, the activst anti-abortion group whose confrontational tactics are rejected by such moderate pro-life groups as the National Right to Life Committee." No doubt such comparisons will enrage partisans on both sides of the political spectrum, but Carter makes these arguments a center-piece of this book.

Such forcefully delivered arguments help shed new light on the contentious and highly polarized nbortion debate, and they also help put into historical perspective the religious rhetoric increasingly employed by the right wing.

Carter's complaint that religions outside "the mainline Protestant-Roman Catholic-Jewish troika" are treated with suspicion and con-tempt takes on added resonance in the aftermath of the recent conflagration over the Branch Davidians in Waco, Texas, and his succinct deconstruction of the historical relationship between church and state in America evinces both nimble legal scholarship and plain

He also believes the Ancient Order of Hibernians, the organization that sponsors New York City's St. Patrick's Day Parade, had every right, under the First Amendment,

ten thumbs its nose at what the rest

As Carter sees it, a religion "of-to exclude homosexuals this year.

als tend to reject." He defends broad parental rights to exempt children from educational pro-

40...Rd4 but ran into Polgar's anni-position aim was to give Black a vulnerable of pawn after 16...Bl4

The queenside bind that Polgar set up with 28 b4 was spring by Rogers's 31...a5 32 NaS Ba5 33 ha Rogers's 31....a5 32 Na5 Ba5 33 ha Qb3. Since an end game after 34 Qb3?! Rb3 would have yielded Black excellent piece play, Polgar smartly shifted to an attack on the opposite wing with 34 Qd2 Ra8 35 h4 Qa4 36 h5 gh (the attempt to blockade the king position with 36...f6 would have been foiled by 37 hg! fg 38 Rc6 Rc8 39 Qg51 Rc6 37 hg! fg 38 Re6 Re8 39 Qg51 Re6 40 Qf5 Rf6 41 Bd5 ed 42 Qd5 K/8 43 Qa8) 37 Bh5 Qa5 38 Qe2.

Against the threat of 39 Bf7! Kf7 40 Qe6 Kf8 41 Qf5, Rogers de-fended by 38...Qc7. After 39 Rd3 Ra4 40 Rh1!, the Australian could not capture with 40...Nd4 because 41 Qdi Qa7 42 Bf7! Kf7 43 Qh5 g6 (or 43___Kf8 44 Qh8 Kf7 45 Qc8) 44 Qh7 Kf8 45 Qg6 Qf7 46 Rh8 wins outright. He tried to scize the pawn with > hilating blow -41 Bg6! On 41...fg, there would have followed 42 Qe6 Q17 43 Qc8 Q18 44 Rh8. After 4)...Rd3 42 Bh7!, Polgar was all set for 42...K18 43 Bf5, which would have made it impossible to meet the simultaneous threats of 44 Rh8

CARO KÁNN DEPENSE

Barro Barro Cutabarro Barro Cutabarro Restauro R

of The New York Times.

A proved past, a promising futu

والمراجع والمراجع المرجع المحجية

Some Of The Most Powerful Moments On Television Are On CNN International

These days, some of the biggest international stories on CNN are just thirty seconds long. They belong to some very smart and very successful advertisers who came in search of the most influential audience on earth.

CNN International is the only news source on television that reaches the key decision makers of top global companies.

No matter in which corner of the globe they happen to be. And it has quickly become the most important news network of our time.

So join the leading companies of the world who have included CNN International in their strategic global planning. And make certain your advertising will be some of the most NTERNATIONAL powerful moments ever seen on television,

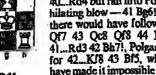

For more information in gailing advertising opportunities, please contact kay Delaney in New York City, at C212) 852-6656, Jack Hades in London, at +1-71-637-6758, Non Hashimure in Tokyo at 81-35-166-1561, or Lynne Kraselsky in Hong Kong at 852-862-7228

C 1945 Tanger Barnel Same Sales

17 cb Nb6.

mate and 44 Bd3. Rogers gave up.

is mentioned only in passing. Although Carter can be eloquent on our secular society's failure to appreciate the role that the mystical, the irrational and the spiritual play in human affairs, his fervor on this subject can lead to other contradic tions and oversimplifications.

Such occasional lapses in "The Culture of Disbelief" may irritate the reader; they should not, however, dissuade anyone from delving into this prickly, challenging book.

Michiko Kakutani is on the staff

On other matters, Carter is less crsuasive. His complaint that the hberal establishment treats religion as a "hobby" - something akin to 'building model airplanes,

"something quiet, something pri-vate, something trivial" -- comes across as n grossly overstated generalization. In fact, in his eagerness to con-demn liberals' disdain for religion, common sense.

he conveniently glosses over the fact that the two most recent Democratic presidents -- Jimmy Carter and Bill Clinton - are liberals and avowed Christians who regularly nttend church. The Reverend Jesse Jackson

Page 8

E

INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1993

EC Partners Wary of Athens

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches BRUSSELS - The victory of Andreas Papandreou and his Pan- of bankruptcy and mired in corruphellenic Socialist Movement in the Greek elections caused concern Monday among some European Community and NATO officials who feared that Athens could take a harder stance toward its partners.

Diplomats and officials said the return to power of Mr. Papan-dreou, who railed against the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the EC when he was in power during the 1980s, could mean trouble on a number of issues, including Yugoslavia.

Greece also takes over the 12nation EC's presidency for six months from Jan. 1, a position that will allow it to set the Community's asenda.

The Greek people decide what they think is right. But that said, it is once again an illustration of the fact that people have short memo-Macedonia. ries," said Foreign Minister Alain Juppe of France. a Gaullist.

spread through the Balkans, that worries both NATO and the Com-Mr. Juppe noted that Mr. Papandreou had left Greece on the verge munity, although diplomats in Athtion scandals four years ago when he lost power.

-÷0,

But Foreign Minister Javier Solana of Spain, a Socialist, said Mr. Papandreou's victory "should be a major support for Community ini-

"Looking at past experience, I'm not sure this will be particularly coherent or constructive, even though Mr. Papandreou has toned things down a hit since he's been in opposition," an EC diplomat, who asked not to be identified, said in Brussels. "The Greek Socialists have been extremely erratic and they don't enjoy a good reputation in either the Community or NATO. Athens is already locked in dispures with some of its Balkan neighbors, including Albania and the former Yugoslav republic of sponsored talks have not made much headway.

ens think Mr. Papandreou will work to find solutions. Relations with Turkey could also be a problem. The two countries have long been enemies although they are both North Atlantic Treaty Organization members. Diplo-mats said they did not think relations would improve as a result of the Socialist victory.

ter an abortive coup by Greek Cyp-riots seeking union with Greece Turkish Cypriots unilaterally de-clared independence in 1983, but only Turkey has recognized the breakaway state. United Nations-

With the prospect that war could

Rauf Denktash, the Turkish Cypriot leader, described Mr. Pa-pandreou Monday as a "potential-ly dangerous hawk whom the Turk-ish Cypriots should be wary of." Turkey invaded and occupied Cyprus's northern third in 1974 af-

(Reuters, AP)

Andreas Papandreou kissing his wife, Dimitra, to celebrate his return to power in Greece's elections.

GREECE: Papandreou's Options

Continued from Page 1 of its parliamentary edge, forced elections seven months ahead of schedule and split the onctime monolith of the Greek right.

By Monday, Mr. Samaras's party, whose nationalistic campaign turned on Greek xenophohia over Macedonia, had secured 4.6 percent of the vote and 10 parliamentary seats, all at the expense of his former boss at New Democracy.

Despite the clear and muchprophesied result, the campaign eft more questions than answers. Mr. Papandreou, a Harvard-educated economist and former U.S. citizen, has re-emerged in a changed world where his Cold War stock-in-trade no longer has cur-

First of all, there is his health, not good since 1988 heart surgery. "If the question is whether he hardeon day-to-day can run a hands-on, day-to-day government, the answer is proba-bly not," said a diplomat. The Greek leader's frailty is doubly important because Greece assumes ports of hrutal treatment of non-

Watch said Moscow's mayor. Yuri Luzhkov, was exploiting the state of emergency to enforce a city regu-lation, 10 months old, which re-

the rotating, six-month presidency of the European Community in # January, entailing a potentially grueling travel schedule that he may be loath to undertake.

Similarly, his health may well constrain him from a more flamboyant foreign policy — particular-ly in the nervous Balkans — as he concentrates on the more pressing problem of economic policy at home, the biggest question mark. As he acknowledged victory

Sunday night, Mr. Papandreou spoke of "difficult problems" inherited from Mr. Mitsotakis and promised "economic policies that will bring stability, development and social security.

What he has inherited though, is not so much a problem as an unpal-atable solution to Greece's chronic economic woes: an austerity program supposed to curb inflation, cut huge state deficits and begin selling off chunks of Greece's vast state sector to private enterprise. In essence, this is a reversal of everything Mr. Papandreou stood for in the 1980s.

That goes to the core of Mr. Papandreou's ditemma.

As his supporters careered through Athens into the small-hours Monday with horns blaring and banners flapping, the message they were sending was one of an-ricipation. Now that Mr. Milsotakis is gone, they were saving, let's ger back to the good old days when the money ran freely from the state coffers.

"He has an obligation to his vol-ers who want him to reverse privatization and the hold-down on public spending," said an economist, Sotirios Papasotiriou. "He has to give something." Specifically, Mr. Papandreou is under pressure to hike wages for the 670,000 government employees who, along with their families, make up a large part of his constituency.

quires nonresidents, including Rus-sian citizens from the North At the same time, Mr. Papan-dreou needs economic advance and Caucasus, to register with the po-lice within 24 hours. European support. His country is the poorest in the community, caughr psychologically and eco-nomically between the Balkans and the West. In any event, Greece's signature of the Treaty on European Union effectively contracts it to put its house in order if it wants to keep pace with its partners.

"Greece is so dependent on the European Community that I don't think Papandreou will be able to do anything like he did in the past.' said Mr. Papasotiriou.

There is another question, too, In May 1995, the Greek parliament is supposed to choose a new president to replace the 86-year-old conservative Constantine Karamanlis. Many Greeks believe Mr. Papandreou covers the largely ceremonial post to crown his political comeback.

But, under parliament's rules, he needs 180 votes out of 300 to secure the presidency, while New Democ-racy needs 120 to block his candidacy. And if parliament is unable to choose a president, new general elections must be held.

Neither party emerged from this election with such decisive figures so, although it seems a long way off, the presidential vote has already begun to tug postelection politics toward uncertainty and flux.

Hyundai continues its commitment to advanced technologies and innovations. In 1992, we introduced the next generation 64M DRAM chips, firmly establishing ourselves as a new force in electronics.

Hyundai's Pony, Sonata and Lantra have gained fame in the world's auto markets since 1986, setting the stage for the introduction of the HCD-2 sports car in 1993. This truly unique coupe-style sports car embodies Hyundai Motor's vision in performance and aesthetics.

Hyundai is also focusing its R&D endeavors on environmentally sound technologies. As a result, we've developed the magnetic levitation train free of noise and air

MOSCOW: Police Harassment

Continued from Page 1

Russians by the police. Moscow's organized crime groups are controlled by non-Russians, ir In one case, members of the OMON — the special rior squad is clear from reports that the police sweep under way now is not limited hurst into an apartment where refugees from the Central Asian counto people with criminal records. try of Tajikistan were staying, beat the occupants, and ransacked the "A terrible thing is happening in Moscow." said Dodojon Atoyun-oyev, editor of a Tajik opposition newspaper. "People who look like apartment. In another case, a group of Central Asians were attacked on the street, and given one day to they are from the Caucasus or Cenleave Moscow. tral Asia are being herded off to Rachel Denhar of Helsinki camps, and from there made to go Mr. Atoyunoyev said that he had been a witness as troops in armored vehicles Sunday surrounded a mar-ket near Metro Skhodninskoye, and dragged off traders from the Caucasus and Central Asia.

cow's farmers markets has dropped considerably in the last week, both

U.S. Group Defies Cuba Travel Ban

Return HAVANA — A group of 175 U.S. citizens is here at the start of a weeklong vacation with a differ-ence, risking jail sentences and fines by defying a U.S. ban on travel to Communist-ruled Cuba. The group, seeking to pressure U.S. authorities into lifting the ban, came on a chartered Cubana airlin-er from Cancin. Mexico. Sunday drive has reportedly resulted in the detention of 6,212 alleged criminals er from Cancun, Mexico, Sunday carrying banners proclaiming "Freedom to Travel" in English and the seizure of 2,203 firearms. More than 18,000 people, most of and Spanish. Two in the group unthem curfew violators, have been furled a large Cuban flag on the detained during the state of emertarmac and posed for photogra-phers with clenched fists raised. gency in Moscow, General Kulikov

The number of traders at Mos-"Our organization knows a lot of people who are refugees here who are not protected from police haconsiderably in the last week, both because of fear of police action and because of the tightened controls on people entering the city. During the last few days. Helsin-ki Watch, which had a long record of tracking rights violations in the Soviet era, has received several rerassment," she said, "The people whom this order affects had noth-ing to do with the uprising and the social disorders in Moscow. The mayor is exploiting the moment and appealing to some of the basest instincts of Muscovites, who fear that their city is being taken over by non-Russians.*

The news agency Itar-Tass ech-oed this in a statement Monday. Muscovites are mostly satisfied with the fact that the so-called 'Caucasian' traders who caused most discontent and who are wide-pollution, a revolution in mass transit systems of the future.

Hyundai's expertise in turn-key base engineering and construction projects to the South Pole.

worldwide has earned us more than US $24 billion in overseas contracts. Some of our projects have been completed even in the most difficult environmental conditions, from Siberia Hyundai, as a leader in the world's shipbuilding industry, has delivered over 530 vessels including some of the world's largest supertankers. The recently launched Moss-type LNG carrier is a result of our leading-edge technologies and innovative designs.

From chips to ships...

Hyundai. Making life better through quality and innovation.

ALITOMOBILES, ELECTRONICS, SHIPBUILDING, ENGINEERING AND CONSTRUCTION. MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT, PETROCHEMICALS, TRADING AND TRANSPORTATION. Find out how Hyunskii can help you: Hyundai Corporation K.P.O. Box 92, Seoul, Korea. Tel (82-2) 746-1873, Fax (82-2) 741-2341.

Pressed by a representative of the Armenian Emhassy, he devied Others carried boxes containing insulin they plan to donate to a chilthat police were targeting specific ethnic groups. "If the criminal is Dutch or American, if he violates the law, I make no distinction even drens' hospital. The trip was organized by a co-alition of groups opposed to travel restrictions by the U.S. government. The travelers could face 10-for people often described as 'peo-ple of Caucasian nationalities.' We do not intend to force anyone other than criminals from the city." year jail sentences and fines of up to $250,000 if they are prosecuted on their return to the United States.

The Peninsula Manila

has a business centre.

But everyone

BERLIN: Theme Park Plan

Continued from Page 1

movies. Visitors could apply to leave, but at the risk of harassment. Whether anyone would pay hard cash to relive such memories remains to be seen. East German nostalgia is certainly more camp than conviction.

A recent poll in the weekly news-paper Die Woche found that only 15 percent wanted the Communists hack in power. A substantial majority in another poll said their living standard had gone up under the # West's market economy.

For those inclined to glamorize the past, a researcher in Dresden announced last week that previously secret death statistics from the former Easi Germany showed that the country had the world's highest suicide rate.

A spokeswoman for the district Office of Property Claims north of Berlin says Mr. Georgi's proposal has drawn deep skepticism.

sions a clientele ranging from school classes looking for an educational experience to Japanese and American tourists, who he believes "will go wherever there's action."

He hopes to persuade skeptics like Mayor Alesius with promises of 200 jobs in an area where unemployment is nearly 50 percent.

uses the lobby.

THE PENINSULA MANILA

NHARF THE EXPERIENCE

insula Hong Kong - Manila - New York - Beverly Hills. the Palace Hotel Benjing - The Kowloon Hotel Hong Kong

FROM PARIS AND NICE ...

> to London, Aberdeen, Newcastle and Leeds

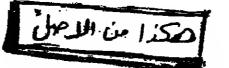

Best Service - Best Prices Best Train Service to London Center

Scheduled Airline See Yuur Travel Agent or Call (Paris): 44 56 18 08

"I really doubt that such a con-cept will be permitted." she said.

Undeterred, Mr. Georgi envi-

International Herald Tribune Tuesday, October 12, 1993 Page 9

Proministry of the

-40

197 - 197 - 197 - 197 - 197 - 197 - 197 - 197 - 197 - 197 - 197 - 197 - 197 - 197 - 197 - 197 - 197 - 197 - 197

Emperor Lagerfeld's New Clothes

By Suzy Menkes International Herahl Tribuna

ARIS - So what were they like, the Emperor's New Clothes? You got n. Karl Lagerfeld's collection Monday was based on nothing at all. Over the models' visibly naked bodies were pulled transparent body-stocking dresses - covered with a few hits and pieces. Oh, and they wore towering Marie Antoinette-goes-punk wigs. And spike heels. And one wohbly seam was drawn down the back of a leg where stockings used to be.

Lagerfeld called it a new way of dressing. He has been pulling off the same trick for several seasons: using leggings, bodysuits, while shirts or whatever as a canvas for his signature jackets. This time the show just dido't work, although those jackets were as excellent and inventive as ever - sliced with seams or made soft as cardigans and in graphic colors. They looked great if you averted your eyes from the peculiar things worn undemeath: deep hra tops, place-mai girdles, always with the see-through body-dress that Lagerfeld called a "visual filter."

PARIS FASHION

But anyone could see through it. Lagerfeld is to a hind about skirts, caught between his urge to follow the avant-garde designers with long and soft and his desire to please American buyers who want short and sassy. Instead of making up his mind, he left the buyers to sort it out in the showroom. Their answer, of course, will be pants.

Ducking a decision won't do at the Paris collections (which is maybe why Lagerfeld is making noises about moving his own-label show to New York). The show had some fine thiogs as well as the jackets: navy ribbed knits touched with white, and a few draped eveniog dresses. It also had some awkward prints and indeterminate apron dresses. The effect of the show, with its strips-of-ruhher appliques and aude veiling, was of falling by mistake on the soft-porn channel in a Düsseldorf botel. And almost as boring.

But there is no denying — as Christian Lacroix tries to — that the show's the thing. His collection was like experienciog virtual reality. Countries, cultures, centuries, colors, shapes and patterns whizzed by in a mad mirage - until the eyes ached and the mind whirled at trying to take it all in.

Here was a Chinese jacket, in tough khaki linen with molten satin pants; now the tomtom heat of an African-print tunic: a swallowdive into the 18th century for curving frock coats and hrief vests; a delicious whisk of a dress in Provençal-print chiffon: off again to Africa - a shantung safari jacket splattered with tribal motifs; a python print slithering across erepe pants; a flat 18th-century corset above lingerie skirt and lacy legs.

It all came out pell-mell, making the show

Christian Lacroix's embroidered ecru top over soft pajama punts.

follow. Yet Lacroix offers exquisite individual pieces from the safari jacket to long, skinny knit dresses that could have been developed as a clear story line.

Above all, there was the mix of the 18th century and the ethnic that is emerging as the new romantic style of the season. Lacroix did that as the frock coats and vests mixed with the python print and hy running the gamut of colors until the dust storm of browns from the earlier part of the show seemed to settle as a dull pating on the sweet pastels.

However indulgent an audience is to a designer who was sending out enough for two or three collections, the show was just divinc chaos. And at a time when the medium of the fashion show is the message, Lacroix has to learn to get bis across. Jean-Paul Gaultier's dazzling show was in poignant contrast. For here was another designer working on the same multi-ethnic themes, with similar shifts of time aod place yet making the collection sharp, witty and wearable. The hasis of his show was a curving coat that changed chameleon-like from a Neh-ru jacket to 18th-century frock coat, according to fahric tdusty-heige cotton with mother-ofpearl huttons) or color (powder pink and blue). Or it might come in denim, which Gaultier used with great imagination, even creating a recycled crinoline out of patches of old jeans.

too complex, too anecdotal, too irrational to in light fahries, with the clothes wrapping.

tying and even transforming shape on the runway. But Gaultier kept his identity, with his signature pinstripe tailoring softened to a -chiffon sarong skirt or twisted into a nomad's bag carried on a stick.

The ethaic themes brought rings piercing. noses and body parts, prinitive tattoos on, hody-stocking tops, and nohle heads heaped with silver, as gauzy hlack dresses were made to look like Tuareg costumes. No tribe was left " unplondered, with even Morocean caltan braid edging a tunic. And just when those ethnic themes seemed exhausted. Gaultier came up with Joan of Are: simple medieval clothes with hits of armor (including shoes) as: an ironic counterpoint. It was an exceptionalshow.

Kenzo, too, went around the fashion world Kenzo, too, went around the fashion world y in 80 outfits, hut what a banal travelogue it was, as the models changed from Indian ma-harajahs (that raj jacket againt to peasant dresses (mixes of prints) to gypsics (fringe and flounce) through Thousand-and-One-Nights of Orientalia. This was the first show from Kenzo since the house was taken over hy Bernard Arnault, who sat with his wife centerfront. Kenzo was once a fashion leader, but all that he had going for him in this commercial show was his vivid sense of color and pattern.

The most rarefied and luxurious Oriental harem walked down the runway as Emanuel Ungaro made a fine joh of softening his line. Following on the Oriental track of his dazzling couture line, he based his show on flowing cardigan jackets, tunics and pants -in shades of ecru and beige, with subile hlends of tevture. They were worn with ethnic jewelry and tiny fezzes.

At night, Ungaro made the mixture richer, with exotic velvet tunics and pants in glowing colors that might have been better more faded and dusty, But apart from a puff of hloomers for the Arahian-night finale, it was a controlled show, fluid, pretty, with enough new both to lure clients and not to frighten them away.

HE ready-to-wear lines of couture ; houses are the focus of the second Paris week. At Lanvin, chiffon drap-

ing the bosom and fluid pants with fitted jackets proved that Dominique Morlotti — who came from menswear — is getting the hang of women's clothes. His tailoring background was a bonus for sleek paneled jackets, curving to the body. Morlotti had relaxed, adding a touch of the ethnic in African prints and softening his lines as though working in Play-Doh instead of marhle. Molding a strong image for Lanvin is his next task.

Two ready-to-wear designers are about to join haute couture. Michel Klein, who will take over at Guy Laroche, showed in his own line that he is on the avant-garde track - hut is not its engine. His knits -elongated cardi-gans and shrunken sweaters - looked fresh. Jean-Charles de Castelbajac may be a smart choice for Courreges, for he has a pointer's boldness in silhouette and an cyc for graphie The collection was about modern layering color. They will both show coulure next sea-

Ĵ,

and the second secon

Robert Altman with Sonia Rykiel and model Christie Turlington at Rykiel's show.

The Players of Ready-to-Wear, by Altman

International Iteraid Tribune ARIS - So at last, it's official! Fashion: the movie. Rohert Altman climbed on the podium at Sonia Rykiel's show to announce that his decade-long project to make "Pret-a-Porter" will start rolling duriog the next collections in March.

· · · · ·

At the lobster-and-pasta party that he and Rykiel threw at the Crillon hotel, Altman outlined the plot and cast of this high fashion whodunit. Julia Roberts, a scalty junior reporter from Houston, is pitched into the Paris shows after her boss has a heart attack io Milan. She loses her luggage en route (and presumably isn't yet oo inti-mate enough terms with designers to borrow a wardrobe). There the drama starts.

Anouk Aimee, who was a star guest at the party, will play the Rykiel character: a woman design-cr who is the movie's thread. Others in the cast include Marcel Mastroianoi as a mysterious Mr. Big: Tracy Ullman; Linda Hunt and Lauren Bacall. Somewhere along the way is a state funeral for a very important person. This may not give much scope to costume designer Catherine Leterrier, who must already be up to her sewing ma-

TO OUR READERS

N

AUSTRIA It's neve

been easie

to subscribe andsove.

Just call toll-free:

0660-8155

or fac

06069-694894

Sigourney Weaver, who dropped by the party, was offered a role by Altman "if she happens to be in town." The fashioo crowd appar-ently plays itself. Or, as Altman put it, "anyone who is around next March will be in it." Take that to look. mean anyone who isn't knocked down to the crush to reach his camera. The script is being written by Altman and Barbara Shulgasser, arts critic of the San Francisco Ex-

They oeed a script? All Altman really needs to do is to point his camera and let it roll. This season he would have caught Cindy Crawford, who sat center front at Christian Lacroix's show playing fashion editor for MTV - and complaining that it was harder work than modeling on the ruoway. Supermo-del Naomi Campbell made an appearance at Thierry Mugler with her mother. And the ultimate fashion show photo opportunity comes up Wednesday, when Sharon Stone is slated to appear on Valentino's runway to appeal to the basic in-stincts of the world's photographers. With all the Altman brouhaha going on, it was to Sonia Rykiel's

NEW FALL WINTER

COLLECTION

Paris left bank

For orders

FAX: (1) 42 84 24 15

Big discounts on Summer

Marie-Martine

8, rue de Sèvres,

Paris 6th

This is prime time for Rykiel, from spagheti-thin straps — hut because knits are back in fashion favor. Her signature cardigans were even the smallest plate of pasta. developed as hig kimono shapes teamed with shrunken sweaters and baggy pants, using the contrast cose knit long dresses --- suspended

38 Million Travelers In 23 Cities Turn To WHERE Magazine For Directions & Advice

_____

.. .

control = and the second se second sec

5, rue La Boélie, 75008 Paria, Franca Telephone (1) 44 56 31 96 Fax (1) 42 66 49 11

The English - language magazine for affluent tourists

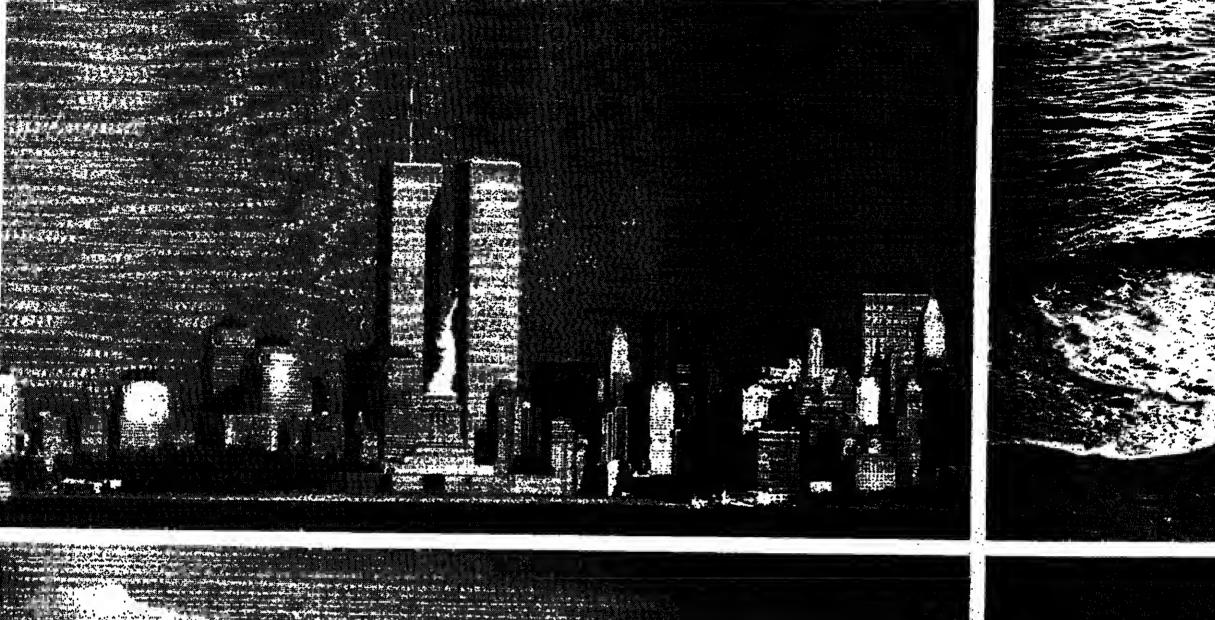

TO CALL ONE FOREIGN COUNTRY FROM ANOTHER. √Ber Bolini Brank - 0 Color Color + Cas + Gu AHO Hang + /I Sprint Express" makes it easy + ini +br to call a foreign country when + 100 1,350 you re already in one. Simply + Jap /10 ee Ka dial any of the access num-+ 10 Kuny +Lh bers listed here, and a Long Mexac (Mexa Sprint operator will + 14 + 182 complete your cull +Ne lie 0 Na to almost anywhere +Na Pana in the world. AOF ∕Pe You don't have to be a +Pr +Pr ~ P Sprint customer. You can use rour U.S. local calling card* nr Sprini's World Traveler FONCARD Soa +20 + 54 And you'll be billed on your regular o tu +9 phone bill. You can even make collect Ųnd calls to the U.S. Just think, no nore hotel - Lk + 1 surcharges or funching for the right curi i su i Ves reney: With Sprint Express, calling country to country is a sure thing. Bell, Indiana Bell, Michigan Bell, New Orgland Tokohone, New York Tokohone, Oh and Red Southern Boll, Southern New England Tokohone, Southernalism Boll Michigan

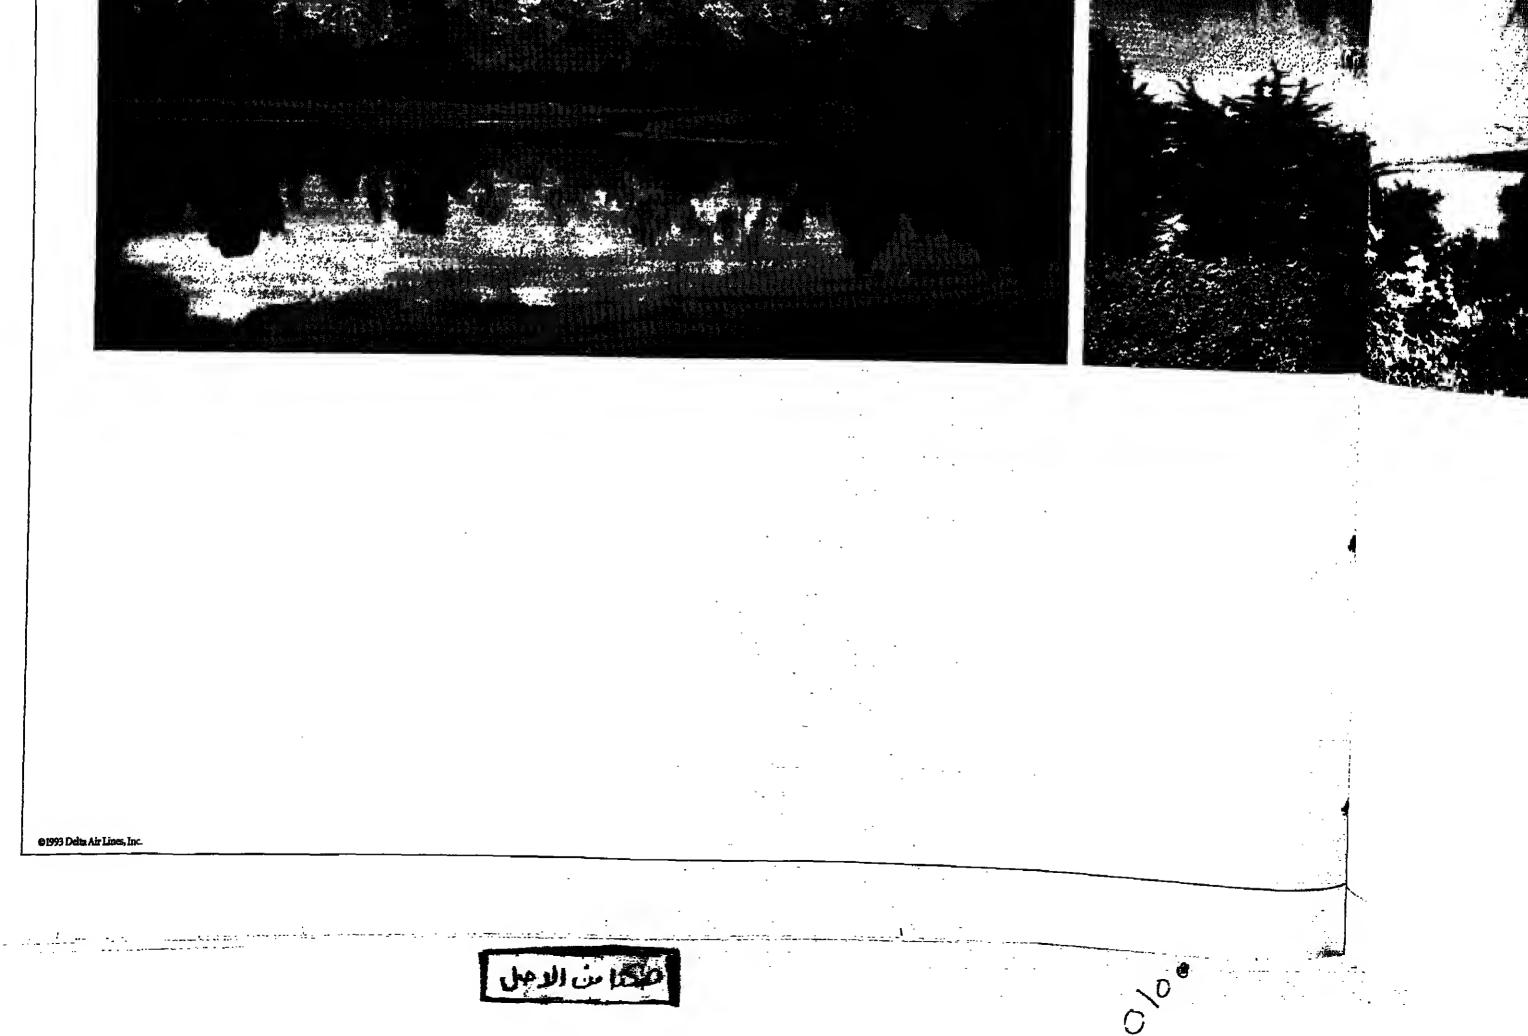

pilna	#U
land,	001-800 777-1711
d ria	022-963-614
naz Muta	1-808-389-21N 078-N-0094
	556
pay phones)	14
maxia.	1 800 673-0877
•	0500-3333
	000 8016 1-800-877-8000
sinda .	80+0317
dua-Englisti	968-13-2010
ins-Special	960-13-0110
ta Rica	163
nus	USU 901 01 6001-0677
atabili: gialena Bapabili:	1-800-751-7877
	171
Saturation	191
land	9800-1-0284
ince Icranaly	19+0087 0130-6013
eranay Ess	800-801-41
alemala	85
duras	001-800 1212000
Kong	800 1877
Kengary Kend	00 +800 · 01 · 877   · 808 - 55 - 2801
land. Act	177-102-2727
W.	172-1877
an	00 39 -131
an	0066+55-877
741 1721	0R00-12 009-16
	0039-13
et .	800 777
chtenstein	155-9777
nice Ch	8800-0115
uco Calyı	95-600-871-6000
RACO	19+0067 00+022-9119
illerintis (berlands Antiles	00-800-745111
1911	02-101
anges Anges	161
redij	050-12-877
ing.	ns en
Uragiany	008 12 809
ru .	190
itand	BERO 490-0115
nario Rico	1-200-677-6000
	01-800-0477
Ressia	6-035-155-0133
asia (Hoscow)	155-603
e Marino	172-1577 A-505-99-0091
Şauti Airea	11-800-99-0001 940-99-0013
n Neliza	400-39-0003
ndgaprismi	155-9777
ndad & Tonaça	23
stay	99800 1-4477
adad Arab Emirates	880-131
	0200-29-0077
-	1-800-877-8000
AZA
LSA LS. Virgin Islands	1-500-677-8000 000417
LSA LS. Virgin Islands Rugusiy	1-580-677-8000 000417 172-1877
LSA Lâ. Virgin Islands Rugilliy dican City raunin-English	000417
nd Rangalono 1.5.A 1.8. Vingin Islamits nagaziy disan City namin-English camin-English camin-Spanish	000417 172-1877

· --- ·

OneTicket.OneAirle

i

ł

France's Bull: No Raison d'Etre But Concerned for Jobs, State Can't Pull the Plug

By Jacques Neher International Recald Tribune PARIS - Overwheimed by competition in a global market where few are making money, France's multibillion-dollar effort to maintain a national computer industry is looking increasingly hopele As the French government ponders a giant cash transfusion for Groupe Bull, industry watchers say the state-owned company oo which successive governments have pinced their iodostrial bopes has little future, except as a social welfare entity for keeping its 30,000-plus workers off unemishing touches on a restructoring plan that Freneb press reports say calls for 9.2 billion francs ($1.64 billion) in oew capital. Industry analysis say the French will have a difficult time convincing the EC Commission that Bull: which makes small, medium and large systems, can turn around in an industry where all but the leanest, meanest and most product-focused companies can hold

Moreover. Bull's foreign mi nonty shareholders, loternational Business Machines Corp. of the United States and NEC Corp. of Japan, also hint that they may deliver a vote of no confidence in the French company. Sources at both companies, which are ensuaried in their own problems, say they will probably not invest more money in Bull. That means their stakes of 5.6 percent and 4.4 percept, respectively, would shrink while the state's holding of 70 percent grows with the new grant. France Télécom, the stateowned phone company, holds an additional 16 percent stake in

The governmeot's proposed cash injection is intended to elean up Bull's balance sheet, battered by 15 billion francs of losses between 1989 and 1992. In the first half of this year, Bull reported a loss of 2 billion francs, and o loss is expected for the full year.

Jane Doorly, senior compute systems analyst with Dataquest Europe, a computer market research consultancy, said a capital injection would oot solve Bull's cost problems if oot accompanied by a draconian plan to slim and Lean Years Earnings at Groupe Bull in billions of francs 1992 Sales by christon, 30.1 billion hancs * first half Hardware '89 '90 '91 '92 '93* 54% Sales 25% in billions of francs 19% Professional Services 5 software 89 90 91 92 93 · · · /

refocus the company. "It'll just 'from the coal-mining industry, has reportedly proposed a turnaround plan that offers incremen-Bernard Pache, who became tal change. It urges joint manu-See BULL, Page 13

Bell Atlantic Set To Buy 42% of Mexican Firm

NEW YORK - Bell Atlantic Corp. said Monday it agreed 10 buy 42 percent of Mexico's largest cellular telephone company for more than $1 billion, moving into the Mexican market ahead of the 1996 breakup of Teléfonos de Mexico's monopoly on long-distance service. Analysts said such a deal could belp Bell Atlanoc become a major

lar phone service is often of poor

fers opportunities similar to those spawned by the hreak-up of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. monopoly. Currently only about nine of every 100 Mexicans have telephones, compared with 57 out of every 100 people in the United States.

Page 11

lusacell is one of several entities owned by the Peralta family, which also owns Grupo Iusa, one of the largest iodustrial concerns in Mexiforce in Mexican cellular service because of the large potential for expansion in a market where reguco, with interests in construction, automotive equipment and financial services. (Reuters, UPI)

Compiled by the Statt From Despatches

NEW YORK - Paramouot

quality Initially, Bell Atlantic will acquire obout 23 percent of Grupo Iusacell SA de CV from the con-Paramount trolling Peralta family through the purchase of $520 million of oewly issued stock from the company. Weighs Offer An initial public offering of shares equal to about 10 percent of From QVC Iusacell's equity is also being contemplated, according to both companies,

Subject in other mutually agreed conditions, Bell Atlantic will ulumately buy an additional stake in Communications Inc., which anlusacell to bring its economic internounced an agreement in Septemest to about 42 percent. ber to merge with the cable operalusacell, the largest cellular protor Viacom Inc., said Monday in vider in Mexico, owns 100 percent had agreed to discuss a counterof and operates the cellulor license offer by QVC Network Inc., the for a region that includes Mexico City and has a populatioo of al-television shopping network. Paramount's board was under intensifying pressure from stock-holders to consider QVC's offer of Bell Atlantic said it expected the transaction 10 have a slightly orga-$9.5 billion, which exceeds Viative effect on its earnings per share com's offer by nearly $2 billioo, QVC last week said it lined up $3 billioo io fioancing from six banks But it said that io the longer to fuod its proposed takeover of Paramount. The financing brought term, the investment should increase the wireless contribution to QVC's war chest for the purchase Bell Atlantic's earnings growth by to $4 billion.

The move by QVC came just contribute at least 4 percent to Bell after Viacom announced it had agreed to a $1,2-billion investment from Nynex Corp. It has neverthe-less not altered its $7.8 billion bid probably moving to get a fonthold for Paramount, in Mexico and learn bow to do Regarding th Regarding the QVC overture. business there, given the great po-Paramount said its board has been tential following the August 1996 authorized to "evaluate various aslimit to the mooopoly on long-dis-tance service held by Telefonos de pects of its proposal, including any regulatory restraious, the value of QVC stock and the certainty and double the year-earlier $240.7 million, or 56 cents a share. Sales jumped 57 percent, to $2.24 billion from $1.43 billion. The company cited stroog demand for its 486 series processors and a strong start from its new Pentium processor, Per-share numbers reflect the com> pany's 2-for-1 stock split on May 6. Intel shares plunged $4.75, to $65.50 in heavy trading. That shaved more than $2 billion from the company's market value. "We are inundated with sell orders," said Raj Rajaratnam, an analyst with Needham & Co. "Anything less than $1.40 (a share) was seen as a disappointment.

With few telephones and grow- time frame of the transaction being ing disposable incomes, Mexico of consummated." (UPI, AFP)

Motorola's stock, following Intel's lower before its profit anoouncement, lost $2 a share to $98.50 Metorola, a high-technology cooglomerate based in, ductor companies. Shares of these

Intel reported profit of $584.4 Schaumburg, Illinois, said its total companies plunged last week after million, or $1.33 a share, more than revenue rose 30 percent in the quar- Advanced Micro Devices posted revenue rose 30 percent in the quar-ter, to $4.4 billion, while revenue from semicooductors gained 31 percent, to $1.5 billion.

shares were comments from the company that did oot signal very robust growth in the fourth quarter, traditionally the company's strongest period.

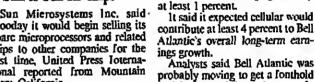

It is "possible" for fourth-quarter revenue to be higher than that in the latest quarter, Harold Hughes, chief financial officer, said in an conference call with analysts. He said the company expects gross margin in the fourth quarter in the "60 percent area." In the latest quarter, the company's gross mar-gin stood at 63 percent, down from 64 percent in the second quarter. Intel's third-quarter numbers follow a difficult week for semicon-

most 23 million. lower-that-expected third-quarter results, Also, AMD indicated it would be a "challenge" to meet Fueling the decline in Intel's third-quarter revenue levels in the for the first several years,

Sun Microsystems Inc. said Spare microprocessors and related chips to other companies for the first time, United Press International reported from Mountain View, California.

The move is seen as a way for Sun, the leader in computer workstations, to keep up with Intel's Pentium and the PowerPC chip pro-duced by the alliance of Apple Computer Inc., International Business Machines Corp. and Motorola.

fourth quarter. (AFX, Reuters, Bloomberg, UPI) Sun to Sell Its Chips Mooday it would begin selling its keep the wolf from the door a btile longer," she said. chairman of Bull last year after leading France's withdrawal

Intel's Profit Disappoints; Motorola Up

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches SANTA CLARA, California -Intel Corp. reported record third-Man, Prev, % close close change quarter sales, net profit and new 105.24 105.07 +0.18 orders on Monday, yet its shares 105.29 105.96 +0.31 plummeted as investors viewed the results as a disappointment. 81.17 90.64 +0.58 Intel's big competitor in the pro-

115.55 115.34 +0.18 duction of compoter chips, Motoroia loc., also reported a robust profit that doubled in the quarter, to $254 million. Motorola's profit statement came after the stock market closed. tional Hemid Tribune

Thinking Ahead

- Series and Opp

Give the Bank to Brussels

Germany's claim

THE TRIB INDEX:109.58 International Herald Tribune World Stock Index c, composed of 230 internationally investable stocks from 20 countries.

compiled by Bloomberg Business News. Jan. 1, 1992 = 100.

The index tracks U.S. dollar values of stocks in: Tokyo, New York

London, and Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Denmark

Finland, France, Germany, Hong Kong, Italy, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Singapore, Spain, Sweden and Switzerland, In the case of Tokyo, New York and London, the Index is composed of the 20 top issues in terms of market capitalization. In the remaining

Approx. weighting: 25% Approx. weighting: 40% Approx. weighting: 35% Close: 126.12 Prev.: 125.74 Close: 110.24 Prev.: 110.25 Close: 93.61 Prev.: 93.27

MJJASO

Rew Meterials

Miscellaneous

N. America

MJJASO

17 countries, the ten top stocks are tracked.

Asia/Pacific Europe

the Alexister

MJJASO

Industrial Sectors

Utilities 118.02 117.86 +0.14

Services 118.84 119.25 -0.34

World Index

close close chang

Energy 109.66 t09.87 -0.18 Capital Goods

For readers desiring more information about the Intern

Finance 119.37 119.01 +0.30 Consumer Goods

Index, a booklet is available free of charge by writing to Trib Index, 181 Avenue Charles de Gaulle, 92521 Neußly Cedex, France,

By Reginald Dale al Herald Tribune TASHINGTON - The European

no other major EC institution; Germany is the Community's dominant economic and financial power and the guarantor of its monetary stability; and the German people will not agree to economic ployment. The government is putting fin-up in a merciless competitive environment.

Community is about to stage a major display of political immaturity, con-firming that it is far easier to make picus commitments to a European union than it is to construct one in practice.

At a summit meeting in Brussels at the end of this month. Germany is virtually certain to be given custody of the oew European Monetary Institute, due to be set up next year as an embryonic European Central Bank.

The betting is that the monetary institute will go to Frankfurt, although there is still some outside money on Bonn, on the off-chance that the other countries in the end balk at putting the nerve center of their future federal reserve system in the Bundesbank's back pocket. What the EC members should do is refuse to give it to Germany at all.

Germany's elaim to the prize is based on pure oational self-interest and flouts all the principles on which the Community is meant to be based, and to which Germany says it subscribes.

principles. There is only one place where the European Ceotral Bank should be, and that is the Community's fledgling federal capital - Brussels. It is a oneasure of the EC countries' greed and short-sightedness that nobody has even thought to propose Brussels as the site for the European Monetary lostitute. There has been no debate on the political or the constitutional implications of the future central bank's location. Instead, the EC countries continue to haggle over the sites of oew institu-tions as if they were perks from the pork barrel.

Alongside the monetary institute, a whole grabbag of new European bodies will be on the summit tohle — including plums like an eovironmental institute, a patent office and a new police organiza-tion. The spoils will be shared out in the kind of crude borse-trading that put the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development in London, the wrong place, and gave it Jacques Attali, the wrong man, as its first president.

Here is why the Germans say they are entitled to the European Monetary Institute: Germany has and monetary union unless they have their own hands on the controls.

They are all rotten reasons. If the lack of a big EC institution is a proper consideration, the monetary institute should go to Spain or Portugal, which occd the jobs more.

If countries are entitled to house the policy-setting institutions in areas they dominate, then the headquarters of the Common Agricultural Policy should be deep in rural France.

And if a oatioo's public opinion will support a major EC objective only if it can keep control over it, we can say goodbye to the whole idea of a politically integrated Europe --- of which Germany one of the stoutest advocates,

One of the fundamental principles of the Com-munity is that the rights of smaller countries indeed of all countries --- should be guaranteed against domination by one or more of the bigto the new Monetary ger powers. That is what checks and bal-ances are about. That is why cen-Institute flouts EC

tral institutions are essential in a union, preferably in as neutral a place as possible. That is why the capital of the United States is not New York. If Germany and the others are serious about European union, they should be building up their ford particular prival particular prival particular prival particular prival particular prival particular prival particular particilar particular particu federal capital, oot creating rival national power centers. Ideally, they should declare the whole of Brussels a federal district and put all their institubrussets a rederal district and put all their institu-tions there, including the European Parliament. That would, incidentally, help the Belgians solve their perennial language dispute by taking one of the most difficult issues — the future of Brussels — out of the equation. Realistically, of course, none of that will happen. So the European Monetary Insolute should go to Amsterdam, which has put in a strong counterbid to Frankfurt. The Dutch are just as good with money as the Germans and have a healthy historic distaste for domination by their neighbors. They are the most Community-minded of nations, and they have the experience. Amsterdam was the financial center of Europe long before Frankfurt entered the running.

ross R	ates					D.FI	8.5.	S.F.	Yes	6	Pescia	Euroc	urrenc	y Dej
	5 1.005	2763	D.M. 1128	F.F.	1,1138 *		51715*		1446	1257	1322*		Deltar	D-Mar
nsterdam mets		5.05	71.74	6.1705	21447 -			2(4)5		1203	31.79	7 month	3 %-3 %	64.67
oskiwni	1,4013	2.46	_	2.25	0.1012 *		4. 991 * 51.3775	2154	142.73	2007	199.82	3 months	34-34	674-64
adon (a)	1.5307		24553	8,6239	242116	27147	1739	12.50	122.764	_		6 months	314-336	6 446
white		199.9T)	1.365	21168	1.225 *	8765		1.172.20		1.191.38	12.1%	•
lon		1014	489 48	20.5	1919	1304	34.50	1404	106.201	13301	134.59	1 year	3 / 3 / 4	578-6
w Yerk (b) ris	5.623	1.5150 14275	1,605	54335 	4.355 *		2.WM	39965	5292	4,222	436*		Reuters, Lik Nooble to h
170						Clesed
-19639	1408	21579	0.0797	6254	F9864 .	0.7 908	4.8376 *		1.321		1.0798	Kay N	loney I	tatas
-ich	-	0 774	1.9138	6.67%	1.881.53	21415	A.329	1414	126,118	1.574	151.449	well m	oney i	-arat
eu	1 1829 1.4163	. 071	1 10	8.6075	2264.59	2550	47.55	2,0197	0.5	1,000	15.91	United St	utes
OR Igsings in J	LAIGS	Budi.				4 7.uric	n. fixin	as in a	ther ce	viers.		Discouti (	ate asings in i	Amstera	ians Li	ndon,	NOW T			af 100	NO	nat aua	ded: N	A.: not	Prime role
To buy a	ne poum	g b.	Γο Βυν	one do	unor ( - 7		01 1001	19. 0 14				Federal fa	ads
Hobie									•			3-sconth C per 146 day reasory bill
ther D	حولاء	Val	288									1-year Tre 2-year Tre
mer P						Current	~	Pers	Curre	ACY	Pir S	S-year Tre
TTERCY	Per $		TERCY			N. Zeol		14		r. won	60.110	7-year Tra
pesst. pess	0,9901		ig Kong			Norw. k		.0125		itron#	7.9357		NALIEY DOLD	, .
strail S	1.5194		sp. terin			Phil pe		21.95	Take	tan 5	26.85	30-year Tri	ADDITY DOING	1
str. 6Ctull	1).26		çan rivibi			Polisk 1		7882	The	habi	25.27	Merrill Ly	nch 34-day 1	Ready as
1211 CF82.	132.07	inis Iris	a, rupia			Port. es		65.50	Tork	ah liru	124-0.	Jopan	•
dese yuqn			a : Mi she			Russ. 17	oble 11	95.00	UAE	dinterr		Discoult n	-
nish krono			reiti dis	-		Soudi ri		17300	Vena	, bolly,	98.70	Call money
ypi, pound	3,3405		1997. Câng			Sing. S	· 1	2685				1-month in	ler Dank
- morkiet	5.7013		517. CHIN 5. #C30			5. AN. I	uni: 1	.4465				3-month In
ek droc.	231.94		C 9630	-					•			é-menth în
ware	l Rat	66				Currices			il-day	10.100	98-00Y	10-year Ge Germany	verminest i	iono .
Tency	-	e-day	68- 6 07				., sn delife		1.2317	1,2335		Lamberd r
ind Sterilin		1.5.27	1.5294			hought			106.01	106.07	106.19	Call 2009
rische mit		1_607a	1,6125			ي الزمي م						L-month in as franc		1,4705	1412				-		~	ا عامامه	iniloaa	3-mooth in ss iranc urces: IM Ianj; Age								107. K	layor Bo	mk of i	anoda	f-month in	terbenk tan); Age romta); IN	nce #10	NCE (*7	e dalla i	rom R	outers (	nd AP						10-year Su	· ·
rome); in	- 130A	C David					· ·						. 2

Italian Aide Withdraws

Resignation

ROME - Iodustry Minister Paolo Savona withdrew on Monday his weekend resignation, taking the sting out on a dispute with Prime Minister Carlo Azeglio Ciampi over plans to privatize state companies. The prime minister's spokesman said Mr. Savona telephoned Mr. Ciampi to say he was satisified with the contents of a letter Mr. Ciampi had sent urging him to reconsider. The minister quit oo Sunday after Mr. Ciampi implicitly rejected his theories on how to privatize Italy's debt-laden state companies.

Mr. Savona's resignation came over an issue many analysis regard as crucial to the progress of reform in Italy.

Mr. Savona had said he wanted to keep power in newly privatized companies within a small core of select lovestors, arguing this would provide the continuity and stability the concerns needed during their early days on the open market. Opposeots of this so-called hard-core theory believe it would allow the families and groups that domicate the economy — such as the Agnetis of Fiat SpA and the merchant bank Mediobanca — to retain their grip on power. Among Mr. Savona's critics has been Romano Prodi, head of the huge Istituto per la Ricostruzione triale state holding company.

Yen

2 ... 2 ...

French

59-5 7 7 7

Sterling

Oct. 11

ECU

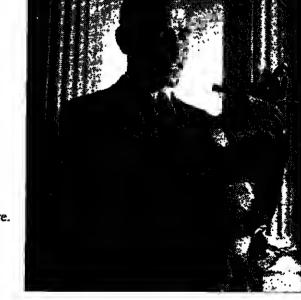

746-744

orento, one of the largest bond funds in the world, confidently expects the decline in interest rates (particularly in Europe) to continue. As a result, bond prices will rise. In short, international bonds are far more attractive than short-term deposits and we expect them to remain so.

Rorento is a Robeco Group investment company which invests internationally in bonds and it aims to maximise investment results from interest income, changes in bond prices and currency movements. Income is reinvested to become part of the assets, so it's fiscally attractive.

Over the past ten years, Rorento has achieved an annual average return in US dollars of 13.6%. So if you had invested $10,000 in June 1983, today it would be $35,920.

Why be concerned with falling interest rates, when with Rorento you can profit from them?

This underlines the validity of the Group's long-term, low risk investment philosophy.

For over 60 years, the Robeco Group has given investors the flexibility to profit from the world's bond, equity, property and monetary markets. To take advantage of growth and performance, wherever it is strongest. Little wonder that assets under management currently are more than US$ 25 billion.

A Personal Investment Account with the Robeco Bank in Switzerland gives you access to this wealth of investment expertise and to a reliable, confidential personal service. Now is the time to open one.

To invest in Rorento in particular, or for more information on managed investments from Robeco Bank, fill in the coupon. Or call us in Geneva on (41) 22-939 0139, or fax us on (41) 22-341 1392; or send us your business card.

To: The Manager, Robeco Bank (Switzerland) S.A., 16 chemin des Coquelicots, Case Postale 114, CH-1215 Geneva 15, Switzerland. I would like to invest in Rorento. Please send me an account-opeoing package. 25122 D Please send me more information about managed investments from Robern Bank. Mr/Mrs/Miss/Ms Surname and initials Profession Age Street Town Country Telephone Postcode K (SWITZERLAND) S.A The bank that reflects your own values

The share entry in the second

CURRENCY & INTEREST RATES

4-346	674-6-4	- 4%	- 19	54-5%	7-74	236-215	7.4
4-346	6 m 6 m	4 3	4 %	516-54	6-6-7	24-24-	7.	-7 %
- J V	578-6	45	-4 %n	5 5 5 %	6 - 6 -	7 · · 2 · ·	6 *.	-6"•
	wali Bank. Herbonik de	Posits i	rt Sì mì	lillee minim	um lor equiv	aleni).
iey f	lates
		lose	Prev.	arttein
•		3.00	300	Book best	e rate		6.00	600
		6.00	600	Call mone			5%	6%
		Cisd	2 .	1-month la			S 4	- 5% (
		2.80	2.80	3-month in			洗	24
tt day:		3.21	3.21	é-moath la			6.82	687
ory bill		2,96	2.97	18-year Gi	Ľ		0,04	· · · ·
y bill		3.17	3.18	France				1
y doje		1.78	3.77	Laterventi	on rate		6-34	674
y note		4,61	4.61	Coll mone	Y		7%	7.5
¥ note		411	4.81	1-menth in			749	7%
ry pôte		12	525	J-month in			7%	749   676
TY DONG		5.92	5.92	4 dinom-4			6.2
- COV 1	Ready asse	r —	2.69	]$-year 0/	AT		6.01	5.98
				Sources	Reviers.	8100moe	г а , м	errm
		134	174	Lynch, B	ank of To	eva com	11127 4
		Cise	24	Greenwel	Montaeu. C	CON LYON	1.1.1	- 1
enix 👘		-	2					1
Pink.		Ξ	2	Gold
enk 🛛		-	Z%		A.M.	P.M.		th se i meat b	ond .	_	123	Second and	340.75	360.60		+ 1.45
				Zurich	340.55			+ 290
		7%	74	London				+0.20
		4.85	485	New Yor	K 102.20
net .		635	A.16	U.S. dolk	TS APT DURC	e. Landar	oniiCi	an nu-
Pak .		33	6.70	ings; Zuri	ch and New	York OPEN	ing an
						Compy /D	ar 1

ing prices;

545 595

MARKET DIARY

there Buomess News market.

heating up.

ranced 214 to 35%.

vanced 214 to 68%.

NEW YORK - U.S. stocks rose on Monday as a rally in shares of drug companies helped offset concern about lower-than-expected

The Dow Jones industrial average

rose 8.67 points to 3.543.41, led hy shares of Philip Morris Cos. The Nasday Composite Index closed

3,39 higher at a record 767.66. Eight common stocks advanced for every seven that declined on the New

Trading was slow because banks and government offices were closed

N.Y. Stocks

for Columbus Day. On the New York Stock Exchange, about 182 million shares changed hands, the Intel's stock slumped 434 to 6512

after the company reported third-quarter earnings of $1.33 a share. The results were well above last rear's carnings of 56 cents a share.

hut below analysts' estimates. The slump in Intel's stock hurt other semiconductor stocks, National Semiconductor Corp., for example, fell 114 to 18. The Standard & Poor's Semiconductor Index declined 8.97 to 190.53.

has been a mainstay for this market," said Thom Brown, managing

Rhoutherg Biogness News

NEW YORK - The dollar rose

a little Monday as traders waited to see if a German court will approve the European Community's Maas-tricht treaty on Tuesday.

Trading in New York and Takyo was less active than usual because banks were closed for the Columbus Day holiday in the U.S. and Sports Day in Japan. The dollar closed at 1.6050 Deutsche marks in

Foreign Exchange

The semiconductor industry lowest amount this year.

carnings at Intel Corp.

York Stock Exchange.

Page 12

Hewlett-Packard will provide the printing technology to be used alongside Time Warner's growing cable service network. The new service will allow home users of those services — including on-demand news and information, maps, magazine articles and restaurant and retail services — to make prints from their TV screens,

LOS ANGELES - "Der	The Associated Press polition Man." starting Sylve
The Associated Press LOS ANGELES — "Demolition Man." starting Sylvester Stallo Wesley Snipes, opened at the top of the U.S. bus office this we Following are the Top 10 moneymakers based on Friday ticket sall restinated cales for Saturday and Sunday estimated sales for Saturda		y neket saids and l
I, "Demotition Mon"	Warner Brothers	$14.3 million
2. "Cool Runnings"	Disney	$$.7 million
3. "Molice"	Columbia Prchires)	$7.6 million
4. "The Good Son"	Twentieth Century Fox)	S5.2 million
5. "The Ase of Innocence"	(Columbia Pictures)	$3.4 midiion
6. "The Joy Luck Club"	Hollywood Picturesi	53.3 million
7. "Mr. Jones"	[Tri Stort	$3.2 million
4 "For Love of Money"	Universall	S2.4 million
7 "A Brony Tole"	Sovos Pictures	$2.5 million
10 "The Program"	[ Fouchstone Pictures]	52.5 million

Commodity Indexe Close 1,375,70 1,577,90 1,577,90 127,38 127,38 127,38

Previou 1.065.50 1.573.30 126.80 217.88

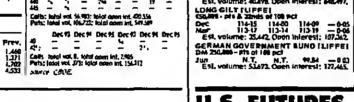

- 0.02 - 0.02 - 0.01 - 0.01 - 0.01 - 0.01 - 0.01 - 0.01 - 0.01 - 0.01 - 0.01 - 0.02

iource: UPI.

Bloomberg Biomas Nina

MILAN - Banca Commerciale Italiana SpA said Monday that it man decision at the moment," said to 1.4084 Swiss frames from 1.4053 The state holding company Istituto per la Ricostruzione Industriale is frames. The pound slipped to planning to sell its 54.4 percent stake in the bank as part of the government's privatization program.

Oci, 1

2121-1212

4 54 65 11 11 4 54 65 11 11

18_1255.

19

S&P 100 Index Options

Ner An

Italian Bank Converts Shares

22221217*

Clos

1.570 1.725 1.740 4.535

Close

Prev.

Pree.

17.20 B H +

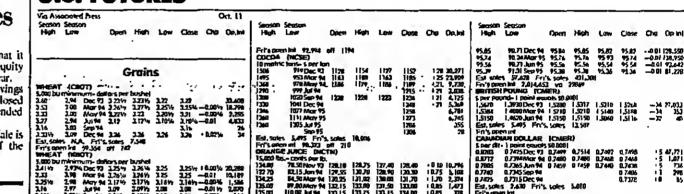

FERBRASERSI

count rate on loans to commercial banks at 3 percent. The German discount rate is 6.25 percent. In other trading Monday, the dollar nose to 5.6.35 French frames un Noncaly that it would convert its savings shares into common stock to simplify its equity structure ahead of a planned sale to private investors early next year. The bank said it would exchange one common share for every savings share, plus an additional payment of 250 life. Common shares closed down 132 life, at 4,596 ($2.87), while the savings shares were suspended down 132 life.

from 5.6250 frames on Friday and on Monday, pending the announcement, at 3.670 lire, to 1.4084 Swiss frames from 1.4053 The state holding company Istituto per la Ricostruzi

U.S. FUTURES

Esi, volume: 70, Open interest: 16, 3-MONTH E URDMARKS (LIFFE) DMF milles - 81 a 01 a0 act Dec 93.75 12.00 93.77 Mar 94.22 94.22 94.22 Jun 94.23 94.72 94.77 Dec 95.07 95.06 95.06 Sep 95.00 95.06 95.06 95.06 Sep 94.09 94.07 94.97 Dec N.T. N.T. 94.74 Esi, volume: 40.49 Open interest: LOMG 611.17 (UFEE)

U.S./AT THE CLOSE

Eli Lilly to Cut Jobs and Research

INDIANAPOLIS, Indiana i Bloombergi — Eli Lilly & Co., battered bar stagnating priors for prescription drugs, said Monday it plans to cut 4,000 jobs, or 12.5 percent of its workforce, and discontinue some cancer research. Lilly plans the cut 2,000 jobs by offering a valuntary early-retirement program and 2,000 further jobs by reducing employment of temporary and contract workers, attrition and "strict hiring practices."

Lilly said its cost-cutting includes plans for the company's Hybritech Inc. unit to abandon development of radinimmune therapy and in vivo . maging, technologies that are designed to use monoclonal antibodies to find and destroy cancer while leaving headthy tissue unharmerl. Separately, Hybritech plans to cut European operations.

Westwood to Buy Unistar Kadio

NEW YORK (Combined Dispatches) - Westwood One Inc. said Monday it is buying Unistar Radia Network Inc. from Infinity Broad-casting Corp. for $101 million, which will result in the second largest radio network in the country. Under the agreement. Infinity will become the largest shareholder of Westwood One hy boosting its stake in the company, acquiring 5 million newly issued Westwood shares for $3 each.

Westwood One will now command between 30 percent and 40 percent of network advertising dollars, putting it behind only the ABC Radur Network, which has 45 percent. (Bhannberg, Kutght-Ridder)

Fruit of the Loom to Buy Salem

HUDSON, New Hampshire (Bloombergt - Fruit of the Lixon Inc. said Monday it agreed to acquire Salem Sportswear Corp. for $136 million in cash, a transaction designed to diversify the products made hy nation's leading underwear manufacturer. Chicago-based Fruit of the Loom said it will begin a tender offer for all-10.7 million shares of Salem at $12.75 a share. Shares of Salem sourced $3.125, to $12.375. Fruit of the Loom shares were down 75 cents to

Salem is a leading designer and marketer of T-shirts, sweatshirts and shirts bearing logos of professional haseball, baskethalt, hockey and

• V.F. Corp. has agreed to acquire H.H. Cutler Co., a manufacturer and marketer of children's clothing, for approximately $160 million, the companies said Monday, the Associated Press reported.

Time and HP to Build Printers

PALO ALTO, California (APt - Time Warner Entertainment L.P. and the Hewlett-Packard Co. said Monday they will co-build printers to. allow home users of cable TV services to print items like coupons, ads or -

For investment information

read THE MONEY REPORT

every Saturday in the IHT

LISU Carphigh Y10Fd Hvpr lon 2022 frm Trs InceCoperif 2029 Landbab (Gold Ferif Landbab 1120 1200 1200 Weekend Box Office

For Maastricht Ruling 1030 455 24 72 72 74 don. Traders "will be glued to their screens tomorrow," he said, Concern about Maastricht eased Monday after the German newspa-Amex Diary per Bild said the court would rule n favor of the treaty, traders said. Close > Advanced Declined Unchanged Tatot Issues New Highs New Lows sell marks before the decision was official, Lingering concern about the U.S. economy kept the dollar from gaining much on Monday. The dol-lar turnhled Friday after a lacklus-NASDAQ Diary ter employment report for September convinced traders that the U.S.

Even so, investors were reluctant to late New York trading, up a little from 1.6038 at Friday's close, and at 106.201 yen, up from 106.05. ecrynomy is still too sluggish to warrant an increase in interest rates. Investors will be watching this Many investors bought marks week's producer and consumer price last week, betting Germany's Conreports, on Thursday and Friday, stitutional Court would not apfor more clues about the economy's prove the FC union treaty. Without strength, traders said. Without risthe agreement, EC nations would ing prices, the Federal Reserve Board probably will keep its dis-count rate on loans to commercial have more leeway to cut interest rates even if the Bundesbank keeps man initiation. If rates elsewhere in banks at 3 percent. The German Europe deop while Germany's stave discount rate is 6.25 percent. Nigh, mark-denominated deposits. In other trading Monday, the would become attractive. "Everyone is watching this Ger-

WORLD STOCK MADNETS	1.33 AV MOT 94 126 2019 125 325 -0.01 0109 1.35% 2.35% 2.31 Avg 94 1176 3179 1169 1169 -0.00% 1.326 1.46 2.97 1.494 1.09 1.09% 1.08 1.08 -0.01% 2.00 1.49% 2.01% 2.07% 1.7% 1.7% 1.7% 1.7 2.19 1.01% 5.09% 1.1% 1.7% 1.7% 1.7 2.19 1.01% 5.00% 1.1% 1.7% 1.7% 1.7% 1.7% 1.7% 1.7% 1.7	13425 B430 Mar 94 12025 121.02 13820 121.70 11.70 2.20 125.00 97.00 Mar 94 122.15 123.00 121.50 123.00 1.0.85 1.473 125.00 110.00 July 94 122.15 123.75 123.15 134.00 1.0.85 20	Est, soles 2,430 Fri's tales 5,010
WORLD STOCK MARKETS	Frisopenini Jalizis en 110 CORN (CROT)	132,00 124,02 Jun 95 120,02 10,45 Mar 95 130,02 10,45	I GERMAN MARK (CAMERI Speriment-loom example scotte 0.4500 0.5457 Dec 79 0.4000 0.4271 0.4169 0.6191 09.406 0.4203 0.54590 Age 49.4160 0.8141 0.4154 0.4151 1.835
Close Prev.	Comment (Calor) 3 5.800 00 momentary designs and businet 2.411:2 2351-400719 2.4211; 2.4411; 2.4511; 2.4511; 2.4511; 2.4411; 2.2514; 4.00749 7.31 2.7111; 2.2714; Aur94 7.31 2.711; 2.2714; Aur94 7.2514; 2.2511; 2.2511; 2.2511; 2.1514; 1.2412 2.711; 2.411; 5.0041; 2.241; 2.257; 2.574; 2.2511; 1.2424; 1.027 2.55; 2.3415; 6.2511; 2.2415; 2.35 2.4714; 2.4714; 0.4924; 4.471; 2.55; 2.3455; 6.473]	Est, solies N.A. Frif's, solies 1,794 Frifs open int 20,418 vo 180	0 0130 0.5667 Jun 94 0 0122 0.0122 0.0123 210 0.0055 07 94 Edits Solers 10.477 Pri's soles 47.187 Pri's ones 10.477 Pri's soles 47.187 JAMPANESE YEN ICAMERI Saler ven 1 pohl esus $10,00001
Bit all (TW)         Tori Jadii         Statistic         Consistent         Statistic	2.57 2.517 Mar 15 2025 77.502 Est, soles N.A. Frit's soles 77.502 Fris soles N.A. Frit's soles 77.502 Fris sole int 2023 207 vo 465 50196 Among LCB007 7.57 301 Nov 71 Al 21 4.155 4.114 5.164 10.05 45.92 7.57 3.571 Mor 11 Al 21 4.155 4.114 5.164 10.05 10.057 7.51 5571 Mor 11 Al 21 4.155 4.164 5.205 10.055 10.077 7.51 5571 Mor 11 Al 21 4.155 4.164 5.205 10.055 10.077 7.51 5571 Mor 11 Al 21 4.155 4.155 10.055 10.055 7.51 5571 Mor 11 Al 21 4.157 5.217 5.214 10.051 10.055 7.53 5571 Mor 11 4.07 5.217 5.214 10.051 10.055 7.53 5571 Mor 11 4.07 5.217 5.214 5.205 10.055 7.53 5571 Mor 11 4.07 5.217 5.214 5.215 10.055 7.55 5571 Mor 11 4.07 5.217 5.214 5.215 10.055 7.55 5471 Mor 11 4.075 5.217 5.2	YH (READE COPPLER, (NCARD)           25,000 05x - colmty per 10.           164,00         74,100 07 17.74,15           164,00         74,100 07 17.74,25           114,65         74,65           179,00         74,100 07 17.74,25           114,65         74,000 07 17.75,75           114,05         74,000 07 17.75,75           104,00         74,000 07 17.75,75           104,00         74,000 00x 17.75,75           104,00         74,000 00x 17.75,70           104,00         74,000 00x 17.75,70           104,00         74,000 00x 17.64,00           104,00         74,000 00x 17.64,00           104,00         74,000 00x 17.64,00           104,00         75,000 Aper 14           102,00         75,000 Aper 14           102,000         75,000 Aper 14	0.0099920.00079100; 93 0.004460.0004230 0012390 009403
Sovens         42 10         47 precissor	6.30 SAI's Nov W & Li & 616 & Li 3 & 15% + 6,03% & KW 6.30 & All W Jam Y5 & 6,27% + 6,03% & 71 Frissoorn in 1 40,06% up 3121 SOTTBEAN MEAL (CBOT) 100 km <sup>2</sup> - colours per tan	101.0.01 74.00 Dec 14 72.25 77.40 77.20 77.70 - 0.85 第.50 10 55.26 75 77.50 77.25 1 10 第.50 77.05 75.25 76 95 80,00 1 0.75 第.00 75.26 76 95 80,00 1 0.75 第.00 77.70 July 75 80,00 1 0.75 第.00 1 0.75 第.00 1 0.55 1 0.55 1 0.55	Industrials
Chiloro         45 30         44 80         (hr/ssen)         218,8071 (540)         Abbes Natri         4 27         428         Willis Corroon         3 07         2 08         Profile St. Caulis         1 71         1 34e         Control Corroon         3 07         2 08         Profile St. Caulis         1 71         1 34e         Control Corroon         3 07         2 08         Profile St. Caulis         1 71         1 34e         Control Corroon         3 07         2 08         Profile St. Caulis         1 71         1 34e         Control Corroon         3 07         2 08         Profile St. Caulis         1 71         1 34e         Control Corroon         3 07         7 08         Profile St. Caulis         1 71         1 34e         Control Corroon         3 07         7 08         Profile St. Caulis         1 71         1 34e         Control Corroon         3 08         3	27-29         181,70 Cot 173 (191,00 (192,20 (191,20 (192,10))))))))))))))))))))))))))))))))))))	64.60         77.20 Aug 95         71.20         -1.05           651.5065         5.000         Frits society         1.05           Frits society         5.000         Frits society         1.05           SkutyER         NORAND         5.000         Frits society         1.05           SkutyER         MILPOLY         4.3         -407.8         4.3         -407.8           547.8         MILPOLY         4.3         -407.8         4.3         -407.8           552.0         352.0 Mor 94         42.0         40.0         40.0         -1.0         57.3           553.0         345.5 Jan 94         60.2         -1.0         60.2         -1.8         55.4         53.5         37.0 Mor 94         47.2         40.0         40.0         -3.0         7.90           554.5         37.0 Mor 94         47.2         47.0         40.0         40.0         40.0         -3.0         7.90           555.5         37.0 Mor 94         47.0         450.0         40.0         40.0         -3.0         7.90           555.5         37.0 Mor 94         47.0         40.0         40.0         40.0         -3.0         7.90           555.0         37.0 Mor 94	COTTON 2 (NCTN) 50.000 IDs confisper ID. 64.25 54.40 Dec 71 57.90 60.40 59.80 40.30 10.35 19.091 64.24 55.47 Macr M 61.40 61.00 61.30 61.31 076 7.476 64.95 57.47 Macr M 61.40 2025 51.25 42.00 8275 0.20 8.07a 65.00 51.30 Jul 94 62.00 82.70 62.40 42.75 0.15 2.163 62.45 57.51 Dec M 82.75 62.00 42.75 0.10 10 62.99 59.45 Dec M 82.75 62.00 42.75 62.80 7.972 62.99 59.45 Dec M 82.75 62.00 43.75 62.80 7.972 62.99 59.45 Dec M 82.75 62.00 43.75 63.63 10.08 57.55 spen M 84.072 V0 325 FF75 spen M 84.072 V0 325
Intendindes; 128,00       Enso-Guirert       37,40       12,80       Bowallert       4.20       Entropy       11,81       Bowallert       4.21       4.27       11,81       Bowallert       4.23       4.27       11,81       Bowallert       4.23       4.27       11,81       Bowallert       4.23       4.27       11,81       Bowallert       4.23       4.27       11,81       Bowallert       11,81       Bowallert </td <td>40 000 RS-dollers per /82 Ds. 36.05 (1950 Co195 72.38 22.49 22.20 22.730.07 1.145 74.27 1974 Dec 70 22.35 22.49 77.47 22.460.01 77.474</td> <td>$72.0         300.0 Disc 94         460.0         460.0         450.0</td> <td>42,000 gal-contisper yol         61.25         50.40         50.40         50.40         51.21           62,20         51.270 Dec 73         57.30         57.50         57.10         57.21         10.40         50.117           62,20         53.20 Dec 73         57.30         57.00         57.21         10.40         50.117           62,25         53.20 Dec 74         57.30         57.10         57.21         10.40         50.117           62,25         53.26 Dec 74         57.30         57.40         57.54         -0.26         11.177           60.50         52.25 Feb 74         55.25         55.45         57.46         -0.26         11.177           60.50         52.26 Aer 74         55.20         55.25         55.65         55.42         10.35         4.43           57.30         51.40 Morv14         54.25         55.65         55.44         10.35         4.43           50.00         51.25 Morv14         54.20         54.23         54.21         10.40         7.508           50.00         51.25 Morv14         53.00         53.47         53.76         63.76         63.477           55.00         61.25         53.47         53.47         53.47         <t< td=""></t<></td>	40 000 RS-dollers per /82 Ds. 36.05 (1950 Co195 72.38 22.49 22.20 22.730.07 1.145 74.27 1974 Dec 70 22.35 22.49 77.47 22.460.01 77.474	$72.0         300.0 Disc 94         460.0         460.0         450.0	42,000 gal-contisper yol         61.25         50.40         50.40         50.40         51.21           62,20         51.270 Dec 73         57.30         57.50         57.10         57.21         10.40         50.117           62,20         53.20 Dec 73         57.30         57.00         57.21         10.40         50.117           62,25         53.20 Dec 74         57.30         57.10         57.21         10.40         50.117           62,25         53.26 Dec 74         57.30         57.40         57.54         -0.26         11.177           60.50         52.25 Feb 74         55.25         55.45         57.46         -0.26         11.177           60.50         52.26 Aer 74         55.20         55.25         55.65         55.42         10.35         4.43           57.30         51.40 Morv14         54.25         55.65         55.44         10.35         4.43           50.00         51.25 Morv14         54.20         54.23         54.21         10.40         7.508           50.00         51.25 Morv14         53.00         53.47         53.76         63.76         63.477           55.00         61.25         53.47         53.47         53.47 <t< td=""></t<>
Decon         Jeron         Mong Kong         Environ         All         Cip         Banetion arous         Zibi Zibi <zibi<zibi<zibi<zibi<zibi<zib< th="">         Markets Closed         Markets         Closed         Stock         Markets         Closed         Markets         Closed</zibi<zibi<zibi<zibi<zibi<zib<>	Livestock CATTLE (CMERI 4.00 bs-centserb 74.77 41.500 rs 10.0 70.07 70.07 70.07 70.07 70.07 74.48 41.100.07 70.07 70.07 70.20 70.07 -4.05 20.05	Ed. soles. 1.177 FrYs, soles. 611 Frys gaenin: 1.127 FrYs, soles. 611 Frys gaenin: 1.1422 vg. 1316 GOLD Threat Set Service. 141.59 50260 CF 30 March 304.30 569.20 106 356.00 35570 Nov 91 356.00 35570 Nov 91 366.00 105 100 Fr 30 Nov 91 366.00 100 Fr 30 Nov 91 367.00 Fr 30 Nov 91	$9.30         $5.30 Price with         $7.10         $1.33           $9.00         $5.40 Price with         $5.00         $1.40           $9.10         $5.40 Price with         $5.00         $1.40           $5.10         $6.75 Junn 95         $9.41         $0.35           $5.00         $6.75 Junn 95         $9.41         $0.35           $5.00         $5.00 Price with         $7.10         $0.35           Firl's series         $2.47         $4.75         $6.75           Firl's series         $2.47         $4.75         $6.75           Firl's series         $2.470         $3.47         $0.35           Firl's series         $2.470         $3.47         $3.47           $1.400         $1.400         $1.400         $3.47           $1.400         $1.400         $1.400         $3.47           $1.400         $1.400         $1.400         $3.47           $1.400         $1.400         $1.400         $1.400           $1.400         $1.400         $1.400         $1.400           $1.400         $1.400         $1.400         $1.400           $1.400         $1.400         $1.400         $1.400
Ind         13191         13050         Hit China Gas         1520         1510         CO3 A         21.32         21.48         Intervision         4720         4150         Hume Industries         530         5.40           vorv         12000         12000         1510         10000         100 <t< td=""><td>ILS7         70.93 Feb 14         71.15         71.02</td><td>dis.70         233,407         544,40         343,20         343,20         1,35         16,30           dis.80         253,20 Apr. 90         344,40         345,20</td><td>27.00         17.402.00         17.402.00         18.97         14.05         10.94         17.05         0.19         7.7.24           20.75         17.447Eb0141         19.07         19.12         19.22         19.40         0.17         27.16           21.05         17.85/Morr 94         19.07         19.12         19.22         19.14         0.17         27.16           21.05         16.05/Apr 94         19.21         19.23         19.27         0.14         13.2665           20.06         10.07 Apr 94         19.21         14.23         19.36         19.27         0.14         13.2665           20.06         10.07 Apr 94         19.21         14.25         19.36         19.34         0.13         14.77           21.05         18.24         19.21         14.25         19.36         19.34         0.13         14.778           21.05         18.23         19.34         19.35         19.36         19.37         0.13         14.778           21.05         19.34         19.47         19.32         19.47         0.13         23.267           20.70         18.53         19.41         19.42         19.47         0.12         23.27           &lt;</td></t<>	ILS7         70.93 Feb 14         71.15         71.02	dis.70         233,407         544,40         343,20         343,20         1,35         16,30           dis.80         253,20 Apr. 90         344,40         345,20	27.00         17.402.00         17.402.00         18.97         14.05         10.94         17.05         0.19         7.7.24           20.75         17.447Eb0141         19.07         19.12         19.22         19.40         0.17         27.16           21.05         17.85/Morr 94         19.07         19.12         19.22         19.14         0.17         27.16           21.05         16.05/Apr 94         19.21         19.23         19.27         0.14         13.2665           20.06         10.07 Apr 94         19.21         14.23         19.36         19.27         0.14         13.2665           20.06         10.07 Apr 94         19.21         14.25         19.36         19.34         0.13         14.77           21.05         18.24         19.21         14.25         19.36         19.34         0.13         14.778           21.05         18.23         19.34         19.35         19.36         19.37         0.13         14.778           21.05         19.34         19.47         19.32         19.47         0.13         23.267           20.70         18.53         19.41         19.42         19.47         0.12         23.27           <
Chi robi         Stall	440 747520714 2175 215 7527 2172071 7757 813 81281/4014 8155 8125 8125 8125 9177075 8128 77844034 778 8125 8125 7735 1275017 851 8140 81804775 8175 810 8126 7735 7740015 32 8140 8180475 8175 810 8126 7735 7740015 32 940 910 7735 7740 7756 7740 7756 7750015 6 941 91 91 91 91 91 91 91 91 91 91 91 91 91	Findincial UST.BALLS (CMER) Similar-psofilization 7001 93100cct 9403 9473 9591 9672 18.789	Julie         Fill         Fill <t< td=""></t<>
Americanie         375 (20 m)         30 (21 m)         10 m)         1.40         Accor         677         670         570         500 (21 m)	0.000 b5 - cents per b. 90.15 79.70 c7 37 49.50 49.50 49.55 49.55 49.55 49.55 91.45 40.07 Dec 77 50.00 52.76 50.25 50.520.28 12,745 92.53 40.37 Dec 78 50.27 50.55 50.07 50.000.10 3,557 93.53 45.75 49.75 47.55 45.20 49.00 40.00 60.00 10 1,597 92.55 45.77 4.07 49 52.09 52.45 52.00 52.29 10.15 502 73.55 45.25 49.57 51.29 51.29 51.20 51.20 10.25 102 73.55 45.25 49.57 50.75 50.40 49.75 10.10 33 E41 5055 23.57 67.57 50.56	9420 9411 Alery 9429 9429 9421 94210.01 10.542 9426 94515 An 94 9429 9420 9421 -44210.01 10.542 Fri's coars are 30.564 vol. 200 5100, 100 part - 914, 2004 000 200 5100, 100 part - 914, 2004 000 pct 112-20 1071 7 Dac 7911-148 112-345 113-16- 945 143,296 112-27 277119-12 Mar 94 120 545 113-15 113-16- 945 143,296 112-777119-12 Dac 7911-148 112-345 113-15 113-16- 945 143,296	Umic Ext Die 30 GASOLINIE         Chandler II           20,000 godi.cmth per godi         57,70         51,80         52,57         0.92,37,157           54,70         47,550 er 07         51,80         52,70         57,40         0.70 22,754           54,70         47,550 er 07         52,00         52,40         52,67         0.70 15,254           54,70         47,55 per 07         52,00         52,40         57,40         0.70 15,203           57,05         40,90 Fer 04         52,05         51,50         52,57         0.04 15,203           57,05         51,07 Micr 44         53,05         57,35         54,85         57,40         0.71 15,203           62,50         51,26,04 for 74         57,35         57,35         54,85         57,60         0.71 13,286           61,30         55,30,40 for 41         57,40         57,40         51,01         0.21           61,30         55,30,30 for 41         57,30         57,40         57,40         0.70         3,286           61,30         55,30,30 for 41         57,40         57,40         51,01         0.21           61,32         55,30,30 for 41         57,40         57,40         51,01         0.21           64,50
ripenet 190 290 AECI 11:5 11:5 Pathmans 613 612 CCF. 26120 26120 Effective 150 151 (185 nadex : 872.08 set 581 581 581 581 581 591 591 Finadex : 872.08 set 581 581 581 591 591 591 591 591 591 591 591 591 59	Finitisation the 70,5% up 8.4 PORK BELLES TOWERT 3L00 Uns-cent; per 0. 52,50 37,10 Feb % 57,80 57,90 57,30 57,50 -0.45 5,7% 52,70 71,00 Feb % 57,82 57,40 57,10 57,50 -0.45 5,9% SL20 40,50 May % 57,50 57,40 57,55 57,57 -0.45 174 57,40 77,20 Jun % 57,50 57,30 57,55 57,57 -0.12 1045 557 54,47 42,00 Aug % 55,57 710 57,55 57,57 -0.12 1045	5100.000 pra-pk 5 32mbc 0/100 pc1 116-19 117-70 Dac 77 116-18 116-20 116-14 116-18 - 12 218,254 115-21 109-08 Angr 141(5-19 115-20 115-19 115-20 - 04 10,7% 115-00 108-19 Jam 94 114-31 114-71 114-31 114-31 - 02 534 114-71 115-10 108-19 Angr 14-31 114-71 114-31 114-31 - 02 534 114-72 115-10 556 94 114-10 - 02 71 114-73 117-14 Dac 94 114-31 114-71 114-30 114-31 114-31 1243, 5019 XA, Fri5, 50195 4/4/73	40.00 54.02 Avers 54 20.13 .02.1 12 Sco 94 57 35 10.21 Ect, soles 19,852 Fri's soles 27,007 54.75 10.71 Fri's open mt 100,117 oct 1746
	Est sales 1.284 Finis sales 1.704 Finis apenint 4.740 vo 737	Fri's gener inf 200,009 off 15% USTREASURT BONDS (CDOT) (0) pcf-510005-pb 8 32m/s of 100mc01 120-30 92-08 Dec 93129-17 129-26 120-15 120-20 - 61 208,507	Stock Indexes SEP COMP. INDEX (CMER) SID 4 Index
TO OUR READERS IN FRANCE	Food COFFEE C (NCSE) 7.300 frs- conty per (b.	118-75 Web Add With 1-16 (19-10 119-10 119-14 119-14 12/14 118-17 71-65 Jun 14 (11-11) 15-65 (11-11) 5,00 117-10 71-70 Dec 91 117-66 (11-11) 15-64 (11-54) 118-54 - 15 115-69 102-68 Mar 95 (11-54) 115-51 - 61 (11-11) 115-19 19-15 Jun 95 (11-54) 115-51 - 61 (11-11)	44435 45770 DEC 17 44140 44150 44140 46170 10.35184444 45370 45420 467 44335 44319 44182 44245 0.40 1345 Extraores N.A. Fri's tales 51.73 Fri's open hi 107,85 up 445 NYSS COMP. HOREX INYFED
It's never been easier to subscribe	91.00 97.90 Dec 93 74.25 75.50 73.70 75.05 / 0.95 34.539 02.75 61.20 Mar 94 76.96 77.75 76.20 77.50 / 0.93 11.698	Sep 75 114-19 - 01 10	257.75 257.18 Dec 70 256 40 257.30 256.15 (56.70 + 6.40 4.238

and save with our new toll free service. Just call us today at 05 437 437.

مكذا من الأصل

10,70 10,70 10,81 10.57 10,44 10,72 10,74 10,55 10,62 10,77 10,75

10,71

-0.10 10.510 -0.10 11,110 -0.17 6.732

waits H ? 'Book Fair No Longer a Best-Seller

By Sarah Lyall New York Times Service FRANKFURT - In its salad days after World War II, the Frankfurt Book Fair was a big genteel book party for the world's publishers, a place where they could gather to learn about one another's books and go about the gentlemanly business of publishing.

1--+0

he Work

Attention ,

<sup>v</sup>ationation,

財動

14 . AN 14 : A

But Frankfurt is no longer genteel, publishing is no longer gentlemanly, and faxes, conference calls and overnight mail have all hut supplanted face-to-face meetings.

With European and American publishers laying out huge sums of money for transportation, hotels, meals, photocopying, taxis, and the extravagant tips demanded to ensure any sort of service, many publishers are boginning to wonder why the weeklong fair, which ended Monday, seems to grow bigger each year.

"You used to meet in Frankfurt because it was the only time you saw inreign publishers, but these days Frankfurt has in some ways lost its viability." said one American publishing executive, who spoke on condition of anonymity, probably because his company thing of a dinosaur."

Still, there were 6,102 exhibitors from 95 countries, and more than 200,000 visitors at the fair, massing in an enormous convention complex. Some booths, like those of Random House and HarperCollins, are enormous rooms with built-in offices.

Oddly enough, many publishers and agents in Frankfurt last week seemed to go out of their way to nooid signing the deals that used to make the fair so crucial. For one thing, they said, many of them already knew about each other's books before arriving, thanks to foreign scouts and better communications. Between jet lag (for some) and an atmo-sphere of relentless socializing fueled by numerous drinks (for many), they were not always sure they trusted their instincts. Some tried to read manuscripts in their rooms late at night, but many said they would just as soon wait until they returned home. "Usually you have two or three projects that you've already started that you finalize in Frankfurt," said Peter Straus, who runs Picador, a British publishing house. "But you spent tens of thousands of dollars on logistics can get carried away at the fair, especially at 2 here this year. "Frankfurt has become some- o'clock in the morning, when someone is saying here, take these three books on ten-

At a time when book markets in many countries are depressed, publishers are ever more reluctant to gamble large amounts of money on projects that may not work out. Most years, but not this one, the fair's momentum is fueled by word of a hot new book that everyone is desperate to see and buy first. Canny publishers, editors and agents try to stir up what they call "buzz" for books they've strategically signed up in the weeks preceding the fair.

This year. Sonny Mehta, the deliberately inscrutable publisher and editor in chief of Alfred A. Knopf, introduced "The Girls," a first novel about five women in the Midwest. Still, many publishers and editors were un-impressed. "It's all the hype, the buzz, the noise," complained Patrick Janson-Smith. ublisher of the British house Transworld Publishers. "I don't buy any books at Frankfurt because it's under totally false circumstances. We're like the deer in the headlights saying, 'Look, if I don't move fast I'll lose it."

Danish Rates Nearly Back to Normal

fluctuation bands early in August. COPENHAGEN - Denmark's The Danish central bank's rates central bank lowered its three leadare still higher than the 7.25 percent ing interest rates by half a percentfor the discount rate and 7.80 perage point on Monday as part of a cent for the 14-day rate seen in carly normalization of rate levels after July before the bank drastically raised rates to defend the krone. the turnoil on European currency markets last summe Danish bond prices gained in af-

The cuts, effective Tuesday, take ter-hours trade after the central the discount and key deposit rates bank announcement. Dealers said on which long market rates are the benchmark 8 percent state based to 7.75 percent and the 14-day bond due 2003 was up 0.25 point, money-market rate to 8.5 percent. to 110.35. The central bank said the rate reductions were possible because trage trading at Unibank, said he the krone had recently shown stadid not expect a bond market rally bility on currency markets. The krone was little changed after the on Tuesday. "A cut was expected this week," he said. "Much of the announcement; the Deutsche mark effect is discounted in prices." fell to 4.0480 kroner from 4.0550 late on Friday. The bank said the cuts were part believed the exchange's KFX lop-of a normalization process after the 20 index would rise a moderate turmoil that preceded the widening 0.25-0.5 percentage point on Tues-0.25-0.5 percentage point on Tuesday as a result of the rate cuts. of the exchange-rate mechanism's

CHUNNEL: At Long Last, an Opening Date Is Set for Tunnel Under the English Channel

Continued from Page 1

continues to rank the shares as a "buy," in spite of his calculations that shareholders will have in wait until the year 2000 to bank their first dividend.

Having grown used to news of lengthy delays, huge cost overruns and bitter disputes, observers found little to fault in Monday's announcements. Key to that transformation was Eurotunnel's temporary settlement reached in July with Trans-Manche Link, the 10-company consortium building the tunnel.

Continued from Page 11

facturing, such as the recent venture between its Zenith Data Systems personal computer division and Packard Bell in the United States, and further emphasis on systems inte-is in sharp decline.

TML had asserted that it was owed £1.2 Roger Picard. Eurotannel's managing direcbillion by Eurotunnel for cost overruns. Sir Alastair, in Jurn had countered that the contractors were slowing work on the tunnel in an attempt to "blackmail" the company into paying up.

that by the third quarter of next year they will already have taken 30 percent of the existing cross-Channel freight traffic and 40 Since they agreed in July to pay TML £235 percent of the car traffic. Christopher Garmillion to cover their costs for the remainder of the construction, Burotunnel officials said nett, the Eurotunnel commercial director, said he was encouraged by early discussion with both freight companies and tour operathat work had suddenly spurted forward. "In the seven previous years of this project we have never experienced the openness and cooperation we are now experiencing." said "We have an opening date, and now that people see this as happening they are com-tor for construction.

mitting the time to work with us," he said. What remains to be seen is just how much Enrotannel will charge for its service. It is Optimistic Eurotumel officials predicted expected to announce its fares in December.

Currently, two ferry operators ply the route between Dover and Calais, with 10 ships between them. Competition between the ferry operators has already led to some fare cutting, a factor that forced Eurotunnel in turn to pare its expected revenue for next year by £44 million and by an additional £30 million for 1995.

"Our aim is nothing less than the transformation of Ireland," said Prime Minister Al-bert Reynnids. "This plan gives us an opportunity to close the gap between us and oar more developed European and cut unemployment.

But Hardy Larsen, head of arbi-

Stock-market dealers said they

Ireland Plans

Large Outlays

To Create Jobs

Reaters DUBLIN — Ireland un-veiled on Monday its biggest national investment program, which will pump 20 billion punts ($29 billion) into the country by 1999 to create jobs and cit uncernelwarment

The plan will pour 3 billion punts into agriculture and nat-ural resources and the same into education. More than 2.6 billion punts will be invested in transport infrastructure, 1.4 billion in industry, 1.25 billion in a local development program

The prime minister said the plan would create 200.000 jobs, many permanent, although job losses would not be halted. Between 52,000 and 80,000 net job gains are expected.

London Paris CAC 40 FTSE 100 Index 5708 308 -203 --NOW JJASO 9'0' 198 Prev. Cinad Close Chang 128.50 126,00 +0.39 CBS Trend 8,843.41 6,818.43 +0.37 Stock Index 2,005,01 +0.30 DAX 2.811.02 774.55 FAZ 765,57 +1:17 1,496.25 HEX 1,405.89 -0.02 . . . . Financial Times SD 2,358.70 2,359.10 -0.02

Page 13

EUROPE

London FTSE 100 3.102.20 8.106.60 -0.21 London 292.04 Madrid +0.19 General Index 292.60 Milan MIB 1,287.00 1,299,00 ·-0.92 2,138.72 2,156.38 -0.82 Paris' CAC 40 Affeetsveetiden 1,526.88 1,629.90 -0.19 Stockholm Stock Index 438.02 431.57 +1.49 Vienna 868.00 872.00 Zurich SBS +0.46Sources: Reulers, AFP

Very briefly:

Investor's Europe

Frankturt

DAX

2100

200

1700

Exchance

Brussels

Frenkfurt

Frenkfurt

Helsinki

Amsterdam

Mannesmann AG said it was pricing a one-for-eight rights issue at 250 Deutsche marks ($154) to raise 1.009 billion DM.

• West German retail sales totaled 49 billion DM in August, down 0.4 percent in real terms from n year earlier but up a nominal 1.5 percent.

Britain's trade deficit worsened more than many analysts expected in July, rising to £1.5 billion from £1.2 billion in June, reflecting weak demand for British imports in the other European markets.

· British Broadcasting Corp. said it would launch a 24-hour radio news and sports staion in April, replacing Radio Five a sports and children's channel that will be discontinued after three years of existence; the BBC nbandoned a plan to broadcast the new service in place of the Radio Four longwave service, which is received in parts of Continental Europe.

· Nestlé SA will pay $37 million for n 47 percent stake in Goplana, a Polish coocolate company, Nestle said. Nestle has agreed to invest up to $35 million in the company. AFX, AFP. Reuers, Bloomberg

EC Unemployment Steadies

Agence France-Press But the August figure indicated BRUSSELS - The European that the rate of increase in unem-Community's jobless rate remained stable at 10.4 percent in August, unchanged from June and July. the European Community's statistical service said Monday.

ployment might be slowing down and that the official estimates of a iobless rate of 11 percent by the end of 1993 and more than 12 percent by the middle of 1994 may have been overstated.

Spain had the highest rate in August, 21.2 percent, and Ireland fol-lowed, with 18.2 percent.

ASIA/PACIFIC

Tokyo Nikkel 225

This was one percentage point above the 9.4 percent figure recorded in August a year ago, and Eurostat said unemployment was still following a rising trend.

200

Investor's Asia

How to Translate 'Low, Low Prices' Into Japanese

By David E. Sanger

BULL: Aid to Computer Maker Seems to Have Little Purpose Other Than to Preserve Jobs stations and so-called client-servers that can be tied together in networks using hardware mponents from different manufacturers. Bull, in fact, does not make mainframes. It buys machines from NEC, programs them with Bull software, and then sells them under regration, that is, helping customers tie their the Bull name. Its manufacturing is focused Computers together into networks. Like IBM, Ms. Doorly said, Bull is sadon the smaller systems, and on personal computers, through Zenith, acquired in dled with a big overhead built up over the years to sustain development, sales and 1989 maintenance of large corporate computer For the various ministries considering the systems, or mainframes, a business that now plan, the bottom line is the need to maintain an industrial capacity in a sector deemed of strategic importance and in which Bull em-Sales of mainframes, which run on propri-

"We want to focus on the company's areas of excellence in order to turn it around and prepare it for privatization. We're not about to cross Bull out from one day to the next. of francs each year to keep it going." We have its workers to consider."

But observers say Bull - n company founded in 1931 as a producer of punch-card tabulators, and nationalized in 1983 as a tabulators, and nationalized in 1983 as a commission of what it considers question-conglomerate of several computer concerns able state aid. In the decade through 1992, the government awarded Bull 11.5 billion interest in a world where computers have francs in capital grants.

become commodities,

There is no need whatsoever for the ernment, though espousing a free-market etaty operating systems and may cost $1 ploys over 30,000 people. French government to want to be in comput-million nr more, are being replaced in the "Bull is a very important part of France's industrial patrimony," said a government to want to be in comput-market by smaller and less expensive work industrial patrimony," said a government who formerly headed Europe-source who has seen the restructuring plan. an operations for National Semiconductor Corp. "Computers have become an off-the-shell item all over the world. It can't be called strategic if you have to invest billions

The new capital request, coming on top of an injection earlier this year of 2.5 billion francs, has prompted an inquiry by the EC

Mr. Heikes said the new conservative gov-

Community partners."

and 600 million in tourism,

Singepore Straits Times. Hong Kong Hang Seng Days before the ruling, the Fair Trade the prices in Tokyo's chie department stores. minimalist service provided in American of it is the tremendous control most manufacturers have maintained over their distri-

New York Times Service TOKYO - Japan's new leaders were government would no longer tolerale ridiegovernment would no longer tokerate nate ulously high prices and that companies would hnve to stop enriching themselves at home while offering deep discounts on cameras and television sets in Manhattan and Hong Kong.

Still, no one in the Japanese bureaucracy was quite prepared to deal with retailers like Ken Fujisawa. He had the tementy, in n family-owned store on n back street of Tokyo, in do what no one else had in a generation - offer Japanese women a 20 percent discount on cosmetics made by the giant of the Japanese industry, Shiseido Co.

For years, Japan's Fair Trade Commis-sion had turned a blind eye to complaints that women buying cosmetics in this country pay at least twice as much as when traveling abroad.

But then a few days ago, to his own shock, the ebullient Mr. Fujisawa, 45, won an enormous victory fnr Japanese consum-ers. A court ordered Shiseido tn resume supplying stores like Mr. Fujisawa's, even if they sell by mail order and ignare the cosmetics maker's quiet pressure never to undercut the suggested retail price.

In Europe

SYDNEY - TNT Ltd. has said it will have a "challenging" time trying to turn its European joiniventure express parcel operation from loss to profit hy mid-1995.

The parcel express service, GD

Express Worldwide, incurred a loss of 96.6 million Australian dollars ($62.8 million) in its first full year of operation, ended June 30. TNT op-ny, the Netherlands, Sweden and Canada, It includes operations purchased from Federal Express Corp.

and outlook are outlined in a pn>spectus, released Monday, for the sale of up to 325 million dollars of converting preference shares in

TNT Ltd. The shares must be con-

The venture was at the center of a boardroom battle in August that re-sulted in the departure of TNT's co-

Sir Peter wanted to spin off the European assets in help cut TNT debt. But David Mortimer, the chief executive, won the day with

The prospectus said TNT hoped to eliminate GD's losses in the year his plan in retain GD Express.

founder, Sir Peter Abeles,

verted into common stock by 1997.

- T

Details about GD Express's loss

erates the service in conjunction with post offices in France, Germa-amission raided Sbiseido's offices and "Instead, there are racks of clothes pushed seized documents after another retailer had swept to power amid promises that the complained that he, loo, had been cut off for offering deep discounts.

workers fill orders faxed in from housewives and so-called office ladies in the Tokyo area.

"Bul now there is a change in political power and in the social trends," he said. "It's finally happening," Discounting is suddenly, and finally, bursting onto Tokyo's streets.

One of the hottest stocks on the Tokyo

Stock Exchange these days is Aoyama Trading, a supplier of discount mea's suits whose customers do not seem to mind if some of the tailoring is done in North Korea.

When Aoyama's competitor, Haruyama, opened its store in the pricey Ginza area this month just two blocks behind the giant fullprice Mitsukoshi department store, 3,000 people lined up for the opening sale.

Inside the Haruyama shop, there are none of the elaborate floral arrangements, none of the perfectly manicured saleswomen and none of the art galleries that help drive up discount stores or that the products that together so tightly that customers have to walk down the aisles sideways.

Publicly, the department stores shrug off the new entries, saying they serve a different breed of customer, but few doubt that the discounters help explain why depart-ment store sales have been flat for so long. For certain products, particularly electronics, discounting has been around in Japan for some time - though often the effects are hardly noticeable. The huge number of Japanese tourists who return home from overseas with Nikon lenses, Sony compact-disk players and Panasonic portable phones are walking testimony to the price differentials between Japan and the rest of the world.

Discounting is suddenly, and finally, bursting onto Tokyo's streets.

Unul recently, Japanese manufacturers and government officials usually had plenty of explanations at hand, explaining that consumers would never tolerate the kind of Japanese makers sell in their bome market are different from those they export. But with some exceptions most of those differences are modest.

Now, the fall of the Liberal Democratic Party this year, after 38 years in power, has sent a liberating wind through the retail markets. Suddenly, it is politically acceptable to talk about discount airline tickets, as Prime Minister Morihiro Hosokawa did in his opening speech to parliament a few weeks ago. The Transport Ministry got the hint: Days later, n 20 percent cut in fares to Europe was announced.

The new government's focus on pricing intensified last week when the prime minister ordered a study of price differences between Japan and other countries as part of a 12-point plan to increase imports.

"I think that Hosokawa's stance in favor of deregulation has made a big change in the atmosphere," said Yoshihiro Saka-prices so high in Jupan, but certainly part metics are sold."

bution channel. Most retailers dare not BIQ . anger their suppliers by offering discounts on brand-name goods. Perhaps there is no better example than in cosmetics. The government exempted cosmetics from price competition starting in the 1950s, giving manufacturers the right to enforce specific retail prices.

Those regulations were taken off the books in 1973. Since then, the market has been free, ni least on paper.

But for the next 20 years, Shiseido products - the top of the line - have almost never been found for even a yen below the suggested retail price. The company dispatched thousands of specialists to retail stores to advise women on how to best use Shiscido products.

However, Toshimasa Tsuruta, a professor at Senshu University, has recently written that they served another purpose. They were the 'price guard,' " he said. The company says that is nonsense. "Discounting is not the issue," said Shinmoto, the director-general of international trade policy at the Ministry of Internation-al Trade and Industry, which has dnne its saku Sugiyama, a spokesman for Shiseido. own share of price setting. Everyone argues about what keeps retail price tt is an issue of how our cos-

44 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	A State of the state	Contraction 12	10.01 :1	N
Conta Casting	and an interest of the	1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1	Sin Line	N. 4.
7300-110-1-1			0000
600	100	11111111111111111
ACCORD STOR STOR	Sec. 1 Zens ass
SOO M J J A	50 M0 M 3	JASON	MAJ	ASO
1993			1993
Exchange	Index	Monday	Prev	%
1. A.	1	GOSE U.	Close	Creang
Hong Köng	Hang Song	8,159.63	8,005.56	+1.92
Singapore	Straits Lines	2,046.57	. 2,031.45	+0.74
Sydney	All Onlinanes	2.039.80	2,026.20	40.67
Tokyo	Nikkei 225	Closed	20,378,64
Kuala Lumpur	Composite	895.15	884.62	+1.19
Bangkok	SET	11123.74	1,098.64	+2.28
Secul	Composite Stock	722.09	712.35	+1.37
Taipef	Weighted Price	Closed	3,885.68
Manila	Composite	2,026.53	1.982.72	+2.21
Jakarta	Stock Index	440.41	438.55	+0.42
New Zealand	NZSE-40	2,010.09	2,016.74	-0.93
Bombay	National Midex	. 1,295.40	1,285.70	+0 75
ources: Reuters,	AFP		International 14	craid Tribus

Very briefly:

 Private savings at China's four major banks swelled to more than 1.3 Irillion yuan ($225.6 billion) at the end of September, reversing a decline. earlier in the year, the official Xinhua News Agency said.

• Shanghai is to set up China's first gold market soon and the southern-city of Guangzhou hopes to follow suit, a provincial official of the central bank said. He did not say when the market would open.

. Taiwan, which has been growing at around 6 percent annually over the past several years despite the global economic slowdown, said Standard & Poor's Corp. gave it an A-t-plus rating on short-term debt, the agency's highest Chinese power shortages idled at least one third of the country's industry last year, causing lost output worth more than 700 hillion yuan, the People's Daily said.

· Inchcape PLC formed a venture with Compagnie Europeénne de Courtage d'Assurances & de Reassurances SA to provide insurance-brokerage services to French-owned businesses in the Far East.

• The Philippine central bank governor said his office was investigating allegations that banks had engineered the recent plunge of the peso against the U.S. dollar. He said that any offender would be punished. AP. Reuters, AFP, AFX

A Sales Pitch for U.S. Rice TNT Cites 'Challenge' Japan Tells Visiting Aide It Will Buy Some

Reuters

UTSUNOMIYA, Japan --- Mike Espy, the U.S. agriculture secretary, began a tour of Japan on Monday with visits to rice and calife farms, and called on Tokyo to open its rice market.

American farmers could supply Japan's rice shortfall this year, he said. Hit by its worst postwar rice harvest, Jnpan announced last month that it would import 200,000 tons of industrial-grade rice this year and maybe more next year.

"The only true way to ensure true food security is to open up the market to adequate world sup-"Mr. Espy said on a rice farm in Utsunomiya, 100 kilometers (60 miles) north of Tokyo.

He stressed that it was necessary to do away with barriers on foods other than rice as well, to benefit Japan's consumers. "We'd like to reduce tariffs and nontariff barriers, and open the gates so more food can flow into Japan," he said.

Japan's agriculture minister, Eijiro Hata, was quoted by ministry officials as telling Mr. Espy on Monday evening that Tokyo would import a "considerable amount" of U.S.-grown rice to meet its shortfall. He did not give specific figures.

Mr. Hata was quoted as saying Japan was very interested in the United States as n source for its emergency rice purchases. But "this is definitely an emergency measure and is a completely separate issue from the Uruguay Round" of GATT talks,

Mr. Hata was quoted as selling Mr. Espy. Tokyo bans commercial imports of rice on grounds of national food security, but is under heavy international pressure to replace this prohibition with tariffs.

Japan's rice ban is among a number of issues stalling the Uruguay Round of talks under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Mr. Hata told Mr. Espy that the GATT plan was flawed from the viewpoint of agricultural importer nations and that scrapping the rice bao was also politically very difficult for Japan.

Nine Thai rice exporters on Monday signed a contract to sell 133,000 tons of rice to Japan. Tokyo is also considering Australia, China and Vietnam as possible sources of rice.

Group Ltd. is planning an independent English-language newspaper to challenge the dominant South Chi-na Morring Post, said Steve Vines, na Morning Post, said Steve Vines, the new newspaper's designated edi-tor, on Monday.

Oriental Press Group, which tn June 30, 1995, but it recognized publishes the Chinese-language Mr. Kuok bought a 34.9 percent this was a "challenging objective." Oriental Daily News, will decide stake in the Post for $349 million Returns whether to push ahead with the project within the next two weeks, HONG KONG -- Oriental Press Mr. Yines said. In the next two weeks, Some observers have expressed colony's 1997 return to China, took control of South China Morning pro-China stance under Mr. Kuok. Mr. Vines said Oriental Press

Reuters SEOUL - Up to 30 percent of spot because they lack a state iden-fatse-name account hniders in lity-card number. Borrowed-name South Korea had yet to give their true identities on Monday, on the else's genuine documentation, of-eve of a deadline for South Kore-ten a child's, are harder to trace.

ans to stop using pseudonyms in Financiat transaction Starting Tuesday, those who of dealing under false names risk holding out were unlikely to capituconfiscation of some of their assets.

Koreans two months to put their

Many Koreans Keep Their Alias Accounts False-name accounts are easy to accounts, opened with someone

Braving Penalties,

Newspapers said the wealthy with something in hide preferred using borrowed-name rather than continue the long-standing practice false-name accounts and that those late. Most preferred to surrender Government figures issued on some assets rather than reveal the vestigation into tax evasion or cor> mists said. After Tuesday's deadline, all unregistered accounts will be regarded as false-oame accounts and 10 per-

"In the long run, any atlempt to iel, branch manager of Barings Securities in Seoul. But the price is short-term pain:

about 46 trillion won in 1992.

The purcel express unit contributed to a widening of TNT's aftertax loss last year, to 257 million dollars. A New Hong Kong Newspaper Stirs wornies that the Post, until now controlled by Rupert Murdoch's News Corp., might shed its independent editorial policy in favor of a more

Post (Holdings) Ltd. last week. "took the view that there would be a very good market position for an independently minded newspaper."

Monday showed that only about 70 source of their wealth and risk inpercent of false-name bank nccount holders had owned up by last rupi gains, newspapers and econo-Wednesday. Banks and securities houses reported no signs of a lastminute rush before the deadline. A decree issued by President Kim Young Sam on Aug. 12 out- cent of the funds will be appropriatlawing the use of aliases gave South ed by the government each year.

financial affairs in order. "Many, it seems, plan to sit tight and hope for an amnesty further down the line," a government official said. "That is wishful thinking." The deputy prime minister. Lee Kyung Shick, said Friday that about 4 trillion won ($4.9 hillion) in false and borrowed-name accounts

Barclays de Zoete Wedd Securities estimates the bond market and the underground lending market account for 20 percent of all corpohad been converted into real-name rate financing. accounts. BZW said the size nf South Korea's underground economy was mained in false-name accounts, but unknown. But an estimate from the amount still in borrowed-name Shinhan Research Institute put it at

He said 1.2 urillion won re-accounts was unknown.

clean up cronyism and skulduggery is n good thing," said William Dan-

Page 14

Pa

lat

:

1

.

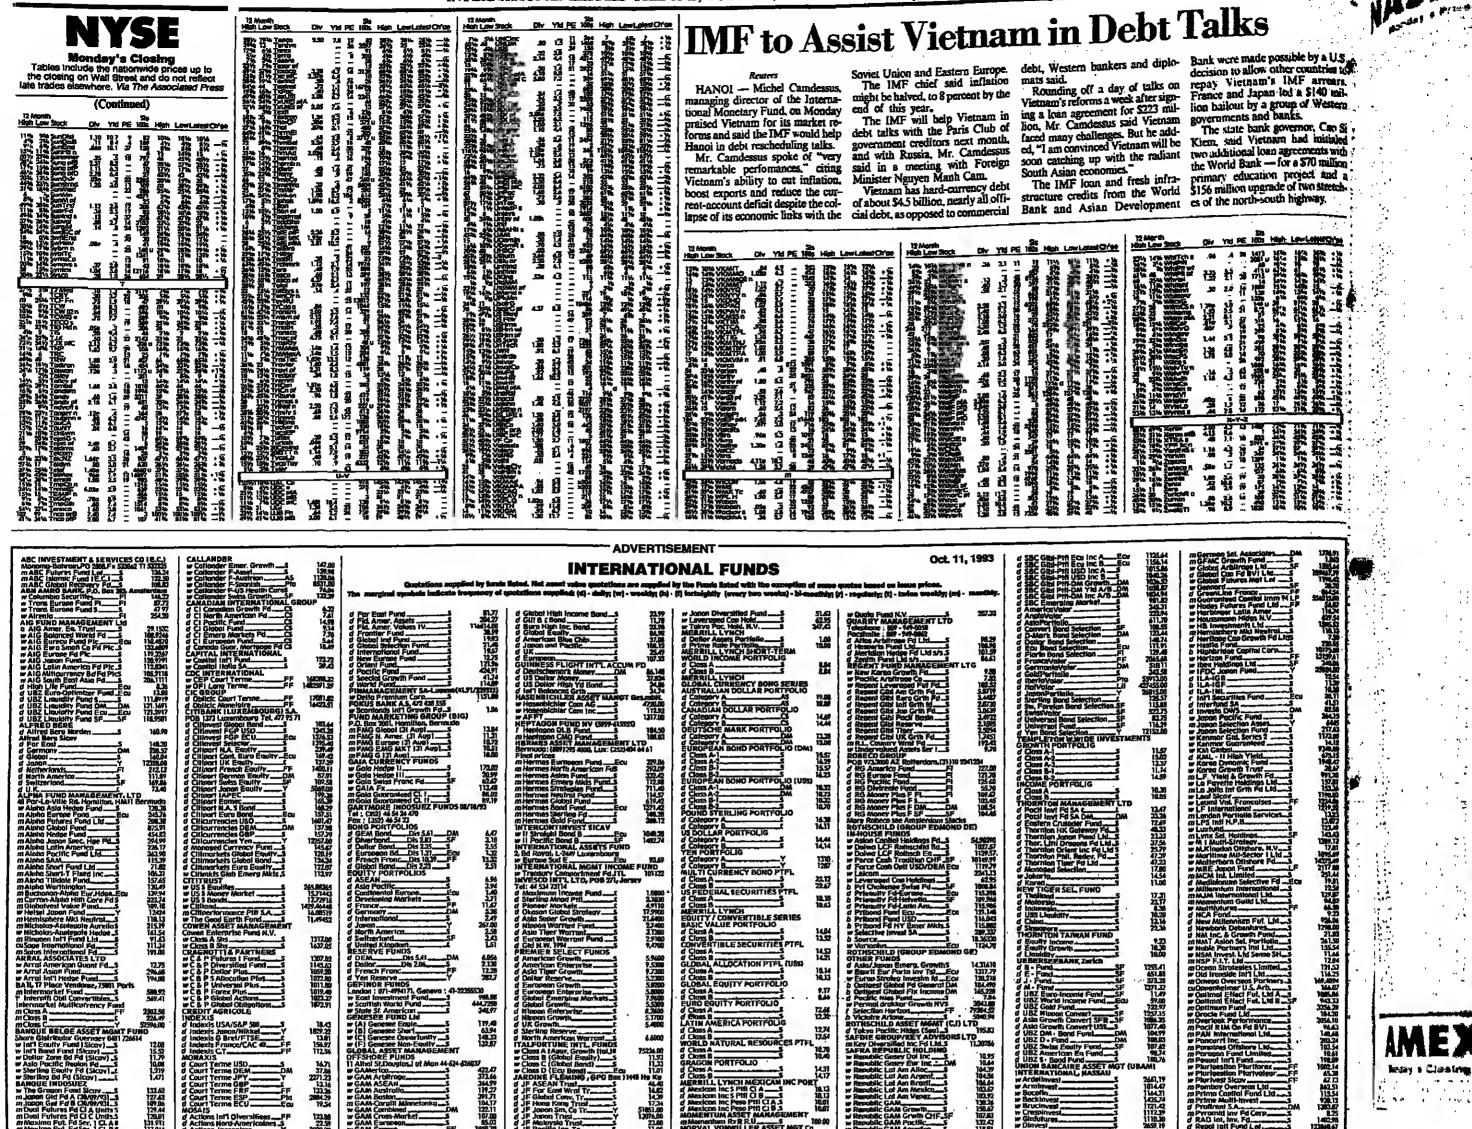

3

1

And A Contract of the local division of the

÷

minocime Ext. Fig. 50. 1C. 15       117.45       dialogical consideration of the second conse	And 122         • GAM How CANCOL         1004 GOV ST Man Form         1004 GOV ST Man Form	1000         1000 <td< th=""><th>Contraction of the second second</th><th></th></td<>	Contraction of the second
AS - Australian Dollars; AS - Austrian Schillings; BF - Belgian Prancs; C FL - Dutch Florin; Lk - Italian Linz; LF - Lusambourg Francs; p-pence; P Not Available; N.C Not Communicated; p - New; S - suspended; SIS - Amstandam exchange; b - misquoted center; x-not registered with regu	25-Canadian Bollans; DM - Deutsche Marks; ECU - European Currency Unit; FF - Franch Francs; tas - Pesetas; SGS - Singapore Dollars; SF - Swiss Francs; Y - Yen; a - saked + - Olter Prices; N.A - Stock Split; *- Ex-Divident;  - Ex-Ris; - Ø Olter Price Incl. 3% projon. charge; *- Paris exchange;++- datory euthority.	Fer information on how to list your fund	d, fax Simon OSBORN at (33-1) 46 37 21 33.
	المكامن الدجل		0

100.00

>			حكذا من الاجل
)ebt	Talks	*
		2310       2311

e 5

SPORTS

White Stops Elway, Twice, Packers Defeat Broncos

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches Reggie White put a stop to John Elway's latest comeback bid.

Page 16

Pa

White broke through for backto-hack sacks of Elway in the final 1:50 of a National Football League game in Green Bay. Wisconsin, to stop a Denver drive, and the Pack-ers, who led by 30-7 at the half, held oo for a 30-27 victory late Sunday

"Great players have to come op with great plays," said White, who finished with three sacks, doubling his total from his first four games with Green Bay. "We just did a good joh on those last two plays. That would have been a devastating loss for us."

Indeed, the Packers had blown fourth-quarter leads to two of their three losses, and another would have left them tied with Tampa Bay for last place in the NFC Central. Le-Lo Lang's interception at the Green Bay 43, the Broncos' third of the second half, gave Denver one last chance with 2:05 to play. But White brought down Elway for losses of 8 and 14 yards, the final sack with 1:27 to go.

Elway set career highs in passes with 59 and completions with 33. finishing with 367 yards. Vance 'lohnson caught a career-high 10 passes for 148 yards against the 'Packers' porous defense.

The Packers, behiod Brett Favre's passing to Sterling Sharpe and Jackie Harris, scored on all six of their first-half possessions three touchdowns and three field goals - for a 30-7 lead.

the Packers time after time in the second half, and Green Bay couldn't contain Elway until the end.

Steelers 16, Chargers 3: Gary Anderson kicked three field goals and linebacker Levon Kirkland returned Stan Humphries's fumble 16 burgh playing at home, won its on the sidelines.

39 Early English Fans Arrested in Amsterdam

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches AMSTERDAM - Thirty-nine English soccer fans had been apprehended for assault, disorderly said Monday. The violence occurred two days before the World Cup qualifier be-tween England and the Nether-· lands.

Police said the fans were picked up after arriving early to seek black market tickets for Wednesday third straight after opening the season 0-2

San Diego, which lost its second straight and has scored just four touchdowns this season, managed only 137 yards of offense, 10 of them rushing. The Chargers' leading rusher was Ronnie Harmon, who had three carries for 12 yards. Patriots 23, Cardinals 21: Backup quarterback Scott Secules threw a 2yard touchdown pass to Ben Coates

NFL ROUNDUP with 3:56 to play as New England won in Tempe, Arizona, after an 82-yard pass-and-lateral play. Secules passed to 13 yards to Kevin Turner, who stayed upright with a Phoenix defender holding his legs and shoveled the ball to Leonard Russell, who ran 69 yards down the sideline before being tackled at the two by John Booty. Booty's interception of Secules earlier in the fourth quarter had set up a go-ahead Phoenix touchdown.

Raiders 24, Jets 20: Vince Evans, at 38 the NFL's second-oldest quar-terback, replaced an ineffective Jeff Hostetler in the second quarter and guided the Raiders on a last-gasp

New York. Nick Bell scored on a 1-yard run with four seconds left and the Raid-

Evans completed 14 of 22 passes for 247 yards and two touchdowns with one interception. The Raiders committed five turnovers, three of which led directly to New York's first 17 points.

But the Broncos' defense stopped Several Top Players Hurt Not only did the NFL's most durable quarterback get hurt Sun-day, so did the league's two most 1992 drafts, both went down with knocking over cyclists and harassing women near the central train station, another official said. Later, eight more were appre-

conduct and drunkeaness, police hended on a nearby shopping street after a passerby was hit with a plank of wood, several others were punched and some were threatened with a knife, the official said. Numerous other English fans were arrested for drunkenness.

Rotterdam police have said they will deploy hundreds of officers

Marino, who started 145 consecutive non-strike games, tore his right Achilles' tendon late in the first half of Miami's 24-14 victory over Cleveland. Such injuries usually take six months or more to Bledsoe, of the New England Patriots, sprained the medial collateral ligament of his left knee in the first half of his team's 23-21 victory over the Phoenix Cardinals. There was oo immediate word on his long-range prognosis. Emtman, a defensive lineman for the Indianapolis Colts, tore ligaments and tendons in his right knee in a 27-3 loss to Dallas.

Emtman missed the final nine games of last season with a similar njury to his left knee.

The other notable injuries Sun-day: an injured knee for receiver Wendell Davis of the Chicago Bears, a hroken leg for linebacker Ken Rose of the Philadelphia Ea-gles and a dislocated shoulder for Miami linebacker John Offerdahl.

Sao Diego quarterback John Friesz sustained a mild concussioo in his first start since 1991.

72-yard, t1-play drive that beat SIDELINES

Confirmed: Senna to Join Williams ers without timeouts. DIDCOT, England (AP) - Williams-Renault confirmed Monday that three-time world champion Ayrton Senna will drive for the Formula One team next season as the replacement for four-time titlist Alain Prost.

Senna will team up with Damon Hill, winner of three Grands Prix so far this season.

recent No. 1 draft pieks. Drew Bledsoe and Steve Emt-man, the top picks in the 1993 and

The move was expected after Prost's announcement two weeks ago that he would retire. Senna, who last won the world title two years ago, has been unhappy with the performance of the McLaren-Ford cars he has been driving.

McLaren, which began the season with Senna and Michael Andretti, will start with an entirely new lineup next season. Andretti decided to Housion return to Indy car racing after a disappointing first season in F-1 and was replaced by Finland's Mika Hakkinen.

MELBOURNE (AP) — Monica Seles, who has not played since she was stabbed in the back by a spectator in April, plans to return to big-time tennis in January and defend her Australian Open title, organizers

Phoenix

UEFA Levies Several Stiff Penalties

BERN (AP) - UEFA handed out fines Monday to 50 clubs and suspended 26 players for rules violations in the second round of European championship matches.

Most severely penalized was Georgi Dankov of Bulgaria's Botev Plovdiv, who was barred from all European soccer competition until January 1998 for abusing a linesman in the UEFA Cup match against Olympiakos of Greece. Until Birol from Turkey's Kocselispor was banned until January 1997 for the same reason.

Lindsay McKeown, coach of Ireland's FC Linfield, and Florian Halagian of Romania's Dinamo Bucharest, were suspended until July

The Raiders lowered the boom on Boomer Esiason, then at game's end did the same to the Jets.

SCOREBOARD

sofo 15. Tomes Bey

FOOTBALL

NFL Standings						C points awarded for victory and 1 for the s-clinched stavall berts .
AMER	ICAN	CON		RENC	e	Subley Calgary 34, Saskald	's Results bysice 18
	*	L	т	Pts	PF PA
Miami	4	1	D	.306	Yan m	The AP Top 2	5		•
Buffalo	3	1	. 8		m 46		_	_
Indianapolis	2	2		.400	65 102	The teams in the o	allene feat	hat poll.	- ziet.Y.M	2	3	8	.400	3.39 764	first-place votes in
New England	1	4		.200	74 140	through Oct. 9, total 1	entra base	e on 25 p	sinte
	6		1			ter & first-place vets
	w	ь.	т	Pts	PF FA	25th-pioce vole, and
Cleveland	2	2		.400			Recard		Pvs
Pittsburgh	2	2			198 78	1. Florido St. (61)	6-0-0	1.549	1
iouston	1	2		.250	81 77	2 Alabarna (1)	544	1.480	2
Incionati	÷.	5		.000	22 166	1. Notre Dame	6440	1,413	1
	1	Nest				4. Florida	5-0-0	1,345	ŝ
	w	L	т	Pts	FF PA	5. Ohio St.	5-0-0	1.345	2
Consos City	4	1	0		13 44	6. Nebraska	540	1.167	;
Server.	3	2	D	.400	128 95
A. Raiders	2	2		.400	10 20	7, Penn St.	5-0-0	1,163	- actrie	2	2		400		A. Miami ;	414	1,156	3
on Diego	2	5		.408		9. Oklahoma	544	1,073	10
				H. Termente	5-1-0	1,021	11
MATIO	HAL			LENCI	r	11. Arizona .	5-0-0	957	12
		Eas	1			12. Washington	414	275	12 .
		L	т	Pts	FF PA	12. Tents ALM	4-1-0	897	14
LY. Gionts	4	1		.100	234 61	14. North Corolina	6-1-0	487	15
hi iodelohio	4	1			118 712	15. Virgiola	5-0-0	613	18
Dallas	3	2			164 25	ta. Wisconshit	540	356	Z
homis	1	4		,200		17. West Virginia	544	470	_
Vashington	1	4	0	,200	93 125	18. Michigon	3-2-0	451	9
		Intra	d la			19. Auburn	6-0-0	426	22
	w	L	т	Pts	PF PA	29, Colorado	3-2-0	406	20
hictoryo	2	2	0	,400	97 59	27. Cattornia	5-1-8	346	16
terrait	2	2		.400	20 10	22. UCLA	3-2-0	27	25
dianesata	3	2		490	66 82	ZI. Louisville	5-1-0	212	17
Freen Bay	2	2	0	.400		24. Syrocuse .	3-1-1	178	23
ampa Bay	1	4	. 0	,200	54 122	25. Michigan St.	3-1-0	142
	w	٤.	T		PF PA	-		-	-
lew Or looms	5	D	0		134.74	BASEBA
an Francisco	3	2			125 101	and a state of the
A Rems	2	. 3 .	. 8	,400	77 186
tionto	٥	5	0	,000	FT 152	Japanese Lea	gues
Chico	under					· Centra	Leagure
						W	LT	Pct.	OB
Konsta					•	Yakutt 77	4 2	.614	-
	3 27, 1					Chunitchi 47		.557	7%
	mi 24,					Yamkuri 62	H 1	472	1572
N.Y. Giants 41, Washington 7						S MALENAL S

Philadelphia 1 2 1-4 Finit Parlod: Fodyk, P, 1 (Rocine, Bowen), Secand Perlod: Beranak, P, 2: Bowmonther, T, 1 (Zezel, Maccum); Paarson, T, 2 (Os-barne); Andrevchuk, T, 3 (Barschevsky, Gil-mau); Andrevchuk, T, 4 (Borschevsky, Gil-mau); Andrevchuk, T, 4 (Borschevsky); Baranek, P, 4 (Brind'Amour, Dineén), Third Perlod: Galley, P, 1 (Rombers, Hawsoot) (pol): Quiler, T, 1 (Peorpan, GRU), Shots on usal-Taranto (an Saderstrom) 7-1)-13-37, Philadelphia (on Polvini B-13-10-11, kentiond 8 2 1-3

8 7 0 400 417 4 18 9 342 364

Suns Say Barkley 'Doing Very Well'

The Associated Press PHOENIX - Tests have revealed no permanent damage and floor. Charles Barkley could be returning to training camp later Monday, ac- workout," Colangelo said. "Nothcording to officials of the Phoenix ing like surgery is required. Charles Suns of the National Basketball Association.

The results the tests "are good news," the team's president, Jerry Barkley." Colangelo, said in a statement after learning the results of the magnetic resonance imaging, CAT-scan and neurological exam performed Sunday. "Charles is doing very well." Co-langelo said at the team's training camp at Northern Arizona University in Flagstaff. "He will undergo one more test" on Monday morn-ing, "and if the results are as posi-

Colangelo said the injury was to the L-5 vertebrae and probably stemmed from a thickening of the scrimmage Saturday night when he suddenly pitched forward on to the (h

· · · · ·

2010 B.B.B.

5 . . . f S

والمعادر بال

Sec. 1 as

. . . . . .

and a street

. . .

. . .

يستنه المك

1. 21 3. 44

1. 6 444

· · · ·

1.2 24 34

4. 4.20-

.......

ونعوالا متدعية

جبتين ،

- , _

4 4 🚆

----

- 4 G (***

A. 1. 34

··· 7, ****

---I have stated

15 Sec. 1648

to the second second second

Sec. 🗰

يسي وي

"He maxed out in terms of his will have to cut back on his work. outs. This is great news for the Phoenix Suns and for Charles

It was also great news for the NBA, which lost Michael Jordan to retirement just last week and Magie Johnson, Larry Bird and Kevia McHale in the past 14 months. Over the last four months, there were also the deaths of Reggie Lewis of Boston and Drazen Petrovic of New Jersey.

"I kept running, then I kept get-ting slower and slower," Barkley said Sunday. "It was like my legs started going into the floor. I couldn't lift my feet. I couldn't move my legs at all. It scared me to death.

He was brought to Phoenix. where he was examined by team doctors at an undisclosed hospital.

Barkley, 30, was diagnosed with able player last season, was run- a bulging disk in August but wat a ning with teammates after an hour treated with an epidural cortisone.

tive he could be back up here" on Monday night. Barkley won't need surgery and apparently will only have to reduce his workouts, Colangelo said.

tendon that rubbed against a oerve. Barkley, the NBA's most valo-

e Ange

SUNDAY'S RESULTS

HOCKEY 13-11-30. Q IHL Standings First Period: Motteou. C. 1 (Todd. Muni); EASTERN CONFERENCE

0 6 13 0 4 12

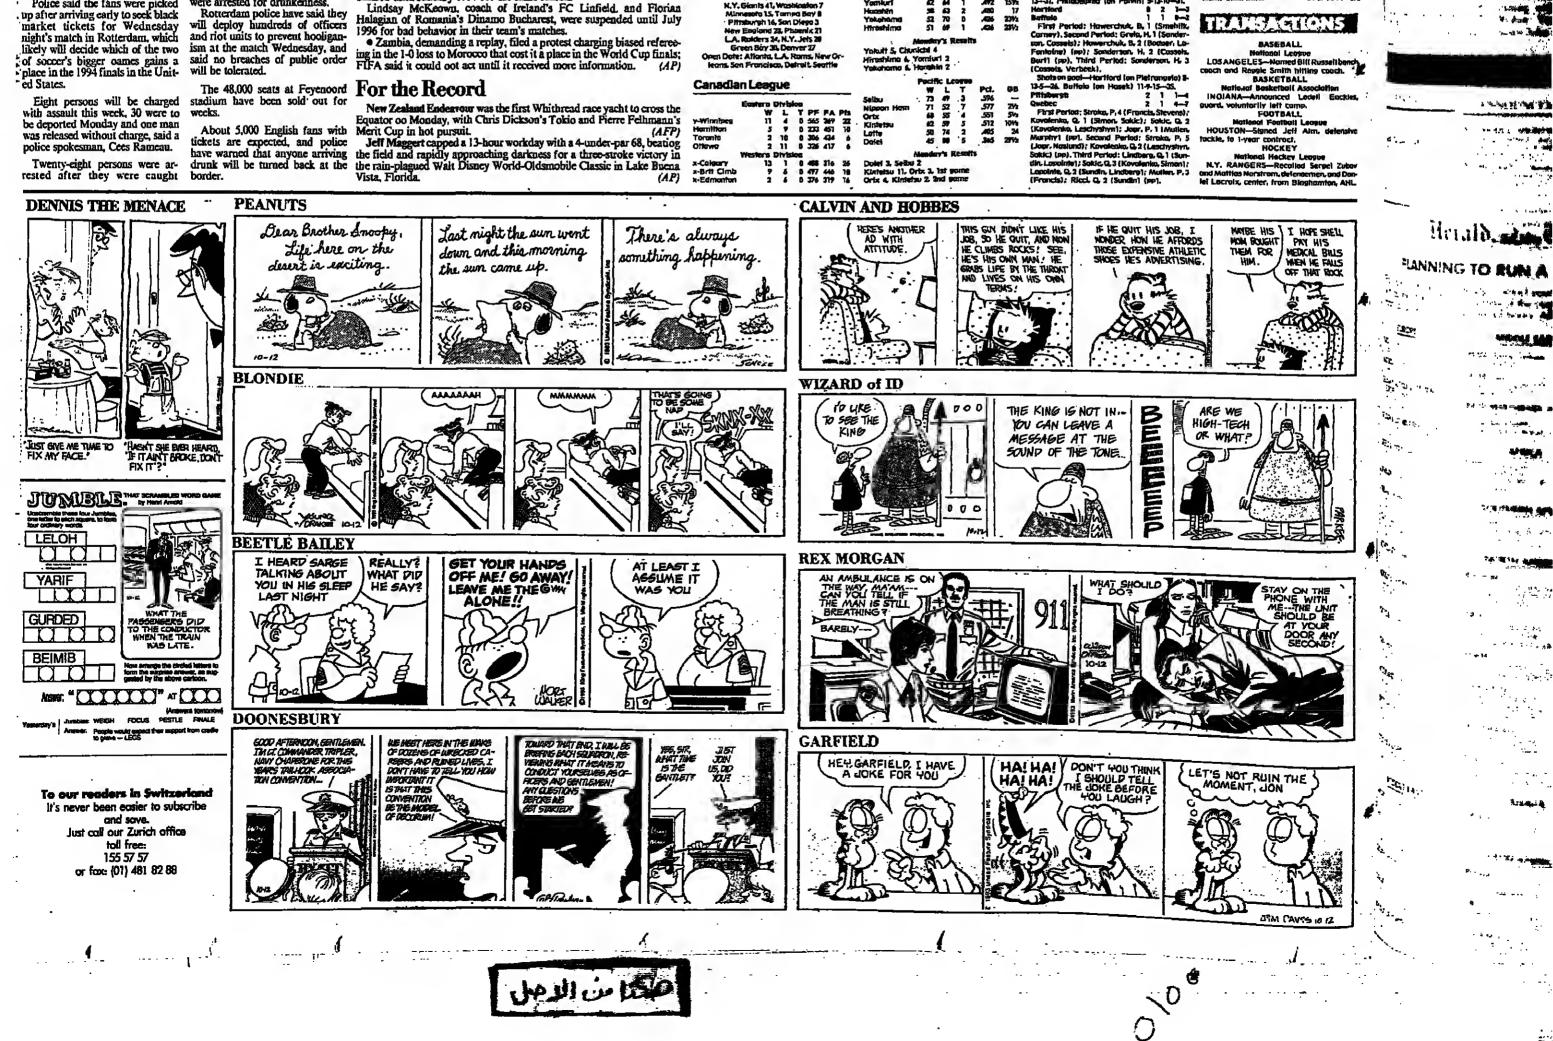

First Period: Motteou. C, 1 (Todti, Masii); Olaussan, W, 11 Zhennov, Mitronovi ; Gunhai, W, 1 (Explex, Yseberri I: Reenkik, C. 4 (Gou-leri, Cheliosi Ise). Second Period: Steen, W, 1 (Selanne, Disussan); Motteou, C, 2 (Todd. Christiani. Third Period: None. Quertime: Graham, C. 1 (8.Suiter, Smithi. Shots on gool-Winnisce I on Beliauri 144-1-29, Chicapo Ion Beoursoord) 124-233-45; NY, Islander's 1 1 1-4 Ansheim 1 1 1 1-3 First Period: Turgeon, NY, 1 (Mohekow); (pa): Semenav, A.1 (Hilli (pp): Second Peri-First Period; Turseon, NY, 1 (Akotektov) (pol; Semenov, A. 1 (Hill (pol. Second Peri-ad; Yoke, A. 1; Ferroro, NY, 1 (House, Matoh-rol; Carkum, A. 1 (Yoke). Overtime: Turseon, NY, 2 (Akokhov, Tomoe). Shots on soci—New York (on Tusnot). 211 13-2-27, Ancheim (on Hextall (12-511-27). Can, Jone San Jose Los Angeles Los Angeles 1 1 3-3 First Period; Sondhitrom, LA, I (Srehisy, Ru-chell, Second Period; Robitoile, LA, 2 (Corteo, Biote) (op); X (roupo, SJ, 1, Third Period; Fei-ion, SJ, 3 (Molocrov) (po); X (urt, LA, 1 (Robi-tollie, Huddy); Cronoto, LA, 1 (Zhilmik) (en); Conocher, LA, 3 (Svidor, Greizky) (en); Shots on socia-Soci Jose (on Hrudey) 11-12-15-38, Los Angeles (on Irbel 16-512--32,

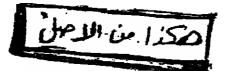

GOLF WALT DISNEY-DLDSMOBILE CLASSIC Floot structions and the sorrys, S.I. million Work Disney Workd-Didsmobile Classic, stored on the 7,190-yard Magnolia Caasse, $55-yard Paim Course and the $25-yard Loke Buenty Visie Golf Club (finst round on Magnolia): Jeli Mappert Greg Kralt 46-65-66-68-245 40-47-48-47-248 Craig Studier Loren Roberts 44-48-47-69-270 70-48-43-69-270 Tom Purize 64-68-71-69-272 68-68-71-65-272 44 67-68-74-

TRAMSACTIONS

yards for a touchdown as Pitts- knee injuries, joining Dan Marino Australian Open Says Seles to Play said Monday. "I spoke to her management last week and they told me that Monica has her sights set very definitely on a comeback before the Open," said the president of Tennis Australia, Geoff Pollard. "She has a lot of computer points at stake and doesn't want to miss another Grand Slam." Günter Parche, 39, the unemployed lathe operator from Nordhausen in eastern Germany who has been charged with stabbing Seles, is to go on trial Tuesday in Hamburg.

SPORTS Subscription Subscrip Guzman Continues Mastery Over Chisox Ace McDowell

Dispectson p AntWilliams p Totals Atlanta Nixon ci Biouser as Gani if McGriff 1b .235 Pendieton Justice ri Olson c 297 223 Berryhill c Lemke 2b Smallz p Mercker p Cobrera on DSanders p 0 235 .500 .809 ers pr Wonters p Pecoto ph 0 1,000
 Totals
 34
 1
 8
 1
 2
 6

 Philadelohia
 000 200
 698-2
 2
 1

 Atlanta
 318
 000 000-1
 1 1 a-singled for American in the 7th, b-singled for 1

 1 1 1
 1

Stocker sa Divjockson p

520

.182 .111 .267 .250

on me."

games to two.

day

with Toronto leading by three

The White Sox planned to rest

Mondoy, passing up a workout at Comiskey Park, which did not treat them kiedly in the first two games last week. They will show up Tuespared to pitch Alex Fernandez, the second-game loser, against Dave Stewart, the second-game winner. The Blue Jays planned to work out, hut they already had a pretty good workout Sunday as they regis-

Award pitched ioto the seventh inning but gave up seven runs on 13

Guzman, on the other hand,

7 hits in his previous 9 at-bats.

hits and two walks.

nings.

fifth inning.

night for the sixth game pre-

a-singled for Alerchar in the 7th, b-singled for Wohlers in the 9th, 1-ran for Coberers in the 7th, E--MWWittams 111, Lemke (11, LOB--Philo-delphia 15, Atlanta 11, 28-48, Thompson 111, AuGorith (2), Pendielon (1), Lemke (21, RB,Is--Stocker 111, Da.Jackson (11, Lemke (21, CS--Gant 111, S--Nizon 2, SF--Stocker, GLOP--Gent.

Rumers left in scoring position—Philodet-phile 8 (Morandini, Kruk, OHollins, MiThomp-bon 2, Stacker 31; Alianito 8 (Gont 3, Otson, Lemike 2, Smoliz 2). Rumers moved up-Elsenreich, M.Thomp-on, Blowler, Justice, OP-Philodelphin 1

Justice. phio 1 | Morondini Cad Kruki. P H 0 ER 88 50 MP ERA 1745 9 1 1 2 6118 1.77 175 1 0 0 0 0 14 0.00 IF H 2 ER 88 50 MP ERA 645 8 2 8 5 10 125 0.00 P 0 0 0 0 0 6 2.45 2 0 0 0 3 5 43 3.00 PMESSIONERAL Mitellines 3.4 DnJcksn W 1-0 745 MWIIIms S 1 1/5 Attente IP Smoltz L. 8-1 4/5 onns 2-0, off Wohlers IA. Thompsoni 1. HBP-by

AL Series, Game 5

Chicago Roines II Cora 25 Thomos Ib Venturo 3b Burks ri Bulockson dh Luohnson cf Korkovice c .158 .357 .235 .314 .008 .250 0 _263 Totats Toronio White ct or 26 Corter r Olerud 1b Mollfor dh T.Ferric 0 1 2 0 0.1 0 0 5 14 4 5 Doute 3b 10090 800 918 802-3 5 1 monto 111 189 181-5 14 0 -McDowell 111. 608-Chicago 3, Toronto E--McClowell 111. COB--Children J. Terring 12. 28-R.Henderson 121, White III, Molitor 120, HR-Ventura (1) off D.Word, Burks (3), Physical Science (1), Serosue 2 (4), Se--R.Henderson 12), RAlomar 3 (3), Bor-ders (1), CS--R.Henderson 111, SF-Springue, GUDB--Children Ottawille, Ottawi

ders (1), CS=K-Renderson (1), SF-Sproque, (GIDP-Coulden, Overud, Rusners left in scaring position—Chicaga I 18.Jackissa); Faconic y IR.Henderson, White 2. Corter 3, Olerud 2, Sprogue), Rusners moved up-Corter, T.Fernandez, OP-Chicage I (Guitten and Themas) To-ranto 218 Alaman and Chevell Observations ronto 2 [R.Alomor and Olerud], (Olerud and

T.Fernondez]. Chicopo IP D R ER 14 50 MP ERA McDowil L 0-2 215 S 3 3 3 1 41 10.09

Dykstra's Homer Lifts Phils in 10th; Jays Lead, 3-2

base after throwing to second, he By Murray Chass missed tagging the bag after receiv-ing the return throw. New York Times Service TORONTO - The American Burks took advantage of the League's championship series will missed double play and singled to not last long enough for Jack Mc-Dowell to keep pitching against the Toronto Blue Jays and Juan Guzcenter, but Guzman struck out Bo Jackson for his sixth strikeout of the game. That turned out to be his man until he gets it right. McDowell, who led the league last inoing of a performance that was far more overpowering and with 22 victories and was its only controlled than the one last week. 20-game winner, tried for the sec-In the opener, Guzman threw 122 pitches, 59 strikes and 63 balls. Sanday he threw 113 pitches, 71 strikes and 42 balls. McDowell didn't do anything differently. He had his same old same acquiret the Blue Lane. ond time to the pennant playoff Sunday, and for the second time the Blue Jays' batters battered him. "I know how to pitch those guys, "I know how to pitch those guys, I just didn't do it," an irritated McDowell said later. "I feel bad personally, but I feel worse for the guys in this eluhhouse who counted game against the Blue Jays. But this time the Blue Jays got McDowell the first time around. Rickey Henderson, who had only Guzman, who beat McDowell in one hit in 15 times at bat in the first the series opener, was even hetter four games, grounded a double along the left-field line as the first this time, giving up only three hits in seven ionings in a 5-3 victory that sent the series back to Chicago batter. McDowell struck out Devon White, but he walked Roberto Alomar. MeDowell obviously was think-ing about the possibility that Hen-derson could steal third, and with Joe Carter at bat, he turned and faked a throw to second. Then he turned agaio and this time did not fake. He should have. MeDowell fired the ball out of Cora's reach, and it scooted into center field as Henderson raced around third and home. That was run No. 1, Run No. 2

came in the second inning. Paul Molitor, the Blue Jays' leading hittered the first home-team victory in the five games. They did it by knocking MeDowell out in the third ter with a .412 series average, began the inning by doing what Henderinning, scoring three runs against him on five hits and three walks. Last Tuesday, the favorite for the American League's Cy Young dez, and then he scored on Ed. Sprague's fly near the right-field line on which Burks made a diving catch shed the wild streak he displayed in McDowell began the third by the series opener, in which be walking Alomar, who promptly raced to second for the first of his walked eight, hit one batter and threw three wild pitches in six inthree stolen bases. He moved to third as Carter grounded out and The right-hander retired the first then trotted the final 90 feet as 13 White Sox batters, permitting no one to reach base until Ellis Olerud singled to right. A wild pitch and a walk to Molitor Burks lofted an 0-1 pitch over the brought McDowell's day to an end. left-field fence with one out in the Jose DeLeon, the oew pitcher, series with a 2-1 victory, crimited no more runs that in-Jackson kept the Brave ning. But after striking out the first two batters in the fourth, he gave Furthermore, he dido't walk anyone until he put Joey Cora on as the leadoff batter in the seventh. up a double to White, who raced Tim Raines, who entered the game as the series' leading hitter with a home when Alomar singled to cen-

.526 average (10 for 19), went 0 for 3 against Guzman after having had

Phillies Win, 2-1, on Jackson's Pitching, and Bat

By Mark Maske

Washington Post Service every inning hut the eighth and ATLANTA — Just when the At-lanta Braves seemed ready to cruise Kruk setting an NL playoff record into their third straight World Se- with four whiffs and Dave Hollins ries, unlikely pitchiog - and hit- and Jackson each fanning three ting - from Danny Jackson got the times. Philadelphia Phillies back into the Jack Philadelphia Phillies back into the Jackson, during the season, was National League's championship just 5-for-65 (.077) with two RBIs.

Jackson kept the Braves' recently explosive offense in check and pro-vided the winning hit, an RBI sin-"I was more happy with the way I gle during a two-run fourth against Atlanta's starter, John Smoltz.

Stocker's sacrifice fly, the other on Jackson's two-out hit.

ter. The Blue Jays added a run in the seventh. Scott Radinsky walked tersured that the series would re-be seventh. Scott Radinsky walked tersured that the series would re-tersured that the series would 4-3 Victory Over Braves Puts Philadelphia Up, 3-2 Compiled in Our Stuff From Deputcher nats from 1942 to 1944, must win ATLANTA - After Mitch Wil- two in a row on the road, just like it liams and Kim Batiste helped Phil-adelphia hlow a 3-0 lead in the rates in Pittshurgh.

tional League playoffs.

third and first with only one out.

McMichael's next pitch for his second home run of the series, and sixth in post-season play, over the

The NL series oow returns to Philadelphia, where the sixth game will be played Wedoesday and the seventh, if needed, on Thursday.

Earlier, it was the defense of leftfielder Pete Incaviglia and right-fielder Wes Chamberlain that kept come up with Ron Gant's grounder to third, setting up another dramat-

So, despite being nutscored 30-

16 in the series, the Phillies moved within a game of their first World

first NL team to win three straight ie Braves' comebaek.

Series since 1983.

right-centerfield fence.

For a few moments, the ninth seemed like the seventh game of lith-inning Len Dykstra hit a luth-inning homer Monday that gave the Phillies a 4-3 victory over tast year's playoffs, when the Braves overcame a 2-0 deficit Atlanta and a 3-2 lead in the Naagainst Pittsburgh and won the pennant on Francisco Cahrera's The Braves managed to tic the two-run single. game with a three-run rally in the ninth, hut failed to land the knock-

It also was reminiscent of Batiste's error in the ninth inning of out blow despite having men on Game 1, which allowed the Braves to tie the game before Philadelphia Philadelphia reliever Mitch Wil-liams struck out Mark Lemke, then won in the t0th.

got Bill Pecota to fly to center. Then Dykstra, 0 for 4 in the game, worked Greg MeMiehael to a 3-2 count. Dykstra hlasted With runners on first and second following Batiste's error on Monday, Williams relieved Schilliog. And just like in Games 1 and 4, it was ao adventure.

Fred McGriff singled on the first pitch to make it 3-1, and David Justice's sacrifice fly to left pulled the Braves within a run.

Terry Pendleton lined a single to center, moving McGriff to second, and Cahrera hounced a two-hopper just past shortstop Kevin Stocker for the tyiog run. Pendleton sped to third, but

Lemke struck out and pinch-hitter the Braves from scoring, But after Curt Schilling walked Jeff Blauser to open the ninth, Batiste failed to Pecota flied softly to center. Atlanta went quietly in the 10th against Larry Andersen, the Phillies' 40-year-old right-hander, who was knocked around for four runs in one inning during Game 2. Otis Nixon flied out, Blauser struck out swinging, and Gant took a called third strike.

Schilling gave up only four hits Atlanta, seeking to become the while striking out nine. (AP, UPH game-ending double play. Neither team knew what to ex-

and Channell Reuters

Jackson got the victory with a pect from its starting pitcher. The Philles, in particular, had to cross 74-inoing, nine-hit, one-run, sixstrikeout showing. Smoltz lowered their fingers and hope for the best. his career postseason earned run average to 1.94. But he lost for the his way in and out of peril. He first time in six postseason deci-sions. He had 10 strikeouts in his six ioniogs — giving him the NL series record with 44 — but allowed Mickey Morandini grounded into a Mickey Morandini grounded into a forceout, and Smoltz struck out eight hits and walked five. But Jackson was tough when it

Kruk and Hollins with good fastballs, Smoltz had six strikeouts in the promptly gave up a long drive to first three innings. He survived a the no. Ventura closed out the scoring by hittig a two-run bomer off Duane Ward in the ninth. by hittig a two-run bomer off Duane Ward in th to get put of trouble. In the meantime, the Braves had given Smoltz a 1-0 lead with which to work. After Jackson breezed through the first inning. Fred McGriff grounded a single into right field to lead off the second. David Justice hounced a base hit Smoltz, from the outset, weaved into right one out later, and Lemke yanked a two-out liner just inside the left-field line to get McGriff home from second base.

Lemke, though, got the Phillies going in the top of the fourth. Daulton's leadoff grounder was sharply hit, right at the second baseman, who couldn't come up with the hall cleanly, and Daulton pennants since the St. Louis Cardierror at second base put the Phillies Nixon's hunt, But Jeff Blauser's again struck out Kruk and Hollins on their way to two uncarned runs hunt produced a forceput at third in the fourth. One scored on Kevin and Ron Gant grounded into a stranded at least one runner in

"He threw the ball where my bat was swinging and I was able to get "I was more happy with the way I pitched tonight, keepiog my team in there. I got out of a couple of Olerud and gave up a one-out sin-gle to Fernandez. After Roberto Hernandez replaced Radinsky. Sprague blooped a single to left for was a battle of attrition. The Phil-er, Bobby Cox. "With one hit here the state of the state of attrition of the state of attrition of the state of attrition. The Phil-er, Bobby Cox. "With one hit here of attrition of the state of attrition of the state of attrition. The Phil-er, Bobby Cox. "With one hit here of attrition of the state of attrition of the state of attrition of the state of attrition. The Phil-er, Bobby Cox. "With one hit here of attrition of the state of attri

Rodinsky	3	1	1	1	1	0	9	4.75	Guzman fo
· R.Hernandez	145	3	0	0	0	1	22	8,00	. by striking ou
"Toronta	IP.	н	٥	EØ	54	50		.RRA	Frank Thoma
Guzmon W.2-8
· Costilla	1	Ð	0	0	1	0	10	8.00
								4.00
interited n		13-6	COI	red-	-De	م.	on	2-0,	Robin Ventu
R.Hermandez									when John Ol
and the local Distance		4	- A		-		-		when Iohn / Il

ollowed his lone walk ut the ever-frightening as for the second time. have been out of the a double play from ura's grounder. But lerud repreated to first leadoff walk to Darren Daulton in the second, striking out Stocker to end the inning. He allowed one-out ble down the right-field line, with beat the throw tu first. One out ble down the right-field line, with

-
	PERSONALS	ANNOUNCEMENTS	TESOL-FRANCE	BADEME AS 24	·BUSINESS SERVICES		GREAT BRITAIN	AT HOME IN PARIS PARIS PROMO	LATIN QUARTER, Inte Bat, 2 rooms, latchen/bath, sunny, wew, heating, Owner let 1-43 54 65 69	EMPLOYMENT
	HANK YOU SAINT JUDE and Sacrad Heart of Jezz for prayers answered. BR	ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS Engine specifing meetings dealy. Tek PARL (1) 46 34 59 65 or ROME 678 0330 o HANKRURT 5974265. FEELING low? — boring problems	For ERVESL teachers and trainers	BAREME AS 24 ou 12 Octobre '93 Pro: Hoss TVA en device locale (troduction disponde sur domande) Remplace les barêmes antérieurs FRANCE (zone Q en FF/1 - TVA: 18,0%	$AVE ON	EXECUTIVE SUITE LA DEFENSE CILLATER 2 rooms, 70 spa, with filted latchen, crecken wer over Pana, dosp to all ampnihes, with all exposed comfort + parking. FF1,400,000. CPH LA DEFENSE	CENTRAL LONDON, Lucury fully for- nished and exapped town have for minings 6 month rest, 3/4 beckaans, 3 bathroom. All modern com- nences, underground parking, Possible home and affice ins. £4000-month. Tet. Spanks 44 71 823 5049 Fox: 44 71 823 5703	continuents to rent formshed or not Soles & Property Management Sovices, 25 Av Hoche 75008 Paris Fas 1-45611020 Tel: {1} 45 63 25 60	PARIS AREA UNFURNISHED	ENGLISH TRAINERS
		FBELING low? — having problems SOS HELP crassine in English, 3 p.m. 11 p.m. Tel-Pons (1) 47 23 80 80.		FRANCE [zone Q en FF/I - TVA: 18,6%           GO: 3,37         FOD*-210           SC97: 4,81         SC97: 4,24           ULIC en C/I - TVA. 17,5%         FOD*-0.245           GO: 0,397         FOD*-0.245           ALLEMAGNE en DW/I - TVA: 15,0%	International Phone Calls	Tel. (1) 47 76 42 26 AVENUE MONTAIGNE Frang Hotel Plana, Lucary 80 sq.m. 1 pp security. Tel. (1) 47 20 55 08 (from - 1 pm)	PARIS AREA FURNISHED	74 CHANGS BYSES	Embassy Service YOUR REAL ESTATE AGENT IN PARIS	You are dynamic, anthinous, the people, the responsibility, enjoy warfung in a team and have esperance of teaching in companies based in France. Then companies based in France. Then companies based in France. In Farm Hell (33-1) 42-77-22 861 or Lyon Hell (33-78-97-03-91) BNG(15H MOTHER TONIGUE ONLY.
[]	Herald Eribune.			GO: 0.91(them) SCSP*:1,18 GO: 0.96 (Berlin)	New yes can call the U.S. and save as much as 65% compared to local phone companies. SAVE UP TO 50%	SWITZERLAND	"BETTER THAN A HOTEL"	FOR I WEEK OR MORE high cleas studio, 2 or 3-room opartments. Fully EQUIPPED. LAWEDIATE RESERVATIONS Tel: (1) 44 13 33 33	Tel: (1) 47.20.30.05	ENGLISH MOTHER TONIGUE ONLY.
	PLANNING TO RUN A CLASSIFIED AD? Place your Ad quickly and easily, contact your nearest IHT office or representative with your text, You will be informed of the cost immediately, and once poyment is made your ad will appear within 48 hours. All major Credit Cards Accepted.			BEGIQUE en FB/I - TVA: 19.50% GO: 21,26 F00*-10.52 SC97: 28,20 SCSP*:25,52 ESPAGNE en PIAS/I - TVA: 15,0% GO: 72,96	U.S. and save as much as 65% compared to local phone companies. SAVE UP TO 50% off the major Cracit Cord Differ Services. Ray los thes. U.S. originating rates an calls originating overseas. Night and wackend distorts opply.	Sole to foreigners eartheating, our precisity events 1975 re-		Handpicked quality apartments, all sames, Pans, and suburbs, CAPITALE PARTNETS 1et (1) 44 43 88 15, Fas: (1) 44 43 88 10		DOMINICAN DIVORCE For mfo send your address. Bar 66423, Woshengton, DC 20035 USA Fax-301 454-362* (002
1	with your text. You will be made your ad will appear EUROPE	within 48 hours. All major C MIDDLE EAST	redit Cords Accepted.	GO: 72.96 SC97: 94.87 Usage nightmente DUTY FREE SHOPS	No installation charges; No godgets in bary. Call from hotes, home or office. Benized billing, All digital. Call or Faz for information.	salect APAZIMENTS/ CHALETS in MONTREIX, VILLARS, LEYSTH, LES DUALIBERS, GSTAAD, CRANS-MONTANA, VERBIR, etc., From SFr. 200,000. (Mortywgan) EEVAC S.A.	OFFER YOU !! CUALITY APARTMENTS • View of the Server "& Effet Tower" • Lavances, telly equipped oppriments • Mod & Linen Service Studio (45 sq.m.) - F32000 per apath 2 rooms (70 sq.m.) - F32000 per apath 3 rooms (70 sq.m.) - F3000 per apath 4 room & 5 room oppriments available	WE ARE SPECIALISTS DE CRCOURT ASSOCIATES Tel 1-47 53 80 13. Fex 45 81 75 77	NDONESIA - An important callection of artificats from of over the archapel- ago spanning 25 centures. Gold & si- ver, branze, stone, histo at, testies & continens - over 2000 pieces. A great opportunity for a mission with no indension callection, or senous col-	DIVORCE FAST. $295.00 P.O. Box 8040, Anohem, CA 92602, Coll/For (714) 968-8095 USA.
		OMANE Madina Ochoon, Tel: 603420. GATAR: Daha, Tel: 416535/411177.	ECUADOR: Tel-328181/325248. Til: 3196.NU CULED For: 321266.	FREDDY	Call or Fax for information.	EPVAC S.A. S2, Membrillant, CH-1211 Geneva 2 Tel 4122-734 15 40, Fax 734 12 20 USA RESIDENTIAL	3 rooms (120 sc.m.) - F30(200 per month 4 room & 5 room opertments available For further information & reservation call 1-4525 9501. Fax 1-4288 2991	Vesnet or Sorirouville, From 4 days to 6 months, Studios, 2 & 3 records, Tel: (3) 30 86 23 00 Fee, (1) 30 86 23 30	lectors important peeces sold singly. For waters to Jokarla we can arrange or part pair up. Also will be visiting Lo- naton, Brussels, New York & Washington DC. New - Dec. Fizs. 62-21-7502807 or	International Herald Tribune ads work
1	GERMANY, AUSTRIA & CENTRAL EUROPE, Frondurt, Tel: (069) 72 67 55. Fr. (069) 72 73 111	For: 412727. UNITED ARAS BURATES: Storich, Tet 002151133. For: 1051274888. Teles: 68484 TRNGIF.	MEBOCD: Ke, Maxico Tel: 353 3164, for: 703 31 34. PANAMA: El Dorecto. Tel: (527) 69051 1. for: (527) 69 0380.	Newly renovated shop in heart of Paris. Come in & buy of your perfumes & grin "Darly Free at SAVINGS OF 40%. Two blocks from the "Opera", next to the American Express Rank REE GFT with the sad Mos-Fit 96-30 10 role Auber, Paris 9, Matrio Opera.	Tel: 1/206-284-8600 Fcu: 1/206-282-6666 417 2nd Avenue West Sentile, Wa 98119 USA	OCEANFRONT - MAUL HAWAI S55,000 Down/Ful Price $140,000 +. Corp. mult leardest Ins 800-60000/Text Bacteries under No questifying owner frances Ins 800-60000/Text 808-660-128	AGENCE CHAMPS ELYSEES specialists in furnished oportiments, residential areas, 3 months and more.	<ol> <li>Joth, AUTEUL, besuit-lui 2-room geomeent, oil comforts, direct view on Sene. F7000 + chorges, portuging available. Tel (1) 45 24 25 86 (3rd.) BEAUBOURG. In hatancol balang, charming 2 rooms, loggia. All comforts, beams, F5700 charges in cluded. 10- (1) 42 84 01 54.</li> </ol>		· Dealer?
	Tel: 34.7 18.99, 343-1914. Fx, 346-0353. GREECE & CTPRUS: Allers Tel: (30)14535246. Foo: 454 3513.	AFRICA EG1771: Coiro, Egynl, Tol: 34 99 838: The: 21 224 VPCO UN. For: 3444 429.	Tel: (51 14 41/452 Tel: 20449 GYDSA. For: 416 422	10 roe Auber, Paris 9, Mairo Opera. MOVING	OFFSHORE COMPANIES	REAL ESTATE TO RENT/SHARE HOLLAND	Tel: (1) 42 25 32 25 Fax (1) 45 63 37 09	PARIS BIENVENUE Short term with service & furnished rentals 3 months to 2 years Tel 1-02124040 from 1-02124048	Then don	't miss the
	Tel; 31 42 93 25 FNLAND: Heliniti, Tel: 358 101 640/412. For: 6121112.	SOUTHERN AFRICA Brownian Tet: 706.14.08, Tec: 421059. Fac: 706.34 66.	FAR EAST HONG KONG: Tel: 18527 8610616. Tel: 61170 HTHR. For (852) 8613073.	AGS INTE MOVING	FROM £150 Vonous countries, Full services, INTERNATIONAL COMPANY SERVICES (UIC) LIMITED Standstook House, 2 · 3 Old Bond Street, London W1X 3TB	Short Term Laoses for (sem) fur- national houses & flots. Tet + 31 20 6250071. Fros: + 31 20 6380475. Kezersgracht 33, 1015 CD Amsterdam	DYNAGEST Furnished or not. Service with a Smile. Tel 1-47227 0387. Fax 1-4553 4156	LE MARAIS - 4 RUE DU PERCHE, lovely 2-room flor, obout 40 sp.m. F6000 net. Vist today 4 40pm-600pm 7th, AMERICAN CHURCH, note and ludy equipped flot, 1 bedroom, P7,000 per month. 1et [1] 41 04 57 83.	every Wednesc	ssage Center lay in the Trib.
	ITALY: Miano. Tel.: 58315738. Fas: 546-2573. NETHERANDS: Assistedam, Tel.: 270757	NORTH AMERICA	NDM: Bookboy, Tel: (91-22) 412 2399. The 1185171 ADLIN. Fr: (91-22) 413 7396.	A.G.S. LONDON 144-811) 961 7395 A.G.S. PAIDS (331) 40 80 20 40 A.G.S. BEILIN 169 501 421 821 65 A.G.S. BEILIN 169 501 421 821 65 A.G.S. WARSAW 148-23 685 7216 A.G.S. WARSAW 148-23 62 555 A.G.S. MADRID (241) 411 61 77 A.G.S. ARDUN (229) 27 78 45	THE + 44 71 491 0605	ESCORTS & GUIDES		* EDELWEISS * Excert Agency C1-Zunch-Genevo 077-785148 D-Marice 0041 77-785148	•• ZURICH NEW •• VIOLET •• Excut Service, Great cards accepted. Lef 0/7 : 63 83 32.	GENEVA EXECUTIVE GENHA ESCORT AGENCY Tel: 077 91 00 50.
	Tel: 6730/57 Fox: 6737627 NORWAY & SWEDEN: Bergen Norway, Tel: [47] 55 913070	NEW YORK: Tal: (212) 752-3890. Tal frage 8000 527-2212. Tax 427 175 Frz 212-755-8785 CHICAGO:	NDONESIA: Jolorio Parol, Tel: (42-21)570-3123. The 65722 (OKA KA, Fr: (62-21)573 6077.	A.G.S. MANDUN (S-1) 41 / 41 // A.G.S. ABDUN (22) 27 /8 45 HOMESHP, Small & medium moves. boggage, cars worklowde. Call Orbrie Pars (1) 42 81 18 81 (rear Open).	REAL ESTATE FOR SALE MONACO	BELGRAVIA	MERCEDES	_	lei W7 7 03 03 32.	ZURICH - DOMINA LADY JANE Excel 5 rive - Gedit Gords 01 - 252 73 59 rison will 9pm • LONDON - CAREBEAN -
	Fax: (47) 35 913072. PORTUGAL: Liabon, Tel : 331-1-457-7293. Fox. 351-1-457-7352.	Tel: (312) 201-9393. for: 312-201-9398. Tel Free: 600-535-6208. NAWAR:	JAPAN: Takya, Tal: 32 01 02 10. Tal: 33 07 02 10. Tal: 33 073. Fx: 32 01 02 09. KOREA: 110 170	LOW COST FLIGHTS	MONTE CARLO PRINCIPALITY OF MONACO	ORCHIDS European For Eastern Brazilian	TE: [071] 351 6000	* PARIS & LONDON *  INITL EXCLUSIVE ELEGANCE  Escart Service Landon 71/394 5145	* * ZURICH Caroline Ecost Service. 01-252 61 74	Brazilian, Canbbean Escot Service Landon & Heathraw 071 258 0557. TORYO  ESCORT SERVICE Major credit cach accepted.
	SPAIN: Modrid, Tel.: 3508789. Fr.: 3509257.	Hondahu, H 96816, Tel. (808) 735-9188 For: (808)-737-1426. 105 ANCENE: Tel. (213) 850-8339. Tel. frae: (800) 848-4739. frae: 213-851-1508.	Tel: 734 12 87. Tele: 73504 (NH-FUR. For: 2739 0054. MALAYSIA: Pedeling loye. Tel: (603) 717-35 52. For: (603) 717-35 70.	DAILY RUGHTS AT LOWEST FAILS to only major North American will argort. Tel: WT Paris (331) 47 55 13 13 RELOCATION	INDIVIDUAL HOUSE in quest or 40 VIEW ON SEA & GAODENS oround 200 span, no 2 levels + ground 115 span, terroor lange gar pack HT12,500,000.	CHERT CARDS ACCEPTED 24 HR 071 589 5237	INTERNATIONAL ESCORTS Service Available Worldwide Tel: 212-765-7896 New York, USA Magor Credit Cards & Check: Accepted	LONDON ESCORT SERVICE American & Brozalian 7 days, London Vientinow Telephone (BSD 623/734	EC/JAPAN Escot & Guide Agency, TEL TOKYO (03) 3588 1990	Tel (03) 3430-4598. ••• GENEVA SCANDINAVIA ••• ••• ESCORI SERVICE CAROLE •• 1+ 077 • 75 37 17
	SWITTERIAND: Fully, Ial. (D21) 728 50 21. Fox: (D21) 728 50 91. TumCP' banhad, Tol.: 2320300, Fox: 2460666.Hz 26388.	fus: 213-851-1508. SAN FRANCISCO: Tel: 415-362-8339. fus: 415-362-5474.	NEMA: Kaliwandu Kel: 221-576, The 2606, MEDREP Fax: 227 336,	SERVICES PARS WELCOME SERVICE Home funning, orhanestratives formaties, inding setable school, electrony &	INTERMEDIA SOLE AGENT		ROTTERDAM WHITE'S	CHEISEA ESCORT SERVICE. 51 Beauchamp Piace, London SW3 Tel: 071-584 6513 Established 18 years.	GENEVA * INTERNATIONAL  Escort Service 1el 022 / 752 50 49 - 077 (259280	FRANKFURT & AREA Moras New Wit Escart Agency, Please Call Doy 597 66 66, Daily, VIENNA-PRAGUE*ZURICH* KEN. NEDYS INTL Escart Service All
	COVITR. UNITED IONISTICAN: London, Tel. 0/1 636 4802. Telex 262009. For: 2402254.	TEXAS: Houston, Tr. 77082, Tal./Fax: 713-496- 9603, Tal From: 800-576-7857.	PAIDSTAN: Korochi, Tel: 523 678. To.: 24801 INS PK. Fa:: 568 3933.	inding sendole schools, electricity & phone connectors, stc. 1el. (1) (35970.40, For: (1) 43.9970.39 BUSINESS	Tel 33-73 50 66 84 Fel 33-73 50 45 52 PARIS & SUBURBS	THE ESCORT SERVICE	Escort Service Westzeedcijk 94	MISS GENEVA * 346 00 89 PARS, Ecort Agency, Credit cards	ZURCHY BERNY BASEL Except Service Tel: 077'57' 29'67. MORRISON CLUB - YIENINA ESCORT	Condi Coll un now + 43   572 132 MIUNICH * WELCONE ESCORT & GUIDE AGENCY. PLEASE CALL 089 - 91 23 14
	MIDDLE EAST BAHRARE Maname, Tel./Fair: 591734	CANADA 1080/1870: 161: (505) 833-6200. fue: (505) 833-6200. fue: (505) 833-2116.	HELPHONES: Marco Monito. Tid.: 432-48170079 or 817-6052 Free: 632-4817-5002 Tabe: 075 64838 LTA SC. SNGAPORE: BRUNE: Singapore, Th: 22749. FT SN. Fr: 224 15 66	OPPORTUNITIES AMERICAN HEALTH & Number com- pany seeks 5 key people to work on the enternational expension, especially in Europe, Hong Kang, South Assessor & Russin, General Root expendency, entities are read to consider the	(dth) ST GERMAIN OIS MES Superb duples Sin & din Roor with in 156 som, broughly specifican + 2 bedrooms	LONDON * PARIS 071 937 8052	GENEVA * PARIS *PREFTY WOMAN Eccut Servor" Place call Genera 022 321 99 61	LONDON BRAZELIAN Escort Service 0/1 724 5597/91 Open 7 days	MORRISON CLUB - VIENNA ESCORT Sence 5, Rechte Wiensele 2a. 0227/56 86 84. JAPANESE CHINESE THAI ESCORT SERVICE. Days and evenings. Please phone 0/1 725 3314 London.	VIENNA * PARS * ZURICH * Eurocontact In/L Escart + Travel Service Call Venna + (3.1.330 27 97 PRANKFURZ ESCORT-SERVICE * Also 609-238014* * Eva 069 200380*, sevan days
	ISRAEJ 16 Arin, Tel: 972-9-586245, 972-9-586246 Foc: 972-9-58685, JOEDAN-Acomen, Tel: 424420	072-9-586245, LATEN AMERICA TANVAN LODDA 972-9-586246 Tal: 1886/27-7390. c 972-9-586585. URICUAY: Buenos Airos, Force (1886/27-7390. Tal: 322-537/2. Tal: 322-537/2. WAreners. Tal: 322-537/2. BHALAND, BUENA: Benchi,		n Europe, Hong Kong, South America & Russia. Gramat Boar opportunity, call/fax now (39-6) 3698746. OFFSHORE COMPANES: RCR 1/5 Church Smark, Douglas, Mar of Man. Tet: (1624) 629529 Fra. (1624) 629662		071 937 8052 Credit Cards Welcome	TO OUR READERS IN SWITZERLAND
1	Tal: 624430, Tal: 22277 MKD. NJWAIT: London, Tal: 0271 826 4802. Fox: 071 240 2254.	CHIE: Fel: (562) 234 1091 For: (562) 233 9442. COSTA BLA: Son Jose	AUSTRALIA	BUSINESS TRAVEL	Stis between AVE MONTAIGNE & CHAMPS BYSES becamer 180 spm. 4 bedrooms, 4 baths, 2 britten, partorp - CAN BE USED AS 2 SPMANTE ANATIMENTS LES BELLES DEMELSES DE FRANCE	KINGS The International Excert Service	It's never been easier to subscribe and save. Just call our Zurich office toll free:			BIOLUSIVE ESCORT & Guide Service Please cuil 0049-89-33 79 26 ITALY PARES COTE D'AZUE French Riverin Scort Agency Dial (mil) + 39 184 346 87
	REPUBLIC OF YEARINE Tel. (967-1) 215 431 Fox: (967-1) 243 056	COSTA BICA: Son Job Tal: (200) 24042 Tal: (1020 BACSA For: (304) 254852	MBIDOURNE: Tul: (03) 6960288 Fa:: (03) 6966951.	14/ Berlinsen Clean Frequest Howevers to Ontert/Antenia/Alinca/Not. & So. America. Some up in 50%. No cav gons, no restrictions. Imperial Constan- ted 514-341-7227 Fact 514-341 7998.	AS 2 SEMALATE APARTMENTS LES BELLES DEMELARES DE FRANCE  1) 40 08 10 38	Tel: UK 71 610 2105 Credit cards weicoma	155 57 5	57 or fax: (01) 48	31 82 88	Scott Agrico, danes, truel, ex. Suns-Rommet Col 072/346 14 86

ART BUCHWALD

The Sleepy-Time Show

tertainment I push my TV clicker first to David Letterman, then Jay and older viewer who has seen it all Leno, then Chevy Chase, to Charlie and would like to forget what hap-Rose and finally Ted Koppel. It's like buying a ticket in the lottery and knowing that you can't win.

The other day I received a call from a man who was promoting a new evening show

Page 18

Б

"We can pro-vide something none of the late night stars can deliver." he told "What is your show called?" 1 Buchwald asked. "It's called 'Sleep." "

"How does it work?" I wanted to know.

"When you tune into our program, the screen goes black, the sound goes off, and you have no choice but to close your eyes and sleep. You don't have to laugh at anything or concentrate on what Burt Reynolds is saving. All you have to do is doze off." "Is anybody watching 'Sleep' so

We had a 45 Nielsen last night and a 67 share of the audience."

Thurn und Taxis Sale To Begin in Germany

REGENSBURG, Germany -The nine-day auction of the treasures of one of Germany's wealthiest aristocratic families will begin Tuesday. But the owner, Princess, Gloria von Thurn und Taxis, will be away during the sale at the medieval family castle in Regenshurg. She is auctioning off more than 4,000 lots, ranging from antique furniture to American motorcycles, to help pay death duties on the estate of her late husband, Prince Johannes von Thurn und Taxis, who died in 1990 at 64. It is the second tax sale. Last November she sold family heirlooms valued at more than 21 million Deutsche marks ($13 million) at an auction in Geneva.

WASHINGTON — in the con-stant search for late-night en-does 'Sleep' aim for?"

"We appeal to the middle-aged pened that day. It's for those who would rather dream of being rich than watch Ted Koppel's in-depth report on Boris Yeltsin's govern-

-0

"How can you he sure that your Nielsens are correct if people are sleeping and can't report in?"

"We wake them up, and if they answer gruffly we know that they have been asleep. The networks are furious with our 'Sleep' show be-cause, while they are spending for-tunes on their programs, the only cost to us for the black screen is satellite time."

"Do you have sponsors?" We have a mattress company, The Sleepy Time Tea Company and Quality Motels. But they come op only every 15 minutes." "Don't the commercials prevent your audience from sleeping?" "Well, somebody has to pay for it," he said indignantly. "We are providing uninterrupted sleep except for three commercials, four times an hour, and you won't find that much restraint on any network show around."

"Do you have any competition?" "Dick Cavett has been putting audiences to sleep since he's been on the air, and we're worried about him making a dent in our ratings. However, we have more experience than he does, and once the viewers discover how soothing our sleep show is, compared to regular TV programs, we'll have them for life."

"Do you have any guests on the "Sleep' show?" "Yes, but the interview subject has to be sleep-oriented -like any time we can get Al Gore we'll take him.' What about Dan Quayle?" "Quayle isn't well known enough any more to put someone to sleep." I said. "It looks as if you've come up with a winner." "The only thing we are really concerned about is C-Span, which shows the House and Senate in action all day long. If people sleep in the day, how are they going to sleep when they watch us at night?"

The Cowherd Who Made the Ritz Ritzy

International Herald Tribune ARIS - César Ritz was born a cowherd and died an eponym. During a long ap-prenticeship throughout Europe he invented and refined the modern luxury hotel of which the Paris Ritz, his last achievement, remains the prime example. He died 75 years ago this month, during the closing days of the war in which the world that he served and helped create slowly expired. His life is part of social history -- ladies.

banned by convention from dining in public, nonetheless came to his hotel restaurants - and there is not a grand hotel today that does not show the influence of the man who was the first to give

MARY BLUME

each room a private bath, built-in closets and telephones, and who invented the silk lampshade to cast an apricot glow on ladies' faces instead of the harsh glare of the new and naked electric bulb. He was also, it is said, the first to recognize the American need for iced water. The words ritz and ritzy have passed into the English language just as the hotel played a part in France's greatest novel: Marcel Proust spent so much time there that he became known as Proust of the Ritz. "They don't jostle me and I feel at home there," he explained. In the famously haughty headwaiter Olivier Dabescat he found companionship and inspiration for "Aime," the headwaiter of the Grand Hotel at Balbec.

Today's Ritz has a Proust suite as well as suites named after Hemingway, Fitzgerald and longtime resident Coco Chanel. Marketing the botel's image and name is something that Cesar Ritz — a pioneer in publicity and sales as well as in hotel management — would have approved of, says Frank J. Klein, the hotel's current president.

"Even today in hotel schools Cesar Ritz is studied as an example of service and perfection of detail," Klein says. Despite cutbacks and yield management. service remains the hotel's chief selling point, according to Klein.

"Because of the recession clients are very con-scious of prices and they have to have the best service. They don't say I'll pay $100 less and wait half an hour for breakfast. No way."

The last Ritz to run the hotel was Cesar's son Charles, whose chief interests were fly-fishing and model trains. Haviog spent 11 years in the United States from 1916, he was keep on good showers and dreamed of putting electric toasters and packaged sliced hread in every room. Charles died in 1976 and in 1979 the foundering hotel was bought for $30 million by the London-based businessman, Mo-hammed al-Fayed.

Decisive and devoted to detail, the new owner is a man after Cesar Ritz's heart, says Klein. He spent $150 million refurbishing the hotel and satisfying modern guests' needs with a health club, a night club and the latest telecom-munications systems, as well as creating the Ritz-Escoffier school, named after the great chef with whom Ritz was associated.

Like Cesar, Fayed is aware of the value of the name Ritz and has launched products from caviar spoons to a wallet designed to hold yen to a dog mat that says "I'm ritzy," an odd assortment whose point is to protect the Ritz trademark until the launching of a line of Ritz products in leather, linens and gourmet health foods.

César Ritz: Defining the modern hoxury hotel.

"The only way a place like this can be run is if the owner, César Ritz or Mohammed al-Fayed, sees it as his private home." says Frank Klein, Ritz called the hotel "a little house to which I am proud to see my name attached."

Cesar Ritz was born in 1850, the 13th child of a berdsman in the Swiss Alps. "Ritz, it's easy to see where you learned tact and patience." Lillie Languy told him in his glory. "You learned it herding your father's stupid

Apprenticed at 15 to a wine waiter, Cesar moved on to the fashionable restaurant Voisin in Paris. The world's fair boom, which had lured Ritz to Paris to begin with, was soon followed by the Franco-Prussian War, when Voisin's menu featured elephany trunk sauce charseur and saddle of

Ritz gradually moved into hotel management with Es-coffier as a colleague and with a growing clientele lbat, like Ritz, moved from hotel to hotel and from country to country according to season. In 1889 Ritz and Escoffier went to the Savoy in London, the height of modernity with its elevalors or "ascending rooms." Another triumph, which did not prevent Ritz and his wife and two sons from moving between London and hotels in Rome. Frankfurt. Monte Carlo, Salsamaggiore, Wiesbaden, Biarritz, Lucerne, Palermo and Menton. It was too much but Ritz refused to admit it.

By then he had views on every inch of hotel life (he was, for example, convinced that tuberculosis was caused by poor hygiene and insisted on easily cleaned rooms unencumbered hy wallpaper and plush curtains). His star client was the Prince of Wales, later Edward VIL, whom he got to eat frogs' legs by calling the dish nymphes à l'aurore. Ritz himself was discreetly dandified, changing his clothes four times a day. Convinced that he had a peasant's feet and hands, he had his shoes made half a size too small and, said his wife, spent more time on his hands than the vainest of wom-

Although London, rather than Paris, was the financial and touristic center, Ritz was always looking ahead. With wealthy and mostly British backers he lounded the Ritz Development Company and though of opening a bolel near the Trocadero, finally opting for land at 15 Place Vendôme, which was later expanded when ground on Rue Cambon and at 17 Place Vendome was always a shrewd businessman, invented lighted vitrines that would brighten corridors and bring in extra income from merchants. He was an expert publicist and marketing pioneer.

The Ritz hotel had 50 rooms (it now has 187) and opened gloriously in 1896, despite an open-ing-day hitch when César decided the dining room tables were two centimeters too high and had them cut down hours before the guests arrived. No detail was too small. He put brass hooks on the dining room chairs for the ladies to hang their pocketbooks (they are still there) and saw to it that each room had a fireplace and a Swiss clock (they still do). He banned a large lohby because he didn't want loiterers, created a crest presumptuously topped by the fleur-de-lis and a crown and,

He was also more fragile from overwork than anyone expected. The crisis came in 1902 when the gala Ritz had planned at the Carlton in London for the coronation of Edward VII had to be canceled because of the king's appendicitis. Ritz had a nervous hreakdown.

With increasingly sporadic moments of recovery. Ritz was ill and unable to work for the 16 last years of his hie: the saddest event in the catering trade since Vatel committed suicide because the fish were late. Tragically, Ritz even had to be banned from his own lobby when he began shouting abuse and hurling objects at clients.

"I am worse than a dead man for my working life is ended," he told his wife when his illness began. The Ritz thrived hat Ritz only had a red leather book headed "Mes Plans - Mes Idées" in which he had early oo meticulously inscribed details of early projects, but whose last pages are sadly blank.

PEOPLE

In Danson's Defense

Goldberg Roasts Critics Whoopi Goldberg has scolded a critie who attacked her hovfriend. Ted Danson, for appeariog in blackface at a Friars Club roast. saying they should have expected tasteless, vulgar humor, "We were not trying to be politically correct." she said. "We were trying tu be funny for ourselves." Danson wore blackface makeup and huge white lips at the roast in New York. He also joked about his sex life with Goldberg. She said that the talk-show host Montel William, who lashed out at Danson and resigned from the private club, should have been familiar with the men-only club's 89-year history of ribald roasts, and expected jokes to focus on sex, bodily functions, religion racist." Goldberg said, pointing to their much-publicized relationship. She said the club had knuckled under to pressure when it publicly apologized.

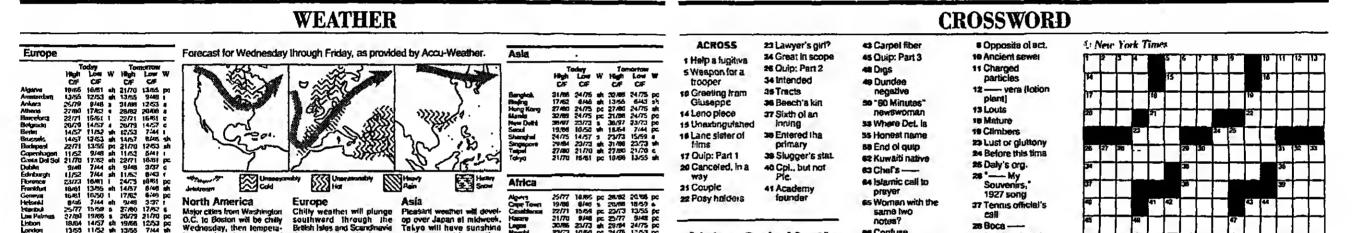

The bride was late and camerawielding journalists chased the guests across the church lawn. The guests across the church lawn. The spectacle was everything one would expect from a Kennedy wedding. Edward Kennedy Jr. married Kath-erine Anne Gershman, who kepi the bridegroom waiting at the altar for nearly 20 minutes. When she finally arrived at the church. Kenne-dwarded to meet back before y down dy rushed to meet her halfway down the aisle and gave her a kiss.

П

Will Shortz, 41, former editor of Games magazine, will become puznext month. He succeeds Eugene Maleska, who died in August after being editor for 16 years.

Michael Jackson's tour of Australia has been canceled, and Madonna may put on an extra concert in Sydney to help fill the void. Jack-son's promoters said it would be logistically impractical for the tour to go to Sydney on Dec. 3 and 4. and Melbourne on Dec. 7. Madonna is already scheduled to give Syd-ney concerts on Nov. 19 and 20. and her promoter said talks were under way to have her fill at least one of Jackson's Sydney dates.

INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED Appears on Pages 3 & 17

Lendon 18/04 14/37 (41 19/06) 12/53 [253] [25 Landon 13/55 11/52 th 13/55 71/44 th Model 17/72 10/50 th 17/72 71/44 th Moten 21/70 14/57 1 21/70 12/53 [ Moteon 10/50 7/44 5] 13/55 71/44 sh Moteon 10/50 7/44 5] 13/55 71/44 sh Moteo 21/73 13/50 [ 3/73 14/57 sh	Wednesday, then tempeta- tures will maderate loward the wedk Locally heavy the end of the week. Heavy showers and hunderstorms may occur ever tawa and switzerland Southeestein Seoul will have sunshine this week Locally heavy rans will develop from Lis- bon, Partugal ta Goneva, ing will be dry and ceal Southeestein Seoul will have sunshine this week Locally heavy suns will develop from Lis- bon, Partugal ta Goneva, ing will be dry and ceal Southeestein Seoul will have sunshine this week Locally heavy suns will develop from Lis- bon, Partugal ta Goneva, ing will be dry and ceal Seoul will have sunshine this week Locally heavy suns will develop from Lis- bon, Partugal ta Goneva, ing will be dry and ceal Seoul will have sunshine the sunshin	Legen 3086 23/73 sh 2974 24/75 pc Navehi 20/73 10/56 pc 24/75 pc Turks 31/86 16/64 c 30/91 22/71 pc North America	Solution to Puzzle of Oct. 11	es Confuse 57 "Final Analysis" star	28 Boca 29 Bernhardt and Vaughan	48 50 51 52	53 54	55 56 57
Oslo 7794 4739 sh 6433 -1731 sh Pahros 22771 1762 i 21770 17762 c Partos 15759 12563 oh 16-37 84-65 sh Progue 17752 i 152 i 14-357 84-65 sh Roylayavit 64-3 1734 s 84-33 2265 pc Rome 27760 15651 c 27760 1752 c	nantham Mussouri latar inte weak Houstan to Birming- ham will have any warm and cleat, chilly nights. In ham will have mainly dry, warm weather latar this weak. Singapore and Bangkok, Heavy rans are possible in the Alps at indwack. afternoon thunderstorms.	Affering 18/64 18/50 1 21/70 12/53 s	TGOR POLAR GALA Nert Plus Solar Grasse Merit Throb Elated	DOWN 1 He rescued	20 Pindar's Muse 21 "	56	59 GU 63	61
SIPAtombung 8446 4443 41 (2:53) 4439 1 Sinchhaim 7444 744 41 846 3437 7 Sinchhaim 7441 744 41 846 3437 7 Sinabourg 1851 10/50 1 16481 7/44 41 Tellon 8446 8446 41 948 4238 7 Venesa 22(7) 16551 1 22(7) 14(57 41)	Middla East Latin America	Humphay 20/04 21/70 pc 20/04 22/71 pc Humphay 20/04 10/64 pc 23/04 10/66 pc Law Angelos 21/73 17/82 pc 23/73 17/82 c Manna 50/96 21/70 pc 30/96 24/75 e Mannaupolis 0/48 -2(23 a 11/52 2/25 pc Humphayodis 0/48 -2(23 a 11/52 2/25 pc	AMBOY DISLOCATE Mdab Fiats dira Imbaliance alien Dealer ordno	Achilles' body z Ott-white 3 Just made it	32 Trencherman's setting 33 Lofty 41 Song of David	47 Convert to	52 Svria, in the	67 Donagal Bay
Vermov 1651 1152 1 1651 1050 eh Warshw 1752 1152 1 1752 6 45 sh Zweb, 1631 1050 1 1651 645 sh Oceania	Curve         29-34         18-34         2         195         19-34         2           Development         27-90         17-62         x         36-32         17-62         x         36-31         19-56         18-56         s         21-66         19-56	Neurona 20/86 22/73 s 20/86 22/73 pc New York 12/53 5/66 r 16/91 6/43 s Promos 22/89 15/66 s 33/31 15/80 s San Fran 20/86 13/56 c 21/75 14/57 1 Saatis 17/52 17/52 r 15/56 0/46 sh Promos 11/52 17/52 r 15/56 0/46 sh	GALDO TLET DACH ARILL ADELE TTEA STMO REGAN AHAS	s Inter	42 "Acid" 43 Moscow's state 44 F1, holy woman 48 Youths coming	Morsa 50 Old tha crawl	Bible 53 Merga; blend 54 Rom, or Sic	feeder 59 Third king of Judah
Auchberd 17,62 846 pc 17,62 11,52 pc Systemy 19,65 10,50 pc 22/71 13,55 pc	Legend: 9-sunny, oc-partly cloudy, 9-c/budy, sh-showers, I-bundensome, I-rain, st-snow Aurica, sn-snow, H.e., W-Westher All maps, forecasts and data provided by Accu-Westher, inc. 5 1933	Weshington 18/64 10/50 i 18/64 8/46 a	EDEN TREND	7 Predicament 8 A Gabor sister	ol age in ancient Athens	51 Gart of "Tootsie"	55 Shaping tool 56 Bull's anothesis	60 Pop 61 Tormeni

AT&T Access Numbers The fast way to a familiar voice

	and the second se
*ANDORRA	LEBANON' (BEIRUT) +26-801
ARMENIA	LIBERIA
*AUSTRIA	*LIECHTENSTEIN 155-00-11
BAHRAIN	LETHUANKA
*BELGHTVL	U XEMBOURG 0-800-0111
BULGARIA	*MALAWIT 10)-1992
CAPE VERDE ISLANDS 112	*MAUTA
CROATIA 99-38-0011	*MONACO
"CTPRIS	*NETHEBLANDS 06-022-9111
CZECH REP	NIGERIA spaced ("Albana Respired Locations
*DENMARK	*NORWAY050-12011
*EGYPT' (CAIRO) 510-0200	POLAND  0^010-480-0111
ETHIOPIA special textures Templane Locations	PORTUGAL*. 05017-1-288
*FINLAND 9800-100-10	ROMANIA 01-800-1288
FRANCE	"RUSSIAT (MOSCOW) 155-5042
*GABON 00~-001	*SAN MARINO
*GAMBIA	SAUTH ARABIAT
GERMANY 0130-0010	SIERRA LEONE 1100
GRANA	SLOVAKIA00-+120-00101
GIBRALTAR	SPAIN
"GREECE	*SWEDEN
"HUNGARY	*SWITZERLAND
*ICELAND	*TURKEY 9-9-8001-2277
IRELAND	CGANDA, . sportal Producer Telephone Lanzacione
ISBAEL	"L' ARAB EMIRATES
*ITALY	UK
*IVORY COAST	YEAREA
KENVA*	ZAMBIA*
SURAT	ZIMBABWET
	10-099

Sharing the day's events with fored ones back in the States has never been easier.

"I wonder if

tun today

Whenever you're away, simply dial the AT&T access number of the country rou're calling from and an English-speaking AT&T Operator or voice prompt will put you through in seconds. You can bill the call to your AT&T Card, U.S. local calling card, or call collect. You'll get economical AT&T rates and keep hotel surcharges to a minimum. It's all part of our continuing commitment to be there for you. Even when you're on the other side of the planet. So surprise someone back home with a call. Who knows? Perhaps they'll have a little surprise for you.

the little guy had